Tasks And Masks Themes And Styles Of African Literature:

Tasks and Masks Lewis Nkosi, 1981 Still Beating the Drum, 2005-01-01 Lewis Nkosi is one of South Africa's foremost writers and critics and one of the few survivors of the exile generation dating from the Drum era. Up until now, however, no full-length study has been done on his work. This is a gap in South African literary history and criticism that this book is intended to fill. Besides his well-known earlier works, Nkosi is still very much an active writer as the publication in 2002 of his novel Underground People shows. With his latest novel due out in 2005, the timing of Still Beating the Drum, a book which intends to highlight and evaluate his extensive and varied oeuvre, is thus appropriate. Given Lewis Nkosi's life trajectory, this volume will appeal to readers interested in South African and African literature both in South Africa and abroad. Intended as an important critical resource on Lewis Nkosi, the book is divided into three parts. Part One collects papers from scholars around the world currently working on Nkosi's work in various genres. Part Two reprints key articles from different moments in Nkosi's critical writing together with hitherto unpublished recent interviews with Nkosi, and Part Three provides the reader with a timeline and extensive bibliography for Lewis Nkosi, both invaluable resources for scholars working on Nkosi given the scattered nature of much of his more ephemeral writings in the past. Lewis Nkosi is an important figure in South African literature whose voice has been heard far and wide; this book aims to collect for critical consideration some of the echoes and reverberations his voice has generated.

Achebe the Orator Chinwe Okechukwu, 2001-03-30 Taken together Chinua Achebe's five novels Things Fall Apart 1958, No Longer at Ease 1960, A Man of the People 1966, Arrow of God 1967, and Anthills of the Savannah 1988 encompass the entire social, historical, and political experiences of Nigeria from precolonial times to the close of the 20th century. Central to these experiences is the clash of Igbo culture with the ways of the West. The novels show a society that has been fragmented and a people who are striving to reconstruct a world that they lost during their encounter with colonialism. Achebe has stated that his main purpose for writing is to reveal the truth about his people and their culture. This book examines his use of rhetoric to accomplish that objective. Achebe's writings are fraught with rhetorical devices, and he has harnessed the power of oratory to show how his society has responded to the African colonial encounter and its aftermath. He uses oratory and rhetoric to both educate and persuade his readers and to delineate his characters. Because of the central role of language in his novels, his writings illustrate the nature of discourse among the Igbo as well as the larger Nigerian community. This volume presents a broad overview of rhetoric throughout Achebe's works and demonstrates how he uses the novel genre for persuasive purposes.

Vengadasalam, 2018-11-30 This book closes a gap in postcolonial theory through its scrutiny of how four Indian and Nigerian English plays that are situated in national traditions reframed their own cultural terrain in international terms It maps the trajectory that Indian and Nigerian dramatists such as Rabindranath Tagore Wole Soyinka and Badal Sircar adopted as they moved from the specific to the bicultural to the global The intercultural dialectic validated here provides a protean comparative scaffolding that evolves out of and reflects the interculturality of the literatures it is critiquing allowing the book to be an entry point practical guide and reference for those interested in studying and comparing literatures from Asia and Africa written or translated into English Its approach and dialectic can also be expanded for use in comparative literary studies on all intercultural encounters Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne,Pushpa Naidu Parekh,2012-11-12
