American Television News: The Media Marketplace and the Public Interest Steve M. Barkin, 2016-09-16 This concise history of the news broadcasting industry will appeal to both students and general readers Stretching from the radio days of the 1920s and 1930s and the early era of television after World War II through to the present the book shows how commercial interests regulatory matters and financial considerations have long shaped the broadcasting business The network dominance of the 1950s ushered in the new prominence of the anchorman a distinctly American development and gave birth to the golden age of TV broadcasting which featured hard hitting news and documentaries epitomized by the reports by CBS's Edward R Murrow Financial pressures and advertising concerns in the 1960s led the networks to veer away from their commitment to serve the public interest and tabloid television celebrity gossip driven soft news and news magazines became increasingly widespread In the 1980s cable news further transformed broadcasting igniting intense competition for viewers in the media marketplace Focusing on both national and local news this stimulating volume examines the evolution of broadcast journalism It also considers how new electronic technologies will affect news delivery in the 21st century and whether television news can still both serve the public interest and maintain an audience

News from Nowhere: Television and the News Edward Jay Epstein, 1974 A detailed probing analysis of the economic political and journalistic structure of network news organizations Edward Jay Epstein shows that internal corporate policy and budgetary requirements shape the directions of TV news coverage Television news does not mirror reality TV's essential aim is not to inform but to excite viewers enough to induce them to stay tuned

The Glowing Tube: A Journey Through Television's Golden Age Pasquale De Marco, In the golden age of television the glowing tube was a beacon of light in the living room bringing families and friends together to share laughter tears and a sense of community From the early days of black and white broadcasts to the rise of cable and streaming services television has revolutionized the way we consume entertainment and information This book takes a journey through the history of television from its humble beginnings to its current status as a global phenomenon Along the way we will explore the impact of television on American culture from its role in shaping public opinion to its influence on our values and beliefs We will also look at the future of television and consider how new technologies are changing the way we watch and consume content Whether you are a lifelong fan of television or simply curious about its history and impact this book has something for everyone You will learn about the greatest television shows of all time the most iconic television characters and the most memorable television moments You will also get a behind the scenes look at the making of some of your favorite shows and learn about the people who brought them to life So sit back relax and let us take you on a journey through the glowing tube From the golden age of television to the present day this book is a celebration of the medium that has shaped our world But television is not without its critics Some argue that it is a vast wasteland filled with mindless entertainment that rots our brains Others worry about the impact of television on children arguing that it can lead to violence obesity and other problems Despite these concerns television remains a powerful force in our lives It is a way to connect with the world around us to learn about different cultures and to be entertained It is also a way to escape from the everyday stresses of life and to simply relax This book is an exploration of the complex and often contradictory relationship between television and American society It is a celebration of the medium s many achievements but it also acknowledges its shortcomings Ultimately it is up to each individual to decide how much television they want to watch and what kind of television they want to watch If you like this book write a review

American Political Discourse on China Michelle Murray Yang, 2017-06-14 Despite the U S and China s shared economic and political interests distrust between the nations persists How does the United States rhetorically navigate its relationship with China in the midst of continued distrust This book pursues this question by rhetorically analyzing U S news and political discourse concerning the 2008 Beijing Olympic Games the 2010 U S midterm elections the 2012 U S presidential election and the 2014 2015 Chinese cyber espionage controversy It finds that memory frames of China as the yellow peril and the red menace have combined to construct China as a threatening red peril Red peril characterizations revive and revise yellow peril tropes of China as a moral political economic and military threat by imbuing them with anti communist ideology Tracing the origins functions and implications of the red peril this study illustrates how historical representations of the Chinese threat continue to limit understanding of U S Sino relations by keeping the nations relationship mired in the past

Broadcasting Journalism Jacoby Barrera, 2019-03-19 Advertising research is a systematic process of marketing research conducted to improve the efficiency of advertising Advertising and media research explains the complexities of planning in a fast moving non complex style As we enter the new century of transformed advertising techniques and marketing challenges Research is to find out something new and advertising research is to find out how advertising works effectively and guide in making effective advertising decisions There are various kinds of advertising research and these include pre testing post testing campaign research and measuring advertising effectiveness Advertising follows logically after listening to consumer requirements introducing productive conditions distributing the goods However the actual sequence and emphasis deriving from the diverse sub cultures can be quite differentiated The effects of the different mass media on social psychological and physical aspects Research survey that segments the people based on what television programs they watch radio they listen and magazines they read Media research makes use of scientific methods of research It aims at providing an objective unbiased evaluation of data First the research problem is identified and then a prescribed set of procedures of research is followed to investigate the problem Only thereafter comes report of the findings This book is more catered to readers who have no background on the media It is more informational than instructional It s great if you are looking into learning about how the media works per se but not if you are concerned about effectively positioning your products in the market
