So Glad We Waited A Hand Holding Guide For Over 35 Parents:

So Glad We Waited! Lois Nachamie, 2000 Discusses the issues and challenges older parents must face and offers practical advice for coping with a young child and middle age at the same time Ready Elizabeth Gregory, 2012-08-07 Over the past three decades skyrocketing numbers of women have chosen to start their families in their late thirties and early forties In 2005 ten times as many women had their first child between the ages of 35 and 39 as in 1975 and thirteen times as many had their first between 40 and 44 Women now have the option to define for themselves when they re ready for family rather than sticking to a schedule set by social convention As a society however we have yet to come to terms with the phenomenon of later motherhood and women who decide it makes sense for them to delay pregnancy often find themselves confronted with alarmist warnings about the dangers of waiting too long In Ready Elizabeth Gregory tracks the burgeoning trend of new later motherhood and demonstrates that for many women today waiting for family works best She provides compelling evidence of the benefits of having children later by birth or by adoption Gregory reveals that large numbers of women succeed in having children between 35 and 44 by the usual means one in seven kids born today has a mom in that age range and that many of those who don t succeed nonetheless find alternate routes to happy families via egg donation or adoption And they re glad they waited Without ignoring the complexities that older women may face in their quest to have children Gregory reveals the many advantages of waiting Stronger family focus Having achieved many of their personal and career goals new later moms feel ready to focus on family rather than trying to juggle priorities More financial power New later moms have established careers and make higher salaries Greater self confidence New later moms have more career experience and their management skills translate directly into managing a household and advocating for their children More stable single parenting New later moms who are single have more resources High marriage rate On average 85 percent of new later moms are married lending stability to the family structure Longer lives Evidence indicates that new later moms actually live longer than moms who start their families earlier Based on in depth interviews with more than 100 new later moms and extensive collateral research Ready shatters the myths surrounding later motherhood Drawing on both the statistical evidence and the voices of the new later mothers themselves Gregory delivers surprising and welcome news that will revolutionize the way we think about motherhood Inconceivable, 20th Anniversary Edition Julia Indichova, 2001-10-09 A memoir of hope for the thousands of women struggling with infertility from one who beat the odds by simply tuning in to her body and tapping her well of sheer determination At a time when more and more women are trying to get pregnant at increasingly advanced ages fertility specialists and homeopathic researchers boast endless treatment options But when Julia Indichova made the rounds of medical doctors and nontraditional healers she was still unable to conceive a child It was only when she forsook their financially and emotionally draining advice turning inward instead that she finally met with reproductive success Inconceivable recounts this journey from hopeless diagnoses to elated motherhood Anyone who has faced infertility will relate to Julia's desperate measures: acupuncture, unidentifiable black and white pellets, herb soup, foul smelling fruit, even making love on red sheets. Five reproductive endocrinologists told her that there was no documented case of anyone in her hormonal condition getting pregnant, forcing her to finally embark on her own intuitive regimen. After eight caffeine-free, nutrient-rich, yoga-laden months complemented by visualization exercises, Julia received amazing news: incredibly, she was pregnant. Nine months later, she gave birth to a healthy girl. Unlike the many infertility books that take a clinical how-to approach, Inconceivable simply professes the wisdom of giving expert status back to the patient. Julia's self-discovery and her ability to see her body as an ally once again yield a beautiful message about the importance of honoring the body's innate powers and the power of life itself. The Manhattan Directory of Private Nursery Schools, 7th Edition Victoria Goldman, 2012-05-08. This book marks an important contribution to the fascinating debate on the role that information infrastructures and boundary objects play in contemporary life, bringing to the fore the concern of how cooperation across different groups is enabled but also constrained by the material and immaterial objects connecting them. As such, the book itself is situated at the crossroads of various paths and genealogies, all focusing on the problem of the intersection between different levels of scale throughout devices, networks, and society. Information infrastructures allow, facilitate, mediate, saturate, and influence people's material and immaterial surroundings. They are often shaped and intertwined with networks of relations and distributed agency, sometimes enabling the existence of such networks and being in turn produced by them. Such infrastructures are not static and immobile in time and space; rather, they require maintenance and repair, which becomes an important aspect of their use. They also define and cross more or less visible boundaries, shape, and act as ecologies, and constitute themselves as multiple entities. The various chapters of this edited book question the role of information infrastructures in various settings, from both a theoretical and an empirical viewpoint, reflecting the contributors' interests in science and technology studies, organization studies, and information science, as well as mobilities and media studies. The Publishers Weekly, 2000. American Book Publishing Record, 2000. The Manhattan Directory of Private Nursery Schools Victoria Goldman, Marcy Braun, 2002-08.
