Transnational Latin American Television Nahuel Ribke, 2020-12-28 This book examines the process of transnationalization of Latin American television industries Drawing upon six representative case studies spanning the subcontinent's vast and diverse geo political and cultural landscape the book offers a unique exploration of the ongoing formation of interrelated cultural technological and political landscapes from the mid 1980s to the present The chapters analyse the international circulation of the genres and formats of entertainment television across the subcontinent to explore the main driving forces propelling the production and consumption of television contents in the region and what we can learn about the cultural and social identities of Latin American audiences following the journey of genres formats and media personalities beyond their own national borders Taking a contemporary interdisciplinary approach to the study of transnational television industries this book will be of significant interest to scholars and students of television and film studies communication studies Latin American studies global media studies and media and cultural industries

Television Studies: The Basics Toby Miller, 2009-12-04 Television Studies The Basics is a lively introduction to the study of a powerful medium It examines the major theories and debates surrounding production and reception over the years and considers both the role and future of television Topics covered include broadcasting history and technology institutions and ownership genre and content audiences Complete with global case studies questions for discussion and suggestions for further reading this is an invaluable and engaging resource for those interested in how to study television

Modernization, Nation-Building, and Television History Stewart Anderson, Melissa Chakars, 2014-11-20 This innovative collection investigates the ways in which television programs around the world have highlighted modernization and encouraged nation building It is an attempt to catalogue and better understand the contours of this phenomenon which took place as television developed and expanded in different parts of the world between the 1950s and the 1990s From popular science and adult education shows to news magazines and television plays few themes so thoroughly penetrated the small screen for so many years as modernization with television producers and state authorities using television programs to bolster modernization efforts Contributors analyze the hallmarks of these media efforts nation building consumerism and consumer culture the education and integration of citizens and the glorification of the nation's technological achievements

Broadcasting Modernity Yeidy M. Rivero, 2015-04-19 The birth and development of commercial television in Cuba in the 1950s occurred alongside political and social turmoil In this period of dramatic swings encompassing democracy a coup a dictatorship and a revolution television functioned as a beacon and promoter of Cuba's identity as a modern nation In Broadcasting Modernity television historian Yeidy M Rivero shows how television owners regulatory entities critics and the state produced Cuban modernity for television The Cuban television industry enabled different institutions to convey the nation's progress democracy economic abundance high culture education morality and decency After nationalizing Cuban television the state used it to advance

