The Tapestry of Early Christian Discourse Vernon Kay Robbins, 1996 Publisher's description In this original study Vernon Robbins expounds and develops his system of socio rhetorical criticism bringing together social scientific and literary critical approaches to explore early Christianity The Tapestry of Early Christian Discourse Vernon K. Robbins, 2002-11-01 This study establishes a concept of culture and then combines it with Geertz anthropological concept of thick description Subsequently the relation of texts to society and culture is discussed In this manner multiple methods of interpretation are used in an organized and programmatic way allowing the reader insights into the development of early Christianity In this study Vernon Robbins expounds and develops his system of socio rhetorical criticism bringing together social scientific and literary critical approaches to explore early Christianity This book investigates Christianity as a cultural phenomenon and treats its canonical texts as ideological constructs

Contextualizing Gender in Early Christian Discourse Caroline Vander Stichele, Todd Penner, 2009-06-30 In this book Vander Stichele and Penner introduce their own gender critical approach to the New Testament and other early Christian writings Building on feminist and post colonial insights they explore the importance of gender in both text and context and discuss the diverse issues involved in interpretation as they relate to gender sex and sexuality The authors also set out their methodology and highlight the various hermeneutical issues involved such as the complexity of gendered and sexed identities in antiquity and the gap that exists between modern and ancient conceptions thereof They further illustrate their gender critical approach with concrete examples from the Acts of the Apostles the letters of Paul and the Acts of Paul and Thecla in order to demonstrate how a gender critical approach works in practice As such this book is unique in terms of its range as well as in the explicit methodological focus that is fostered throughout

The Cambridge Companion to Ancient Rhetoric Erik Gunderson, 2009-07-09 A comprehensive overview of rhetorical practice and theory in Graeco Roman antiquity from Homer to early Christianity aimed primarily at students and non specialists It examines the relationship between rhetoric and other competing verbal arts and also investigates the role of rhetoric in social and political life

Ancient Letters and the Purpose of Romans Aaron Ricker, 2020-09-17 Aaron Ricker locates the purpose of Romans in its function as a tool of community identity definition Ricker employs a comparative analysis of the ways in which community identity definition is performed in first century association culture including several ancient network letters comparable to Romans Ricker's examination of the community advice found in Rom 12-15 reveals in this new context an ancient example of the ways in which an inscribed addressee community can be invited in a letter to see and comport itself as a proper association network community The ideal community addressed in the letter to the Romans is defined as properly unified and orderly as well accommodating to and clearly distinct from cultures outside Finally it is defined as linked to a proper network with recognised leadership i.e. the inscribed Paul of the letter and his network Paul's letter to the Romans is in many ways a baffling and extraordinary document In terms of its community defining functions and strategies however Ricker shows its purpose to be perfectly clear and understandable Fabrics of Discourse Vernon Kay Robbins, David B. Gowler, L. Gregory Bloomquist, Duane F.
