Telecommunications And Information Services For The Poor Towards A Strategy For Universal Access:

Telecommunications and Information Services for the Poor Juan Navas-Sabater, Andrew Dymond, Niina Juntunen, 2002 Access to information and communication technologies is a crucial issue for sustainable economic development This discussion paper outlines a number of policy and regulatory measures that can be used to close the digital divide The six sections of the report are telecommunications information and poverty reduction an overview of access problems technology and market solutions to close the access gap policy and regulatory models for improving access World Bank experience to date towards a strategy for universal access Regulating Telecommunications in South Africa Charley Lewis, 2020-06-10 This book provides the first full account of the 20 year story of universal access and service in South Africa s ICT sector From 1994 the country s first democratic government set out to redress the deep digital divide afflicting the overwhelming majority of its citizens already poor and disenfranchised but likewise marginalised in access to telephone infrastructure and services By this time an incipient global policy regime was driving reforms in the telecomms sector and also developing good practice models for universal service Policy diffusion thus led South Africa to adopt adapt and implement a slew of these interventions In particular roll out obligations were imposed on licensees and a universal service fund was established But an agency with a universal service mandate was also created and licences in under serviced areas were awarded The book goes on to identify and analyse the policy success and failure of each of these interventions and suggests some lessons to be learned Funding and Implementing Universal Access Uganda Communications Commission, 2005 Uganda was one of the first countries in Africa to develop a policy on universal access to information and communication technologies ICTs and to implement a universal access fund designed to support initiatives aimed at improving poor and rural populations access to ICTs Today Uganda s universal access policy and rural communications development fund are generally seen as best practice This book presents the Ugandan experience OCo an experience that was unique because of the country s early liberalization of the communication sector and explosion in the use of mobile communication technology Regulators policy advisors and government officials both within and outside Africa will find this book useful as they develop their own policies strategies and implementation plans for universal access OECD Review of Telecommunication Policy and Regulation in Colombia OECD, 2014-04-09 This report reviews policies and regulations in the telecommunication service sector in Colombia It puts forward recommendations aimed at furthering regulatory reform and stimulating market competition and investment in the sector A Guide to the World Bank, 2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world s largest sources of development assistance In 2002 the institution provided US 19.5 billion in loans to its client countries This guide reviews the organisation s history objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD the International Development Association IDA the International Finance Corporation

IFC the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency MIGA and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID Africa's ICT Infrastructure Vivien Foster,Cecilia Briceño-Garmendia,2011-06-23 Africa s ICT Infrastructure reviews how the investment in the sector has been financed and how the structure of the market has changed since the liberalization process started It looks at the role of both private and public institutions as sources of financing for the sector and charts the emergence of investors from developing countries in leading the expansion of the sector across the region
