The Archivability of Television Lauren Bratslavsky, Elizabeth Peterson, 2025-06-01 This anthology critically evaluates archives and archival processes that collect order and preserve elements of television as historically culturally socially politically and economically significant material What do we know about how television moved from ephemeral broadcasts and mounds of paperwork documenting bureaucratic and creative processes to become historical material housed in archives This book s guiding principles are to interrogate where television as historical material lives and to collect the stories of some ways television preservation has been and continues to be deeply circumstantial and idiosyncratic Bringing together work by academics archivists and practitioners the book offers insights into the archival processes that confer television programs with historical value With a focus on television s archival spaces the book contributes more broadly to theories histories and practices of archiving Likewise the theories and questions about archives provide insights into the specificities of the medium the relations between technologies and culture the political economy of the culture industries and the minutiae of television s place in American society

Film & Television Coll Europe Kirschner, 2012-11-12 Published in 1995 Film Television is an important contribution to Film and Media

Reruns on File Donald G. Godfrey, 2013-09-13 For more than half a century broadcast recordings have reflected an important aspect of our culture and history An increasing number of archivists and private collectors have restored and exchanged radio and television materials However despite the awareness of these primary resource materials there is still some reluctance to utilize this aural and visual history resource A part of this reluctance is due to the fact that little is known about the existence of many collections throughout the nation This volume provides a comprehensive directory of electronic media archives in the United States and Canada It describes each collection focusing on its speciality providing the serious researcher with ready access information to these electronic media program resources Focusing on both private and institutional collections it is organized by state and city with indexes to provide the scholar with subject and location of specific topics of interest

Television Histories Gary R. Edgerton, Peter C. Rollins, 2021-09-15 From Ken Burns s documentaries to historical dramas such as Roots from A E s Biography series to CNN television has become the primary source for historical information for tens of millions of Americans today Why has television become such a respected authority What falsehoods enter our collective memory as truths How is one to know what is real and what is imagined or ignored by producers directors or writers Gary Edgerton and Peter Rollins have collected a group of essays that answer these and many other questions The contributors examine the full spectrum of historical genres but also institutions such as the History Channel and production histories of such series as The Jack Benny Show which ran for fifteen years The authors explore the tensions between popular history and professional history and the tendency of some academics to declare the past off limits to nonscholars Several of them point to the tendency for television histories to embed current concerns and priorities within the past as in such popular shows as Quantum Leap and Dr Quinn Medicine Woman The result is an insightful portrayal of the power television possesses to influence our culture Television History, the Peabody Archive, and Cultural Memory Ethan Thompson, Jeffrey P. Jones, Lucas Hatlen, 2019-12-01 Television History the Peabody Archive and Cultural Memory is the first edited volume devoted to the Peabody Awards Collection a unique repository of radio and TV programs submitted yearly since 1941 for consideration for the prestigious Peabody Awards The essays in this volume explore the influence of the Peabody Awards Collection as an archive of the vital medium of TV turning their attention to the wealth of programs considered for Peabody Awards that were not honored and thus have largely been forgotten and yet have the potential to reshape our understanding of American television history Because the collection contains programming produced by stations across the nation it is a distinctive repository of cultural memory many of the programs found in it are not represented in the canon that dominates our understanding of American broadcast history The contributions to this volume ask a range of important questions What do we find if we look to the archive for what s been forgotten How does our understanding of gender class or racial representations shift What different strategies did producers use to connect with audiences and construct communities that may be lost This volume s contributors examine intersections of citizenship and subjectivity in public service programs compare local and national coverage of particular individuals and social issues and draw our attention to types of programming that have disappeared Together they show how locally produced programs from both commercial and public stations have acted on behalf of their communities challenging representations of culture politics and people

