warriors scientists queens philosophers and builders of cities Though twenty five manuscripts of the City of Ladies still exist references to tapestries based on the book are elusive Bell takes us along as she tracks down records of six sets of tapestries whose owners included Elizabeth I of England Margaret of Austria and Anne of Brittany Queen of France Bell examines the intriguing details of these women s lives their arranged marriages their power their affairs of state asking what interest they had in owning these particular tapestries Could the tapestries have represented their thinking As she reveals the historical linguistic and cultural aspects of this unique story Bell also gives a fascinating account of medieval and early Renaissance tapestry production and of Christine de Pizan s remarkable life and legacy Women's Studies Quarterly (28: 3-4)
