Technological Capabilities And Export Success In Asia:

Technological Capabilities and Export Success in Asia Dieter Ernst, Tom Ganiatsos, Lynn Mytelka, 2003-09-02 What accounts for export success A team of international contributors show that learning and capability formation are critical to sustain competitiveness Through a series of case studies of firms in the textile and garment and electronics industries of five Asian economies Korea Taiwan Thailand Indonesia and Vietnam Technological Capabilities and Export Success in Asia demonstrates that cheap labour combined with currency devaluation is no longer sufficient for export success

Technological Capabilities and Export Success in Asia Dieter Ernst, 2016 This book demonstrates through a series of case studies of firms in the electronics and textiles industries of five Asian countries Korea Taiwan Thailand Indonesia and Vietnam that learning and capability formation are critical to sustain export competitiveness Specially the case studies demonstrate that continuous innovation in product design production processes management routines marketing and the organization of production are crucial for breaking into export markets and for expanding market share Technological Capabilities and Export Success in Asia Dieter Ernst, Thomas George Ganiatsos, Lynn Krieger Mytelka, 1998 This book shows how cheap labour combined with currency devaluation is no longer sufficient for export success through a series of case studies of textile and garment and electronics industries in five Asian economies Crisis and Innovation in Asian

Technology William W. Keller, Richard J. Samuels, 2003-02-03 In mid May 1997 a financial crisis erupted in Asia after an attack by private investors on the baht the Thai currency The crisis spread quickly across the region where investor confidence plummeted resulting in massive capital outflows stock market collapses high unemployment and even insurrection The Asian economic miracle that had stimulated so much awe and even dread now invoked pity and apprehension in greater measure The contributors to this volume investigated change in the innovation and production systems of Asian states in response to economic and political upheaval They conducted empirical studies of several regional industries autos semiconductors and hard disk drives and seven different national economies China Malaysia Japan Singapore South Korea Thailand and Taiwan In the face of crisis and global competition the Asian states superimposed change at the margins seeking unique technohybrid solutions to build capabilities to compete in local regional and even global markets Economic Reform Processes in South Asia Philippa Dee, 2012-07-26 While South Asia's economic reform initiatives of the last two decades were often born in crisis this alone does not account for their occurrence This book looks at the processes and institutional arrangements behind these reforms and analyses what lessons can be learnt about how South Asia can improve its policy efficiency The book develops ideas about how to overcome the political restraints to reform by drawing on recent theories of political economy and policy learning It tests these ideas against authoritative case studies of actual reform initiatives in South Asia which illustrate processes and institutional arrangements that have helped South Asian governments to sustain reform efforts even in the absence of a strong political base This offers valuable lessons for the global economy as it moves into a phase of rebalancing with the structural adjustments that this will require The book goes on to identify weaknesses that could be addressed by South Asian national governments and regional forums It is an important contribution to studies on South Asian Politics and International Political Economy

Designing Financial Systems in East Asia and Japan Joseph P. H. Fan, Masaharu Hanazaki, Jūrō Teranishi, 2004 This collection discusses the role of financial institutions and markets in East Asian and Japan corporate governance and new technology and how to redesign the East Asian and Japanese financial systems

Development and Structural Change in Asia-Pacific Martin Andersson, Christer Gunnarsson, 2003-09-02 A consideration of how the Asia Pacific economies have developed since the financial crises the effect of global forces on the national Asian economies and their different development paths as they jointly enter this new phase

Asian Informal Workers Santosh K. Mehrotra, Mario Biggeri, 2007-01-24 This thoroughly researched volume surveys the nature and extent of informal work in Asia which is a powerful and under studied force in the region After over half a century of development even in the fast growing economies of Asia the formal sector and industrial jobs have grown rather slowly and most non agricultural employment growth has occurred in the informal economy At the same time as this there has been a feminization of informal workers and growth in subcontracted homework Drawing on detailed case studies carried out in five Asian countries two low income India and Pakistan and three middle income Indonesia Thailand and the Philippines where subcontracted production usually by women and children working out of home is now widespread this insightful book acknowledges that home based work is the source of income diversification for poor families but is also the source of exploitation of vulnerable workers and child labour as firms attempt to contain costs This wide ranging and accessible survey edited by key specialists in this field along with an impressive team of contributors examines the social protection needs of these workers arguing convincingly for public action to promote such work and protect these workers as a possible new labour intensive growth strategy in developing countries

Special Economic Zones in Asian Market Economies Connie Carter, Andrew Harding, 2010-09-13 This book is the first to examine the Asian experience of special economic zones SEZs in China India Malaysia and the Philippines It explores the origins nature and status of these zones in Asia together with the current trends connected with them and the challenges they currently face

A Basket Currency for Asia Takatoshi Ito, 2007-01-24 The failure of the dollar peg to prevent the Asian currency crisis of 1997 to 1998 has highlighted the importance of the exchange rate regime in Asia and provoked much discussion as to what the alternatives are in terms of exchange rate systems Bringing together extensive research on Asian basket currencies in one volume this new text discusses whether a currency basket system is the answer striking a balance between the theoretical and empirical With strong policy implications for East Asia the impressive team of contributors argue that for countries that have close economic relationships with several currency areas it is well worth considering a currency basket system The book also pursues the important idea of coordination failure whereby if each individual country tries to adopt an optimal exchange rate given other neighbouring countries policies they may collectively fail to reach a region's optimal exchange rate regime

A Basket Currency for Asia is a topical and significant text that will appeal to students and scholars of international finance and Asian economics

