Global Networks, Linked Cities Saskia Sassen,2016-04-15 In her pioneering book The Global City Saskia Sassen argued that certain cities in the postindustrial world have become central nodes in the new service economy strategic sites for the acceleration of capital and information flows as well as spaces of increasing socio economic polarization One effect has been that such cities have gained in importance and power relative to nation states In this new collection of essays Sassen and a distinguished group of contributors expand on the author s earlier work in a number of important ways focusing on two key issues First they look at how information flows have bound global cities together in networks creating a global city web whose constituent cities become global through the networks they participate in Second they investigate emerging global cities in the developing world Sao Paulo Shanghai Hong Kong Mexico City Beirut the Dubai Iran corridor and Buenos Aires They show how these globalizing zones are not only replicating many features of the top tier of global cities but are also generating new socio economic patterns as well These new patterns of development promise to lead to significant changes in the structure of the global economy as more and more cities worldwide are integrated into globalization s circuitry Includes contributions from Linda Garcia Patrice Riemens Geert Lovink Peter Taylor David Smith Michael Timberlake Stephen Graham Sueli Schiffer Ramos Christoff Parnreiter Felicity Gu David Meyer Pablo Ciccolella Iliana Mignaqui Eric Huybrechts Ali Parsa Also includes six maps

The Silicon Empire Michael B. Likosky,2018-01-18 Michael Likosky examines the continuities and discontinuities between colonial and present day high tech transnational legal orders His concern is specifically with the colonial characteristics of the legal order which underpins the global high tech economy He distinguishes the democratic and human rights rhetoric of this economy from a reality wherein the legal order is often used to reproduce colonial type relationships Just as in the colonial period the expansion of trans border commerce overlaps with democratic demands and human rights in complex multifaceted and paradoxical ways Through a case study looking at Malaysia's Multimedia Super Corridor a high tech national development plan and foreign direct investment scheme he examines how the transnational leaders of the high tech economy along with the Malaysian political elite react when human rights problems threaten to derail commercial plans
