Technologies For Rainfed Agriculture In Mediterranean Climates A Review Of World Bank Experiences:

Technologies for Rainfed Agriculture in Mediterranean Climates Peter Oram, C. de Haan, 1995-01-01 This report describes the results of a survey of 1 000 multinational corporations undertaken in 1992 which asked about the importance of environmental issues in investment decisions The survey shows that most large corporations look systematically at environmental questions when they decide where to invest Environmental problems appear to have discouraged a number of investments across different industries and the question of liability for past pollution problems at industrial sites was the greatest concern for investors World Bank Lending for Small Enterprises, 1989-1993 Leila Webster, Randall Riopelle, Anne-Marie Chidzero, 1996 Addresses the issue of international competitiveness from the perspective of developing countries which must exploit the opportunities offered by international trade and the extraordinarily rapid technological progress of recent years The book's central message is that while sound macroeconomic management is crucial for achieving a sustained rise in living standards it is an economy's ability to generate and manage technological change that ultimately determines its success in the world market and the pace at which it grows The Impact of Environmental Assessment, 1997-01-01 China is in the throes of two transitions from a command economy to a market based one and from a rural agricultural society to an urban industrial one So far both transitions have been spectacularly successful China is the fastest growing economy in the world with per capita incomes more than quadrupling since 1978 achieving in two generations what took other countries centuries Although swift growth and structural change have resolved many problems they also have created new challenges employment insecurity growing inequality stubborn poverty mounting environmental pressures rising costs of food self sufficiency and periods of macroeconomic instability stemming from incomplete reforms Unmet these challenges could undermine the sustainability of growth and China's promise could fade China 2020 a seven volume set examines China's recent history where it is today and the path it should follow during the first two decades of the 21st century The volume in the set entitled Old Age Security Pension Reform in China highlights two severe difficulties with China's current pension system the urgent and immediate problem of the pension burden placed on state owned enterprises and the longer term predicament arising from a rapidly aging population State enterprises inherited heavy pension obligations from the central planning era With the transition to a market economy employment in the state enterprise sector is declining while the number of pensioners is rising rapidly The study recommends a unified pension system that includes both mandatory funded individual accounts and a social insurance scheme It also endorses a sustainable contribution rate that attaches considerable importance to long term financial viability more than 60 years and examines the risks associated with low compliance rates and low interest rates Biodiversity and Agriculture Jitendra Srivastava, Nigel J. H. Smith, 1996-01-01 Agriculture's vital role in biodiversity conservation and management Definition of biodiversity Biodiversity's links to agriculture Biodiversity and agriculture on a collision course Rationale for the World Bank's involvement in biodiversity management Biodiversity in the Bank s agricultural and environmental portfolios Towards a strategy for biodiversity conservation in harmony with agricultural development Review of Early Childhood Policy and Programs in Sub-Saharan Africa Amy Jo Reinhold,1997-01-01 The collaborative efforts of ColombiaA s Department of National Planning DNP and the World Bank has produced the National Evaluation System of Public Sector Performance SYNERGY Put in place by the Special Division for Evaluation in DNP this system has been designed and implemented to change the public sector from an inward looking process oriented body which sometimes restrains economic and social progress into a more dynamic results oriented partner of the community and private sector in development This report explores the critical factors in making SYNERGY a successful evaluation system Such factors include ways of making it an effective management tool promoting civil society participation by focusing on results for people and leveraging on their energy and resource defining a constructive learning process for implementation and providing an enabling environment for a results oriented public sector Fostering Riparian Cooperation in International River Basins Syed S. Kirmani,Guy J.-M. Le Moigne,1997-01-01 This report describes the World Bank s successful interventions in three international river basins the Indus the Mekong and the Aral Sea to foster riparian cooperation and agreements It discusses the key features of the Bank s role and the following strategies intervening solely to promote development and peace timing interventions when issues were serious when riparians were not able to address them on their own and when they needed and wanted Bank assistance initiating dialogue with riparian countries at the highest levels to inspire confidence playing a proactive role in exploring pragmatic solutions acceptable to all parties rather than pursuing ideal but unworkable solutions using quiet diplomacy in negotiating sensitive issues making the required long term staff and budgetary commitment despite final outcome uncertainty mobilizing donor countries support and analyzing risks and taking appropriate measures to minimize them The paper concludes that the Bank can succeed in other international river basin conflicts if it follows these same strategies Publisher s description