Television Introductions Vincent Terrace, 2013-11-07 Since the beginning of network television many shows have been preceded by an announcement or theme song that served various purposes In the 1950s and 60s it was common for announcers to declare that a program had been brought to you by a sponsor who paid for the privilege of introducing a show Other programs such as The Twilight Zone Star Trek and The Odd Couple provided a brief encapsulation of the show s subject matter a practice that has continued for recent shows like Alias Battlestar Galactica Person of Interest and the various editions of Law Order In Television Introductions Narrated TV Program Openings since 1949 Vincent Terrace has assembled openings for more than nine hundred television shows from the past seven decades The only documented history of narrated television program introductions this volume is arranged by type of programming such as comedy drama Western game show soap opera and children s show In addition to quoting the opening material entries provide information about each show s network history and years of broadcast Many entries include descriptions of the show the names of announcers and a list of main cast members as well as a sponsor pitch exactly as spoken Openings for programs with multiple introductions like The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet and Charlie s Angels are also included For programs that featured new guest stars every episode such as game shows and variety programs Terrace has selected a representative introduction In addition to the theme song credits found in the main text there are also appendixes of theme songs and their composers and or singers as well as a listing of commercial releases on DVD VHS CD and LP of shows and their soundtracks A comprehensive resource for researchers and pop culture aficionados alike Television Introductions provides a fascinating look at this neglected part of TV history Epic / everyday Sarah Cardwell,Jonathan Bignell,Lucy Fife Donaldson,2023-05-30 An exciting new strand in The Television Series the Moments in Television collections celebrate the power and artistry of television whilst interrogating key critical concepts in television scholarship Each Moments book is organised around a provocative binary theme Epic everyday explores the presence within television of the epic and the everyday It argues that attention to ideas of the epic and notions of the everyday can illuminate television programmes in new ways The book explores an eclectic range of TV fictions including Game of Thrones Lost and Dr Who Contributors from diverse perspectives come together to expand and enrich the kind of close analysis most commonly found in television aesthetics Sustained detailed programme analyses are sensitively framed within historical technological institutional cultural creative and art historical contexts Mass Communications Research Resources Christopher H. Sterling,James K. Bracken,Susan B. Hill,2016-05-06 This reference book is designed as a road map for researchers who need to find specific information about American mass communication as expeditiously as possible Taking a topical approach it integrates publications and organizations into subject focused chapters for easy user reference The editors define mass communication to include print journalism and electronic media and the processes by which they communicate messages to their audiences Included are newspaper magazine radio television cable and newer electronic media industries Within that definition this volume offers an indexed inventory of more than 1 400 resources on most aspects of American mass communication history technology economics content audience research policy and regulation The material featured represents the carefully considered judgment of three experts two of them librarians plus four contributors from different industry venues The primary focus is on the domestic American print and electronic media industries Although there is no claim to a complete census of all materials on print journalism and electronic media what is available is now too vast for any single guide the most important and useful items are here The emphasis is on material published since 1980 though useful older resources are included as well Each chapter is designed to stand alone providing the most important and useful resources of a primary nature organizations and documents as well as secondary books and reports In addition online resources and internet citations are included where possible Film Music in the Sound Era Jonathan Rhodes Lee,2020-03-10 Film Music in the Sound Era A Research and Information Guide offers a comprehensive bibliography of scholarship on music in sound film 1927 2017 Thematically organized sections cover historical studies studies of musicians and filmmakers genre studies theory and aesthetics and other key aspects of film music studies Broad coverage of works from around the globe paired with robust indexes and thorough cross referencing make this research guide an invaluable tool for all scholars and students investigating the intersection of music and film This guide is published in two volumes Volume 1 Histories Theories and Genres covers overviews historical surveys theory and criticism studies of film genres and case studies of individual films Volume 2 People Cultures and Contexts covers individual people social and cultural studies studies of musical genre pedagogy and the industry A complete index is included in each volume Rediscovering U.S. Newsfilm Mark Garrett Cooper,Sara Beth Levavy,Ross Melnick,Mark Williams,2018-06-14 The twentieth century generated tens of thousands of hours of American newsfilm but not the scholarly apparatus necessary to analyze and contextualize them Assembling new approaches to the study of U S newsfilm in cinema and television this book makes a long overdue critical intervention in the field of film and media studies by addressing the format s inherent intermediality its mediation of events for local national and transnational communities its distinctive archival legacies and consequently its integral place in film and television studies more broadly This collection brings fresh contemporary methodologies and analysis to bear on a vast amount of material that has languished in relative obscurity for far too long Future-Proofing the News Kathleen A. Hansen,Nora Paul,2017-01-26 News coverage is often described as the first draft of history From the publication in 1690 of the first American newspaper Publick Occurrences to the latest tweet news has been disseminated to inform its audience about what is going on in the world But the preservation of news content has had its technological legal and organizational challenges Over the centuries as new means of finding producing and distributing news were developed the methods used to ensure future generations access changed and new challenges for news content preservation arose This book covers the history of news preservation or lack thereof the decisions that helped ensure or doom its preservation and the unique preservation issues that each new form of media brought All but one copy of Publick Occurrences were destroyed by decree The wood pulp based newsprint used for later newspapers crumbled to dust Early microfilm disintegrates to acid and decades of microfilmed newspapers have already dissolved in their storage drawers Early radio and television newscasts were rarely captured and when they were the technological formats for accessing the tapes are long superseded Sounds and images stored on audio and videotapes fade and become unreadable The early years of web publication by news organizations were lost by changes in publishing platforms and a false security that everything on the Internet lives forever In 50 or 100 years what will we be able to retrieve from today s news output How will we tell the story of this time and place Will we have better access to news produced in 1816 than news produced in 2016 These are some of the questions Future Proofing the News aims to answer Methods of Historical Analysis in Electronic Media Donald G. Godfrey,2006-08-15 Methods of Historical Analysis in Electronic Media provides a foundation for historical research in electronic media by addressing the literature and the methods traditional and the eclectic methods of scholarship as applied to electronic media It is about history broadcast electronic media history and history that has been broadcast and also about the historiography research written and the research yet to be written Divided into five parts this book addresses the challenges in the application of the historical methods to broadcast history reviews the various methods appropriate for electronic media research based on the nature of the object under study suggests new approaches to popular historical topics takes a broad topical look at history in broadcasting and provides a broad overview of what has been accomplished a historian s challenges and future research Intended for students and researchers in broadcast history Methods of Historical Analysis in Electronic Media provides an understanding of the qualitative methodological tools necessary for the study of electronic media history and illustrates how to find primary sources for electronic media research The Collection Program in Schools Marcia A.

pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes Contents Racial Attitudes Racism and Poverty Hate Groups Racial Justice Racism and Politics Race Discrimination Racial Identity Racism Around the World Archival Information Steven Fisher,2004-03-30 From original manuscripts and letters to sound recordings and birth certificates archival information plays an increasingly important role in modern research Libraries and the Internet have made finding information on a wide range of topics faster and easier but not all information particularly from primary sources is available via local library branches or online resources Using archival information presents its own challenges Materials are often located in many different places public or academic libraries government agencies historical societies or museums They are usually kept in secured areas where the public is restricted from browsing This definitive guide shows novice and experienced researchers how to find archival information It provides tips on how to use archival materials effectively and efficiently Topics covered include government archives science and technology collections military archives genealogical records business and corporate archives performing arts archives and sports collections Also provided is an overview of the world of archives including archival terminology how to contact archives and archival etiquette Whether searching for a noted author s original manuscripts trying to locate presidential papers or tracking down a repository of oral histories Archival Information is an indispensable reference Private Screenings Lynn Spigel, Denise Mann, 1992-01-01 It's the Pictures That Got Small Christine Becker, 2008 An original study of Hollywood film stars and 1950s television Cold War Children's Television Vibiana Bowman Cvetkovic, 2023-10-16 Cold War Children s Television Philadelphia as a Case Study examines a culturally significant phenomenon of the Cold War the locally produced hosted children s show The Cold War era and the coming of age of commercial television were entwined not only chronologically but societally The era of the locally produced hosted show closed in the wake of Sesame Street due to shifts in social policy industry economics and rising expectations for children programming Through the lens of cultural and historical analysis this book reveals that beyond that nostalgia lies a vital visual form that thrived in the Cold War era one that reflected the ideals of childhood media and nation of a societal terrain from which the American children s television host emerged Westerns Gary R. Edgerton, 2013-09-13 For nearly two centuries Americans have embraced the Western like no other artistic genre Creators and consumers alike have utilized this story form in literature painting film radio and television to explore questions of national identity and purpose Westerns The Essential Collection comprises the Journal of Popular Film and Television s rich and longstanding legacy of scholarship on Westerns with a new special issue devoted exclusively to the genre This collection examines and analyzes the evolution and significance of the screen Western from its earliest beginnings to its current global reach and relevance in the 21st century Westerns The Essential Collection addresses the rise fall and durability of the genre and examines its preoccupation with multicultural matters in its organizational structure Containing eighteen essays published between 1972 and 2011 this seminal work is divided into six sections covering Silent Westerns Classic Westerns Race and Westerns Gender and Westerns Revisionist Westerns and Westerns in Global Context A wide range of international contributors offer original critical perspectives on the intricate relationship between American culture and Western films and television series Westerns The Essential Collection places the genre squarely within the broader aesthetic socio historical cultural and political dimensions of life in the United States as well as internationally where the Western has been reinvigorated and reinvented many times This groundbreaking anthology illustrates how Western films and television series have been used to define the present and discover the future by looking backwards at America s imagined past

Enjoying the Song of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Television Collection

In a global eaten by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant interaction, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony produced by the prepared word often diminish into the background, eclipsed by the persistent noise and distractions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, set within the pages of Television Collection an enchanting literary prize brimming with raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant composer of language, this charming masterpiece conducts viewers on a mental trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden songs and profound impact resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of the poignant assessment, we shall explore the book is main harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing style, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
