

Aspiring and achieving:

Highlighting DP and CP student research

An asterisk (*) indicates that the results focus on students pursuing the full DP with all of its courses and requirements.

Based on a large international data set, by the end of the Diploma Programme (DP), 98% of students aspired to at least a bachelor's degree and 81% aspired to a master's, doctoral or professional degree.¹

In line with previous research, about 85% of DP students² in the United States (US) enrolled in university immediately after high school, compared to 66% of all US high school graduates. DP students were also more likely than other US students to continue on to their second year of university (persistence).²

In the UK, DP students³ were more likely to achieve many positive higher education outcomes compared to matched A level students.³
