ECOOP '99 - Object-Oriented Programming Rachid Guerraoui,2003-07-31 My tailor is Object Oriented Most software systems that have been built cently are claimed to be Object Oriented Even older software systems that are still in commercial use have been upgraded with some OO avors The range of areas where OO can be viewed as a must have feature seems to be as large as the number of elds in computer science If we stick to one of the original views of OO that is to create cost e ective software solutions through modeling ph ical abstractions the application of OO to any eld of computer science does indeed make sense There are OO programming languages OO operating s tems OO databases OO speci cations OO methodologies etc So what does a conference on Object Oriented Programming really mean I honestly don t know What I do know is that since its creation in 1987 ECOOP has been attracting a large number of contributions and ECOOP conferences have ended up with high quality technical programs featuring interesting mixtures of theory and practice Among the 183 initial submissions to ECOOP 99 20 papers were selected for inclusion in the technical program of the conference Every paper was reviewed by three to ve referees The selection of papers was carried out during a t day program committee meeting at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Lausanne Papers were judged according to their originality presentation qu ity and relevance to the conference topics

Distributed Network Systems Weijia

Jia, Wanlei Zhou, 2006-06-14 Both authors have taught the course of Distributed Systems for many years in the respective schools During the teaching we feel strongly that Distributed systems have evolved from traditional LAN based distributed systems towards Internet based systems Although there exist many excellent textbooks on this topic because of the fast development of distributed systems and network programming protocols we have difficulty in finding an appropriate textbook for the course of distributed systems with orientation to the requirement of the undergraduate level study for today's distributed technology Specifically from to date concepts algorithms and models to implementations for both distributed system designs and application programming Thus the philosophy behind this book is to integrate the concepts algorithm designs and implementations of distributed systems based on network programming After using several materials of other textbooks and research books we found that many texts treat the distributed systems with separation of concepts algorithm design and network programming and it is very difficult for students to map the concepts of distributed systems to the algorithm design prototyping and implementations This book intends to enable readers especially postgraduates and senior undergraduate level to study up to date concepts algorithms and network programming skills for building modern distributed systems It enables students not only to master the concepts of distributed network system but also to readily use the material introduced into implementation practices
