Talking Leadership Conversations With Powerful Women:

Talking Leadership Mary S. Hartman, 1999 Interviews with 13 women in areas ranging from philanthropy to politics and from business to academia present a thought provoking look at differences and commonalities in the lives and leadership approaches of women committed to social change Beyond personal details and anecdotes conversations capture a variety of experiences and insights reflecting what it s like to be a woman and a major leader in America at the close of the 20th century Hartman is a professor and director for the Institute of Women s Leadership at Douglass College Rutgers University Lacks a subject index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Women and Leadership Julia Gillard, Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala, 2020-07-23 For readers of Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Sheryl Sandberg and Mary Beard Women and Leadership is a powerful call to arms about the lack of women at the top Who better qualified to delve into this topic Business Life _____ Women make up less than 10 per cent of national leaders Behind this statistic lies a pattern of unequal access to power Drawing on current research and in conversation with some of the world s most powerful and interesting women about their lived experience Gillard and Okonjo Iweala explore gender bias and ask how we get more women into leadership roles Speaking honestly and freely women leaders such as Jacinda Ardern Hillary Clinton Michelle Bachelet and Theresa May talk about their ideas receiving less acknowledgement than their male colleagues ideas what it s like to be body shamed in the media and the things they wish they had done differently Their stories reveal how gender and sexism affect perceptions of women as leaders their pathways to power and the circumstances in which their leadership comes to an end The result is a rare insight into life as a leader and a powerful call to arms for women everywhere Rebel Rank and File Aaron Brenner, Cal Winslow, Robert Brenner, 2020-05-05 Often considered irredeemably conservative the US working class actually has a rich history of revolt Rebel Rank and File uncovers the hidden story of insurgency from below against employers and union bureaucrats in the late 1960s and 1970s From the mid 1960s to 1981 rank and file workers in the United States engaged in a level of sustained militancy not seen since the Great Depression and World War II Millions participated in one of the largest strike waves in US history There were 5 716 stoppages in 1970 alone involving more than 3 million workers Contract rejections collective insubordination sabotage organized slowdowns and wildcat strikes were the order of the day Workers targeted much of their activity at union leaders forming caucuses to fight for more democratic and combative unions that would forcefully resist the mounting offensive from employers that appeared at the end of the postwar economic boom It was a remarkable era in the history of US class struggle one rich in lessons for today s labor movement

Leadership and Change Management Annabel Beerel, 2009-05-13 Recognizing and responding to change is the oxygen of life for an organization and leadership is fundamentally about focusing organizations on these new realities Leadership and Change Management provides the reader with a practical real world understanding of several dimensions of leadership that are usually neglected in management textbooks such as the nature of new realities and how managers can improve their insight into them and how leaders can identify and overcome resistance to change Drawing on a wide range of insightful global real life case studies to capture the imagination the topics covered include critical systems thinking philosophies of leadership group dynamics authority ethics personal character and the psychology of leadership This comprehensive text will be of interest to anyone looking for a more thoughtful engagement with the key issues in leadership and change management

Contemporary Perspectives on Rhetoric Sonja K. Foss, Karen A. Foss, Robert Trapp, 2014-04-04 The anniversary edition marks thirty years of offering an indispensable review and analysis of thinkers who have exerted a profound influence on contemporary rhetorical theory I A Richards Ernesto Grassi Chaim Perelman and Lucie Olbrechts Tyteca Stephen Toulmin Richard Weaver Kenneth Burke Jürgen Habermas bell hooks Jean Baudrillard and Michel Foucault The brief biographical sketches locate the theorists in time and place showing how life experiences influenced perspectives on rhetorical thought The concise explanations of complex concepts are clear engaging insightful and highly accessible serving as an excellent primer for reading the major works of these scholars The critical commentary is carefully chosen to highlight implications and to place the theories within a broader rhetorical context Each chapter ends with a complete bibliography of works by the theorists