Measuring the Burden of Disease and the Cost-effectiveness of Health Interventions Prabhat Jha,Kent Ranson,José Luis Bobadilla,1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 333 Draws on the methodology of QUOTEWorld Development Report 1993 Investing in HealthQUOTE to analyze the burden of disease and the cost effectiveness of health care interventions The analysis presents a framework for the activities of the government of Guinea in prioritizing health care services State, Community, and Local Development in Nigeria Paul Francis,James Adewuyi Akinwumi,1996-01-01 Environmentally Sustainable Development Proceedings Series No 10 Presents the proceedings of the World Bank s Third Annual Conference on Environmentally Sustainable Development held in October 1995 The conference included roundtable discussions a variety of speakers and associated conferences and events co sponsored by nongovernmental organizations and other institutions Combining the Quantitative and Qualitative Approaches to Poverty Measurement and Analysis Soniya Carvalho,Howard White,1997-01-01 This study examines the impact of paddy irrigation investments operations and maintenance in Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam as well as the conclusions of a performance audit of flood control schemes at three sites in Bangladesh Findings from the review contradict the dominant model for government operated gravity fed irrigation schemes in the humid tropics The irrigation schemes are performing less well than expected at appraisal mainly because of falling paddy prices overoptimism about the crop area served and project design faults Results emphasize the value of co production involving pragmatic approaches to operation and maintenance under which public irrigation agencies local authorities and farmers work together to address specific problems and strengthen appropriate incentives

Vehicular Air Pollution Bekir Onursal, Surhid Gautam, 1997-01-01 Much is expected of private financing to help meet the infrastructure requirements of the rapidly growing East Asian economies Although private financing grew briskly during the 1990s it represents only a small share of all infrastructure investment in the region between 12 and 18 percent This monograph draws on experience in a number of countries in East Asia as well as Australia Chile and India to analyze the impediments to and prospects for private financing of infrastructure The chapters discuss the choices available to policymakers and the strategies that governments have followed An overview chapter describes recent trends in international financing of infrastructure projects in the region discusses the key policy and institutional impediments to greater private participation and assesses the role of domestic capital markets and finance It also outlines a national and regional strategy for stimulating private investment in infrastructure The case studies from countries outside East Asia illustrate the payoffs of increased integration and concerted moves toward private provision of infrastructure

Sector Investment Programs in Africa Stephen P. Jones, 1997-01-01 South Asia has made much progress in deregulation and liberalization in the 1990s but it still remains one of the least integrated regions in the world However this general trend masks wide disparities among South Asian nations the larger economies tend to be more highly protected with low import penetration rates while the smaller economies are relatively more open If the current reform program continues the benefits of liberalization will translate into higher growth This report reviews the regions economic performance from an international perspective and the steps taken to increase integration especially in terms of financial integration increased foreign direct investment portfolio and capital flows and regional integration intra regional trade regional arrangements Chapters also discuss the economic outlook for the region and prospects for South Asian exports such as textiles and clothing

Restructuring Large Industrial Firms in Central and Eastern Europe Gerhard Pohl, Simeon Djankov, Robert Edward Anderson, 1996-01-01 This report addresses the most important challenges facing the Latin America and Caribbean region as it attempts to replace its traditional economic and social structures including populist institutions with a modern efficient administrative state The analysis focuses on the political economy of pending reforms and their ramifications The report discusses 1 recent economic and political developments 2 systemic issues such as high real interest and unemployment rates and declining export growth 3 social policies and the need to consolidate macroeconomic stability and 4 how to define and build the new Latin American state An appendix provides detailed information on selected country performance Social Development and Absolute Poverty in Asia and Latin America Willy De Geyndt,1996-01-01 Using econometric techniques analyzes causes of widespread poverty in Latin America and the 10 largest East and South Asian countries Concludes that slow economic growth is not the only explanatory variable and cites importance of schools and health care Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 The Condition of Young Children in Sub-Saharan Africa Nat J. Colletta,Jayshree Balachander,Xiaoyan Liang,1996-01-01 Reviews the World Bank s experience in industrial restructuring in 46 countries during the past 14 years The study finds that for most completed public enterprise restructuring operations sustainability of benefits was a large problem mainly because of fragile sector reforms and inadequate governance and management Those completed for the private sector experienced poor outcomes from inadequate attention to country economic conditions and policy distortions To overcome such problems the study recommends that future restructuring operations be designed and implemented to have an impact at the firm level

