Social Change Gender And Violence Postcommunist And War Affected Societies:

Social Change, Gender and Violence Vesna Nikolic-Ristanovic, 2002-07-31 Social Change Gender and Violence explores the impact of transition from communism and war on the everyday life of women and men as well as the ways in which everyday life and gender related changes affect women's vulnerability to domestic violence and trafficking in women The book also explores the impact of micro level changes on the development of civil society women's movement and legal and policy changes regarding violence against women BOOK JACKET Social Change, Gender and Violence V. Nikolic-Ristanovic, 2013-04-17 Based on large research material collected in Hungary Macedonia Serbia and Bulgaria Social change Gender and Violence is the book which explores the impact of transition from communism and war on everyday life of women and men as well as the way how everyday life and gender related changes affect women's vulnerability to domestic violence and trafficking in women The book also explores the impact of micro level changes on development of civil society women's movement and legal and policy changes regarding violence against women This is a unique book which tries to look at violence against women as connected to oppression of both women and men It argues that violence against women in post communist and war affected societies is significantly connected to the increase of social stratification economic hardship unemployment instability uncertainty and related social stresses changes in gender identity and structural inequalities brought by new world order Using largely accounts of more than hundred interviewed people the author shows vividly how in post communist societies the contradictions of capitalism are interlaced with the mostly negative relics of communism Moreover the book shows how contradictory processes in post communist societies have led to a rather paradoxical result political pluralism and a capitalist economic system generated both violence against women and a women's movement albeit not the conditions for a reduction of violence Gender Politics and Security Discourse Laura McLeod, 2015-07-16 This book investigates competing modes of thought about gender security and aims to understand the policy implications of personal political imaginations The work draws upon extensive research conducted by the author in Serbia to develop a comprehensive picture of how feminist and women's organising relates to the broader national and international contexts surrounding gender security Through an innovative analytical framework of personal political imaginations the book explores the role that memories perceptions and hopes about conflict and post conflict have upon the logics of gender security It investigates how contrasting and competing modes of thought about gender security are made paying attention to how the dynamics of gender politics in Serbia shape the security discourse and narratives of activists The volume explores in detail how feminist and women's organisations have responded to UNSCR 1325 by analysing two policy debates and campaigns that seek to achieve its goals and gender security in Serbia 1 feminist antimilitarism and 2 connecting domestic violence to the abuse of small arms and light weapons Ultimately the book argues that the configuration of gender security discourse is intimately linked to personal political imaginations of conflict and post conflict This book will be of much interest to students

Jennifer Suchland, 2015-07-23 Recent human rights campaigns against sex trafficking have focused on individual victims treating trafficking as a criminal aberration in an otherwise just economic order In Economies of Violence Jennifer Suchland directly critiques these explanations and approaches as they obscure the reality that trafficking is symptomatic of complex economic and social dynamics and the economies of violence that sustain them Examining United Nations proceedings on women's rights issues government and NGO anti trafficking policies and campaigns by feminist activists Suchland contends that trafficking must be understood not solely as a criminal gendered and sexualized phenomenon but as operating within global systems of precarious labor neoliberalism and the transition from socialist to capitalist economies in the former Soviet Union and Eastern Bloc In shifting the focus away from individual victims and by underscoring trafficking's economic and social causes Suchland provides a foundation for building more robust methods for combatting human trafficking

