Gershon, 2013-10-18

The combination of international privatization trends coupled with advancements in computer and communication technology have transformed the conduct of international business The result has been a consolidation of players in all aspects of business including banking aviation insurance and mass media This book discusses one such player the Transnational Media Corporation TNMC Long remembered as a time of rapid growth and expansion for international business the decades of the 80s and 90s were a period characterized by major mergers and acquisitions Good examples of this include Time Inc s 1989 merger with Warner Communication for 11 2 billion and Walt Disney s 1996 purchase of Cap Cities ABC for 19 5 billion According to the late Steven Ross former co chief executive officer of Time Warner In order to succeed in business today you must be in all the major markets of the world TNMCs have indeed become salient features of today s global economic landscape This volume asks the most basic of questions What makes a global corporation global And to what extent do TNMCs affect the marketplace of ideas This book then is intended for the business professional or student who is interested in understanding the business and operations of transnational media Part I examines the regulatory and economic reasons prompting the formation of a TNMC It seeks to explain why such companies engage in direct foreign investment and further considers how transnational operations affect the development of new media products in terms of cost quality and availability The TNMC is unique among global corporations given the fact that its primary business is the creation of information and entertainment products This book also examines the highly complex relationship between TNMCs and the host nations in which they operate It further considers such specific issues as cultural trespass transborder data flow and the effects of transnational media on the marketplace of ideas Part II of this volume provides a series of case study analyses of five leading TNMCs including Time Warner Inc Sony Inc Bertelsmann AG the Walt Disney Company and News Corporation Ltd Specific attention is given to the history business philosophy and economic performance of each of these companies The United States Government Manual ,1997 Federal Career Directory ,1990