Capitalist Development and Economism in East Asia Kui-Wai Li, 2003-08-29 Taking a conceptual approach this book studies the economic development of the four East Asian economies since 1950 The author summarizes and reconsiders many of the arguments and findings that supported and explained the economic miracles of Hong Kong Singapore Taiwan and South Korea analysing the relationship between economic development growth and political economy This pioneering book will stimulate further analysis of East Asian development It will be of essential interest to scholars in East Asian economics and all those interested in modern economic development

Negotiating Financial Agreement in East Asia Kaewkamol Karen Pitakdumrongkit, 2015-10-30 Every international negotiation bears a risk of collapse as even among like minded countries different players often have different priorities and interests This can result in conflict as states clash over certain agreement details and their disputes can escalate and founder the entire negotiation missing an opportunity to realize potential initiatives However other circumstances have witnessed the cases of successful deals This begets a puzzle What did these states do to salvage their talks and seal their deals This book examines East Asian financial negotiation processes and seeks to explain why some negotiations are successful despite the risk of bargaining failure Using the Chiang Mai Initiative Multilateralization CMIM talks as the case study the book analyses how states with little prior experience at dealing with certain aspects of an agreement manage to avert negotiation failure and successfully conclude their final deal Using extensive archival research in depth interviews with involved negotiators and experts and process tracing method it reconstructs the making of the CMIM agreement The multi country analysis reveals the roles played by key actors namely China Japan South Korea Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand in shaping the agreement terms The book goes on to argue that preventing a stalemate or succeeding in concluding arrangements like the CMIM is a product of various strategies and tactics employed by negotiators These include employing bargaining strategies and tactics that help avoid a negotiation deadlock and assessing the conditions under which such strategies and tactics are likely or unlikely to achieve the objective of avoiding bargaining failure As a study of East Asian economic negotiation processes this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of East Asian cooperation and regionalism as well as finance international business international relations and international political economy

Indonesia's Economy Since Independence Kian Wie Thee, 2012 This book contains a collection of papers on various aspects of Indonesia's economic and its industrial development It discusses the early independence period in the 1950s the Soeharto era 1966 1998 and the ensuing two economic crises namely the Asian Financial Crisis of 1997 98 and the Global Financial Crisis of 2008

Developmentalism and Dependency in Southeast Asia Jason P. Abbott, 2003-08-29 This book provides a detailed cross country study of the automotive industry in South East Asia Abbott argues that contrary to prevailing opinion the diffusion of manufacturing in the Asia Pacific has been characterized by hierarchical networks of production linked to Japan for technology      Southeast Asian Paper Tigers K. S. Jomo, 2013-04-03 This important collection is a timely contribution to the debate on the Asian financial crisis With chapters written by well established international experts in Asian economics this book constitutes a finely judged example of the varying opinions on the matter      Financial Markets and Policies in East Asia Gordon De Brouwer, 2003-09-02 This book assesses the need to secure policy consistency the scope for inflation targeting the sustainability of exchange rate regimes and the scope for deeper financial integration in the Australasian area      State Structure, Policy Formation, and Economic Development in Southeast Asia Antoinette R. Raquiza, 2013-06-17 Why do some small developing countries industrialize and others don't What factors account for different economic performance among states that are vulnerable to external shocks crony capitalism and political instability This book argues that the answer lies in the structuring of state power specifically the way different sets of governing elites political leaders and economic technocrats are embedded in political organisations and state institutions and the way these elites relate to each other in the economic development policy process Conducting a comparative historical analysis of Thailand and the Philippines the book argues that the institutional settings of governing elites influence economic outcomes In Thailand political power traditionally connects to state institutions in ways that has limited the impact of political turnovers and global downturns conducive to long term industrial activities In contrast Philippine state power derives from family networks that merge social and political power suited to fast moving short term commercial interests In focusing on this political and institutional story the author analyses the current development dilemmas of countries weighed down by historical legacies of unstable regimes dependency and social conflict and how they are likely to develop in the future      Production Networks and Industrial Clusters Ikuo Kuroiwa, Toh Mun Heng, 2008-04-30 Explains how production networks and industrial clusters have played crucial roles in the industrial development of Indonesia and Malaysia electronics industry Singapore biomedical science industry and Thailand automotive industry      China's Rise in the World ICT Industry Lutao Ning, 2009-06-04 One of the most striking phenomena of China's remarkable economic growth is that its huge volume of exports are becoming high tech China is now the world's largest Information and Communication Technology ICT exporter having overtaken Japan and the European Union in 2003 and the United States in 2004 China's ICT industry is also the largest manufacturing sector within the Chinese economy This book examines how China has attained this leading position and presents one of the first accounts of China's ICT development model with specific reference to the experiences of East Asian tigers It shows how the development of the industry was military driven before 1978 and how subsequently Chinese policymakers struggling with domestic market reform and challenged by trade liberalisation and globalisation managed to push through ICT development strategies Overall it discusses the debates between policymakers as to the most appropriate economic development strategy for catching up and demonstrates how China moved away from the across the board protectionist and interventionist industrial policies pursued by many developing countries but has not wholeheartedly followed the neo liberal free trade and market policies favoured by the World Bank WTO and IMF By doing so it sheds light on the limitations of China's strategies moving forward and identifies policy lessons for other developing countries      Institutions for Economic Reform in Asia Philippa Dee, 2009-12-16 Consisting of theoretical chapters and six country case study chapters this book sets out some of the principles that are critical to success in regional cooperation and the ways APEC can promote structural reform efforts in APEC economies