Land Degradation in Tanzania Alemneh Dejene,1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 370 Local land users and officials often have conflicting perceptions of and responses to land degradation issues This causes problems for officials in diagnosing and addressing the issue and is a major constraint on the successful implementation of policies and projects to address land degradation This study looks at the perception and response gap between officials and land users in the diagnosis and remedy of land degradation It also examines the dynamics of the loss of soil fertility and low productivity at the village level The study s findings will help shape investment programs to enhance land productivity in Sub Saharan Africa

Surveillance of Agricultural Price and Trade Policies Alberto Valdés,Barry Schaeffer,1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 326 Describes the condition of young children in Sub Saharan Africa calls attention to their plight and examines strategies for addressing their condition The paper describes the World Bank s early childhood development initiative which focuses on the neglected but critical development age group that falls between birth and school enrollment age and which regards child development as the holistic formation of the child rather than an extension of traditional schooling downward

Corporate Governance of Public Enterprises in Transitional Economies Dominique Pannier,1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 323 Draws on the contrasting experiences of five large transitional economies Hungary Poland Romania Russia and Ukraine in the management and oversight of public enterprises Relevant experiences of developed market economies are included The Niger Household Energy Project Gerald Foley,1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 360 Over the last two decades banking systems in Latin America have been subject to considerable banking distress and numerous crises This conference looked at proposals for preventing such episodes The discussions covered the genesis and implications of deposit insurance cum fractional reserve requirements the experience with market based regulations in Chile and in New Zealand and the narrow banking proposal 100 percent reserves on demand deposits with a discussion of how Argentina s path towards this type of banking system helped this country weather its 1995 banking crisis Contributors include central bank presidents Argentina Chile Costa Rica and Nicaragua and directors Colombia heads of regulatory agencies and banking centers Bolivia and Mexico rating agencies Brazil private bankers World Bank economists and academics

Privatization and Restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe Gerhard Pohl, 1997-01-01 Why do women in most developing countries lag behind men in literacy Why do women get less schooling than men This anthology examines the educational decisions that deprive women of an equal education It assembles the most up to date data organized by region Each paper links the data with other measures of economic and social development This approach helps explain the effects different levels of education have on women's fertility mortality rates life expectancy and income Also described are the effects of women's education on family welfare The authors look at family size and women's labor status and earnings They examine child and maternal health as well as investments in children's education Their investigation demonstrates that women with a better education enjoy greater economic growth and provide a more nurturing family life It suggests that when a country denies women an equal education the nation's welfare suffers Current strategies used to improve schooling for girls and women are examined in detail The authors suggest an ambitious agenda for educating women It seeks to close the gender gap by the next century Published for The World Bank by The Johns Hopkins University Press

Medicinal Plants Jitendra Srivastava, John Lambert, Noel Vietmeyer, 1996 All 15 new independent states established in the economic space of the former Soviet Union suffered big declines in output and trade after their independence This study summarizes cross country experience on the role of trade and payments policies in the linked contraction of output and trade by drawing on eight country case studies Estonia the Kyrgyz Republic Latvia Lithuania Moldova Russia Ukraine and Uzbekistan The results of the case studies show that trade reform and reorientation of trade toward the rest of the world have done much to arrest the decline in output usually associated with the transformation from plan to market Also available in Russian Stock no 13687 ISBN 0 8213 3687 8