Administration, Leadership, Finance, and Budgeting in Higher Education and Student Affairs Gabriel R. Serna, Florence M. Guido, Gabriel Pulido, 2025-10-06 This book will lay the foundation for neophyte student affairs administrators to understand their role more clearly in how money works and for whom It weaves together traditionally bounded topics of administration finance budgeting and even leadership and management and shows how those aspiring to student affairs leadership roles can individually and collectively center diversity and equity using theory and research to inform their administration leadership finance and budgeting practices It will increase your literacy in finance and budgeting and enhance your leadership in higher education and student affairs In the chapters about administration you gain knowledge about administration and management in student affairs and an understanding of organizational structure in student affairs and higher education through the lens of organizational theories Leadership theories and practice are discussed extensively and in depth in the following four chapters While exploring these theories the authors skillfully integrate their own personal leadership experiences into the existing knowledge The distinctive value of the leadership content is the inclusion of leadership at HBCU AANAPISI Tribally Controlled Colleges HIS and community colleges In the remaining ten chapters not only will you grasp a comprehensive understanding of the theoretical framework of finance in higher education but also acquire literacy of the nuts and bolts of finance and budgeting including the related federal policies on finance and spending and their implementation in higher education and student affairs In addition individual i.e. reflective and group exercises at the end of each chapter engage students who can apply this necessary knowledge to student affairs and higher education's numerous and varied contexts

Contesting the Terrain of the Ivory Tower Rochelle Garner, 2004-02-01 This study examines the leadership of three African American women administrators in higher education and how they have used their spirituality as a lens to lead in the academy The central questions in this case study include How do African American women make meaning of their spiritual selves in their everyday leadership practices How does their spirituality influence their work and the type of relationships they develop with others in the academy What are the ways in which these three women have used their spirituality as a lens to lead and how does this leadership impact the social cultural and political construct of a male dominated arena

Leading the Way Mary K. Trigg, 2010 Leading the Way is a collection of personal essays written by twenty one young hopeful American women who describe their work activism leadership and efforts to change the world It responds to critical portrayals of this generation of twenty somethings as being disengaged and apathetic about politics social problems and civic causes Bringing together graduates of a women s leadership certificate program at Rutgers University s Institute for Women s Leadership these essays provide a contrasting picture to assumptions about the current death of feminism the rise of selfishness and individualism and the disaffected Millennium Generation Reflecting on a critical juncture in their lives the years during college and the beginning of careers or graduate studies the contributors voices demonstrate the ways that diverse young educated women in the United States are embodying and formulating new models of leadership at the same time as they are finding their own professional paths ways of being and places in the world They reflect on controversial issues such as gay marriage gender racial profiling war immigration poverty urban education and health care reform in a post 9 11 era Leading the Way introduces readers to young women who are being prepared and empowered to assume leadership roles with men in all public arenas and to accept equal responsibility for making positive social change in the twenty first century

Reconstructing Policy in Higher Education Elizabeth J. Allan, Susan Iverson, Rebecca Ropers-Huilman, 2009-10-16 Written for Higher Education Masters and PhD programs this landmark textbook joins the theory of feminist post structuralism with research methods for the purpose of policy analysis in Higher Education It showcases the different methods that can be applied to a range of topics in Higher Education policy and policy development Reconstructing Policy in Higher Education highlights the work of accomplished and award winning scholars and provides an in depth examination of theoretical frameworks and concrete examples of how feminist post structuralism effectively informs research methods and can serve as a vital tool for policy makers and analysts

Telling Political Lives Brenda DeVore Marshall, Molly A. Mayhead, 2008-06-24 This book investigates the autobiographical writings of Barbara Jordan Patricia Schroeder Geraldine Ferraro Elizabeth Dole Wilma Mankiller Hillary Rodham Clinton Madeleine Albright and Christine Todd Whitman These eight women represent the diversity that permeates the cultural backgrounds life adventures and ideologies women bring to the political table From differences in race class and geographic location to variations in personal and family experiences religious beliefs and political ideology these women illustrate many of the divergent standpoints from which women craft their lives in the United States Each essay focuses on the autobiographical text as political discourse and therefore as an appropriate site for the rhetorical construction of a personal and civic self situated within local and national political communities The collection examines issues such as the intersection between the politicization of the private and the personalization of the public evident in the women s narratives the description of U S politics the women provide in their writings the ways in which the women s personal stories craft arguments about their political ideologies the strategies these women leaders employ in navigating the gendered double binds of politics and the manner in which the women s discourse serves to encourage instruct and empower future women leaders The analyses embody and explicate the political and rhetorical strategies these leaders employ in their efforts to act on their convictions highlight the need for and reality of women s involvement in all levels of politics and serve as an impetus and inspiration for scholars and activists alike
