Thompson, 2007-12-20 The term globalization has gained widespread popularity yet most treatments are either descriptive and or focused on changes in economic interconnectivity In this volume the concept is seen in broader terms as leading international experts from a range of disciplines develop a long term analysis to address the problems of globalization The editors and contributors develop a framework for understanding the origins and trajectory of contemporary world trends constructing testable and verifiable models of globalization They demonstrate how the evolutionary approach allows us to view globalization as an enterprise of the human species as a whole focusing on the analytical problem of global change and the rules governing those changes The emphasis is not on broad based accounts of the course of world affairs but selectively on processes that reshape the social of the human species the making of world opinion and the innovations that animate these developments Chapters are clustered into four foci One emphasizes the interpretation of globalization as an explicitly evolutionary process A second looks at historical sequences of such phenomena as population growth or imperial rise and decline as processes that can be modeled and not purely described The third cluster examines ongoing changes in economic processes especially information technology A final cluster takes on some of the challenges associated with forecasting and simulating the complexities of globalization processes This innovative and important volume will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences concerned with the phenomenon of globalization Regional Innovation Evolution Qinyue Zheng, Chunbing Bao, 2022-06-15 This book covers many aspects of innovation theory evolutionary economics economic geography and simulation models It is one of the first books to comprehensively and systematically focus on the evolution of regional innovation based on provincial experience in emerging economics including stylized facts theoretical explanation and simulation The book is devoted to a pioneering process based regional innovation matrix used for classifying a regional innovation model which is illustrated by real world cases and data analyses The topics addressed here include path dependency lock in routines variations selectivity regional gap innovation progress agglomeration and innovation efficiency The simulation methods describing the dynamics of regional innovation evaluation on economics are developed as well The primary objective of this work is to provide a tractable and useful regional governance tool for researchers and policy makers in regional science human geography and related disciplines The book is highly recommended to readers who seek more insight into the continuous development of China or regional development gaps Understanding Industrial and Corporate

The Evolution of Economic and Innovation Systems Andreas Pyka,John Foster,2015-03-03 This book is at the cutting edge of the ongoing neo Schumpeterian research program that investigates how economic growth and its fluctuation can be understood as the outcome of a historical process of economic evolution Much of modern evolutionary economics has relied upon biological analogy especially about natural selection Although this is valid and useful evolutionary economists have increasingly begun to build their analytical representations of economic evolution on understandings derived from complex systems science In this book the fact that economic systems are necessarily complex adaptive systems is explored both theoretically and empirically in a range of contexts Throughout there is a primary focus upon the interconnected processes of innovation and entrepreneurship which are the ultimate sources of all economic growth Twenty two chapters are provided by renowned experts in the related fields of evolutionary economics and the economics of innovation Innovative Automatic Identification and Location-Based Services: From Bar Codes to Chip Implants Michael, Katina, Michael, M.G., 2009-03-31 This book emphasizes the convergence and trajectory of automatic identification and location based services toward chip implants and real time positioning capabilities Provided by publisher
