Metaphor and Diaspora in Contemporary Writing J. Sell, 2012-01-06 Choose ten major contemporary diasporic writers from Abdulrazak to Zadie ask ten leading authorities to write about their use of metaphor and this is the result a timely reassertion of metaphor s unrivalled capacity to encompass sameness and difference and create understanding and empathy across boundaries of nationality race and ethnicity

Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 James Acheson, 2017-01-17 Focuses on the novels published since 2000 by twenty major British novelists The Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 is divided into five parts with the first part examining the work of four particularly well known and highly regarded twenty first century writers Ian McEwan David Mitchell Hilary Mantel and Zadie Smith It is with reference to each of these novelists in turn that the terms arealist apostmodernist ahistorical and apostcolonialist fiction are introduced while in the remaining four parts other novelists are discussed and the meaning of the terms amplified From the start it is emphasised that these terms and others often mean different things to different novelists and that the complexity of their novels often obliges us to discuss their work with reference to more than one of the terms Also discusses the works of Maggie O Farrell Sarah Hall A L Kennedy Alan Warner Ali Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Kate Atkinson Salman Rushdie Adam Foulds Sarah Waters James Robertson Mohsin Hamid Andrea Levy and Aminatta Forna

Domestic Intersections in Contemporary Migration Fiction Lucinda Newns, 2020-01-07 Homing the Metropole presents a new approach to diasporic fiction that reorients postcolonial readings of migration away from processes of displacement and rupture towards those of placement and homemaking While notions of home have frequently been associated with essentialist understandings of nation and race an uncritical investment in tropes of homelessness can prove equally hegemonic By synthesising postcolonial and intersectional feminist theory this work establishes the migrant domestic space as a central location of resistance countering notions of the private sphere as static uncreative and apolitical Through close readings of fiction emerging from the African Caribbean and South Asian diasporas it reassesses our conception of home in light of contemporary realities of globalisation and forced migration providing a valuable critique of the celebration of unfixed subject positions that has been a central tenet of postcolonial studies

The Transnational in Literary Studies Kai Wiegandt, 2020-07-06 This volume clarifies the meanings and applications of the concept of the transnational and identifies areas in which the concept can be particularly useful The division of the volume into three parts reflects areas which seem particularly amenable to analysis through a transnational lens The chapters in Part 1 present case studies in which the concept replaces or complements traditionally dominant concepts in literary studies These chapters demonstrate for example why some dramatic texts and performances can better be described as transnational than as postcolonial and how the transnational underlies and complements concepts such as world literature Part 2 assesses the advantages and limitations of writing literary history with a transnational focus These chapters illustrate how such a perspective loosens the epistemic stranglehold of national historiographies but they also argue that the transnational and national agendas of literary historiography are frequently entangled The chapters in Part 3 identify transnational genres such as the transnational historical novel transnational migrant fiction and translinguistic theatre and analyse the specific poetics and politics of these genres Reading Across Worlds J. Procter, B. Benwell, 2014-12-17

Combining sustained empirical analysis of reading group conversations with four case studies of classic and contemporary novels Things Fall Apart White Teeth Brick Lane and Small Island this book pursues what can be gained through a comparative approach to reading and readerships Contemporary Fictions of Multiculturalism Michael Perfect, 2015-12-04

Contemporary Fictions of Multiculturalism analyses novels of the late 20th and early 21st centuries that explore ethnic and cultural diversity in London It contributes to key ongoing debates in literary and cultural studies and in particular to debates over the status and relevance of multiculturalism today Reading Beyond the Book Danielle Fuller, DeNel Rehberg Sedo, 2013 This volume offers the first critical analysis of mass reading events and the contemporary meanings of reading in the UK USA and Canada based on original interviews and surveys with readers and event organisers The authors interrogate the enduring attraction of an old technology for readers community organizers and government agencies exploring the social practices inspired by the sharing of books in public spaces and revealing the complex ideological investments made by readers cultural workers institutions and the mass media in the meanings of reading Contemporary British Fiction Nick Bentley, 2017-11-15 This essential guide provides a comprehensive survey of the most important debates in the criticism and research of contemporary British fiction Nick Bentley analyses the criticism surrounding a range of British novelists including Monica Ali Martin Amis Pat Barker Alan Hollinghurst Kazuo Ishiguro Ian McEwan David Mitchell Ali Smith Zadie Smith Sarah Waters and Jeanette Winterson Exploring experiments with literary form this authoritative book considers cutting edge concerns relating to the neo historical novel the relationship between literature and science literary geographies and trauma narratives Engaging with key literary theories and identifying present trends and future directions in the literary criticism of contemporary British fiction this is an invaluable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of English literature teachers researchers and scholars Moral Complexities in Turn of the Millennium British Literature Mara E. Reisman, 2022-11-08

Moral Complexities in Turn of the Millennium British Literature offers a critical analysis of moral complexity and social responsibility in works by Kazuo Ishiguro Patrick McGrath Graham Swift Andrea Levy and Jeanette Winterson Mara Reisman argues that through their writing these authors reveal and upset literary cultural and political fictions and encourage readers to think carefully about language power community and social justice The book examines moral issues in two different ways how books by these authors address morally complex social political and cultural issues and how their books serve a moral function by challenging readers to be socially engaged Reisman provides an in depth analysis of The Remains of the Day Asylum The Light of Day Small Island and The Daylight Gate and uses these books to discuss twentieth and twenty first century British politics and culture These books address a wide variety of issues often associated with moral judgments war racism adultery maternal neglect murder professional misconduct witchcraft and religion Despite this diversity and settings that range from the seventeenth century to the late twentieth century these books include similar arguments about how empathy personal responsibility and civic engagement can create more productive social relations and a less divided world
