Pierce,2012-01-01 Scapeland Writing the Landscape from Diderot s Salons to the Postmodern Museum is a comparative interdisciplinary study tracing theories of the sublime and a history of spectatorship from Diderot s eighteenth century French Salons through art criticism by Baudelaire and Breton to Jean Fran ois Lyotard s postmodern exhibition Les Immatériaux In the Salons an exploration of the painted landscape becomes an encounter with both the limits of representation and the infinite possibilities of fiction Baudelaire and Breton explore similar limits in their work set against the backdrop of the modern city For them as for Diderot the attempt to render visual objects in narrative language leads to the development of new literary forms and concerns Lyotard s concept of the postmodern museum frames the sublime encounter once again in terms that expressly evoke Diderot s verbal rendering of painted spaces as a personal promenade According to Lyotard Diderot ouvre par crit les surfaces des tableaux comme les portes d une exposition il abolit l opposition de la nature et de la culture de la réalité de l image du volume et de la surface Reading the literary production of these four writers alongside their art criticism Scapeland considers narrative responses to art as imaginative assertions of human presence against the impersonal world of objects Cézanne Steven Platzman,2001 Platzman s accessible and richly illustrated book examines the stylistic development of Cézanne s self portraits in an effort to understand how the artist saw himself and others 111 b w 82 color illustrations Utopia David Ayers,Benedikt Hjartarson,Tomi Huttunen,Harri Veivo,2015-12-14 Utopian hope and dystopian despair are characteristic features of modernism and the avant garde Readings of the avant garde have frequently sought to identify utopian moments coded in its works and activities as optimistic signs of a possible future social life or as the attempt to preserve hope against the closure of an emergent dystopian present The fourth volume of the EAM series European Avant Garde and Modernism Studies casts light on the history theory and actuality of the utopian and dystopian strands which run through European modernism and the avant garde from the late 19th to the 21st century The book s varied and carefully selected contributions written by experts from around 20 countries seek to answer such questions as how have modernism and the avant garde responded to historical circumstance in mapping the form of possible futures for humanity how have avant garde and modernist works presented ideals of living as alternatives to the present how have avant gardists acted with or against the state to remodel human life or to resist the instrumental reduction of life by administration and industrialisation Ceci n'est pas un tableau Elza Adamowicz,2004
