Haunted Nations Sneja Gunew, 2013-04-15 Postcolonialism has attracted a large amount of interest in cultural theory but the adjacent area of multiculturalism has not been scrutinised to quite the same extent In this innovative new book Sneja Gunew sets out to interrogate the ways in which the transnational discourse of multiculturalism may be related to the politics of race and indigeneity grounding her discussion in a variety of national settings and a variety of literary autobiographical and theoretical texts Using examples from marginal sites the settler societies of Australia and Canada to cast light on the globally dominant discourses of the US and the UK Gunew analyses the political ambiguities and the pitfalls involved in a discourse of multiculturalism haunted by the opposing spectres of anarchy and assimilation Race in Translation Robert Stam, Ella Shohat, 2012-05-28 Conflicted Commitments Gada Mahrouse, 2014-06-01 Conflicted Commitments analyzes a form of non violent direct transnational solidarity in which activists from the global North travel to support and protect people in the global South Gada Mahrouse contends that this brand of activism is a compelling site of racialized power relations and is highly instructive for a nuanced understanding of systems of race Mahrouse argues that the individuals who partake in this form of activism consciously deploy their white western privilege to offer support and protection to those facing threats of violence Moreover given that this type of activism asserts itself as an exemplary form of anti racist commitment it illustrates that well meaning practices can inadvertently reproduce racialized power structures that are embedded in imperial and colonial legacies Mahrouse focuses on Palestine and Iraq in the post 9 11 era to contemplate the contemporary challenges that these regions pose for solidarity activism By exploring how individual activists manage and negotiate their dominant positioning in these encounters Mahrouse reflects more broadly on the ethics of social justice strategies in an increasingly transnational world A detailed study of the racialized complexities and contradictions inherent in transnational solidarity activism Conflicted Commitments makes a significant contribution to critical race and feminist studies The Cinematic Life of the Gene Jackie Stacey, 2010-04-02 A leading feminist film theorist argues that the cinema animates the tropes of and enacts our fears about cloning and other kinds of genetic engineering Red Tape Akhil Gupta, 2012-07-17 Yet India's poor are not disenfranchised they actively participate in the democratic project