Fidel Castro's project of creating a modern socialist country As Cuba changed television changed with it Rivero not only demonstrates television's importance to Cuban cultural identity formation she explains how the medium functions in society during times of radical political and social transformation TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel,2022-04-08 In TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel explores snapshots of people posing in front of their television sets in the 1950s through the early 1970s Like today's selfies TV snapshots were a popular photographic practice through which people visualized their lives in an increasingly mediated culture Drawing on her collection of over 5 000 TV snapshots Spigel shows that people did not just watch TV women used the TV set as a backdrop for fashion and glamour poses people dressed in drag in front of the screen and in pinup poses people even turned the TV setting into a space for erotic display While the television industry promoted on screen images of white nuclear families in suburban homes the snapshots depict a broad range of people across racial ethnic and class backgrounds that do not always conform to the reigning middle class nuclear family ideal Showing how the television set became a central presence in the home that exceeded its mass entertainment function Spigel highlights how TV snapshots complicate understandings of the significance of television in everyday life Creating a Common Table in Twentieth-Century Argentina Rebekah E. Pite,2013-04-01 Dona Petrona C de Gandulfo c 1896 1992 reigned as Argentina's preeminent domestic and culinary expert from the 1930s through the 1980s An enduring culinary icon thanks to her magazine columns radio programs and television shows she was likely second only to Eva Peron in terms of the fame she enjoyed and the adulation she received Her cookbook garnered tremendous popularity becoming one of the three best selling books in Argentina Dona Petrona capitalized on and contributed to the growing appreciation for women's domestic roles as the Argentine economy expanded and fell into periodic crises Drawing on a wide range of materials including her own interviews with Dona Petrona's inner circle and with everyday women and men Rebekah E Pite provides a lively social history of twentieth century Argentina as exemplified through the fascinating story of Dona Petrona and the homemakers to whom she dedicated her career Pite's narrative illuminates the important role of food its consumption preparation and production in daily life class formation and national identity By connecting issues of gender domestic work and economic development Pite brings into focus the critical importance of women's roles as consumers cooks and community builders Argentinian Telenovelas Gabriela Jonas Aharoni,2015-07-01 This work explores the way in which telenovelas TV serial dramas give voice to contemporary and historical Argentinian social and political issues Telenovelas have multiple layers of socio cultural message local as well as global and are invariably laden with appealing drama and emotion and sometimes comedy The discussion focuses on how telenovelas reflect society's perception of and adjustment toward issues of globalisation They are a means of portraying how individuals and families rationalize and incorporate rapid social and economic changes The book explores how telenovelas might offer a subversive interpretation of reality or provide a channel of dialogue with the government's political aims The author challenges the assumption that they are merely a reflection of historical political and social circumstance One of the many telenovela examples addressed in this book is whether the serial Padre Coraje constructs a parallel between the current Kirchner government and that of Juan Peron fifty years earlier The serial explores the two leaders relationship with the Church and implicitly presents President Kirchner as Peron s successor Explaining telenovelas as cultural texts they are not soap operas provides the primary basis for this study backed by Argentinian newspaper articles and secondary sources on Latin American history culture and economy as well as TV and cinema studies The result is a more profound and nuanced interpretation than hitherto of Argentinian telenovelas Analysis enables identification of the links between the serials storylines and contemporary political and social events These popular culture texts bring new meaning to the Argentinian historical narrative and for TV viewers puts the processes and effects of economic and social globalisation on a local multi cultural level perspective

The Age of Youth in Argentina Valeria Manzano,2014-04-28 This social and cultural history of Argentina s long sixties argues that the nation s younger generation was at the epicenter of a public struggle over democracy authoritarianism and revolution from the mid twentieth century through the ruthless military dictatorship that seized power in 1976 Valeria Manzano demonstrates how during this period large numbers of youths built on their history of earlier activism and pushed forward closely linked agendas of sociocultural modernization and political radicalization Focusing also on the views of adults who assessed and sometimes profited from youth culture Manzano analyzes countercultural formations including rock music sexuality student life and communal living experiences and situates them in an international context She details how while Argentines of all ages yearned for newness and change it was young people who championed the transformation of deep seated traditions of social cultural and political life The significance of youth was not lost on the leaders of the rising junta people aged sixteen to thirty accounted for 70 percent of the estimated 20 000 Argentines who were disappeared during the regime

Political Documentary Cinema in Latin America Antonio Traverso,Kristi Wilson,2016-01-08 The chapters in this book show the important role that political documentary cinema has played in Latin America since the 1950s Political documentary cinema in Latin America has a long history of tracing social injustice and suffering depicting political unrest intervening in periods of crisis and upheaval and reflecting upon questions about ideology cultural identity genocide and traumatic memory This collection bears witness to the region s film culture s diversity discussing documentaries about workers strikes riots and military coups against elected governments crime poverty homelessness prostitution children s work and violence against women urban development progress under development capitalism and neoliberalism exile diaspora and border cultures trauma and post memory The chapters focus on documentaries made in Argentina Brazil Chile Cuba Mexico and Venezuela as well as on the work of Latino and diasporic Latin American political documentarians The contributors to the anthology reflect the cultural and linguistic diversity of current Latin American film scholarship with some writing in Spanish and Portuguese from Argentina and Brazil with their original works especially translated and others writing in English from Australia Europe and the USA This book