Interpersonal Criminology K. Jaishankar, 2016-08-05 Based on peer reviewed articles from the Second International Conference of the South Asian Society of Criminology and Victimology Interpersonal Criminology investigates the roots of crime and victimization rather than dissecting criminal behavior after the fact The book divides crime by type covering crimes against women crimes against children and youths culture conflict and victimization of groups and interpersonal cybercrimes Perfect for criminal justice practitioners and advanced human rights criminology and victimology students Interpersonal Criminology explores the complexities of crime and interpersonal events in both established and emerging fields of criminology including those concerning women and minorities Women and Children as Victims and Offenders: Background, Prevention, Reintegration Helmut Kury, Sławomir Redo, Evelyn Shea, 2016-06-20 This work compiles experiences and lessons learned in meeting the unique needs of women and children regarding crime prevention and criminal justice in particular the treatment and social reintegration of offenders and serves as a cross disciplinary work for academic and policy making analyses and follow up in developing and developed countries Furthermore it argues for a more humane and effective approach to countering delinquency and crime among future generations In a world where development positively depends on the rule of law and the related investment security two global trends may chart the course of development urbanization and education Urbanization will globalize the concepts of justice and fairness education will be dominated by the urban mindset and digital service economy just as a culture of lawfulness will This work looks at crime prevention education as an investment in the sustainable quality of life of succeeding generations and at those who pursue such crime prevention as the providers of much needed skills in the educational portfolio Adopting a reformist approach this work collects articles with findings and recommendations that may be relevant to domestic and international policymaking including the United Nations Studies and their educational value for the welfare of coming generations The books address the relevant United Nations ideas by combining them with academic approaches Guided by the Editors respective fields of expertise and in full recognition of academic freedom and organized scepticism it includes contributions by lawyers criminologists sociologists and other eminent experts seeking to bridge the gap between academic and policy perspectives as appropriate against the international background including the United Nations developments The second volume opens with Part IV which presents articles on different kinds of crime prevention The effectiveness of punishment and in particular imprisonment is examined by contrasting it with alternative sanctions and the following questions are raised Does harsh punishment have a crime preventive effect What are the side effects of imprisonment on the offenders and their families Are alternatives such as restorative justice or mediation more effective and cheaper Part V outlines proactive strategies of crime prevention e g for potential sex offenders or in the domain of internet crime Part VI envisions a more peaceful and inclusive society which would be realized by improving the protection of women and children in their everyday life and easing the reintegration of those who have become offenders The importance of the role played by the UN in formulating these goals is underlined The volume concludes with an epilogue of the 70th President of the United Nations Economic and Social Council Martin Sajdik and a post scriptum of the editors p

Ethnic Conflict and War Crimes in the Balkans Jelena Obradovic, 2013-07-15 In the years following the fall of Slobodan Milosevic Serbian social cultural and political responses to the wars of the 1990s have fallen under intense scrutiny In Ethnic Conflict and War Crimes in the Balkans Jelena Obradovic Wochnik explores some of those responses taking into consideration notions such as silence denial and conspiracy theory the book sheds some light on the complicated narratives about the 1990s The book considers the experience of knowing witnessing and speaking about atrocities and thus contributes to the debates on confronting the past in Serbia Specifically it considers how individuals of the ordinary public in Serbia reflect upon understand and keep secrets about the 1991 1999 conflicts in Croatia Bosnia and Herzegovina and Kosovo and the atrocities human rights abuses and war crimes which were committed there Close attention is paid to the stories of individuals whose voices and experiences are generally excluded from the broader debate about the past Jelena Obradovic Wozniak explores how these narratives diverge from resist and are invisible to the formal and civil society initiatives aimed at confronting the past in Serbia In doing so the book also explores silence about and denial of the violent past and considers how and where these dynamics manifest and what they might mean In addition it covers themes such as narratives of self victimhood conspiracy theory and the perception of war time leaders and combatants This is a detailed and considered investigation into how groups cope with knowledge and the witnessing of violent pasts It is based on ethnographic research and interviews with a group of ordinary individuals in post Milosevic Serbia As such it provides a unique perspective on the lived experience of the conflicts and the ways in which stories of the 1990s emerge in everyday contexts

Regulation of Sexual Conduct in UN Peacekeeping Operations Olivera

Simic, 2012-05-25 This book critically examines the response of the United Nations UN to the problem of sexual exploitation in UN Peace Support Operations It assesses the Secretary General's Bulletin on Special Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Sexual Abuse 2003 SGB and its definition of sexual exploitation which includes sexual relationships and prostitution With reference to people affected by the policy using the example of Bosnian women and UN peacekeepers and taking account of both radical and sex positive feminist perspectives the book finds that the inclusion of consensual sexual relationships and prostitution in the definition of sexual exploitation is not tenable The book argues that the SGB is overprotective relies on negative gender and imperial stereotypes and is out of step with international human rights norms and gender equality It concludes that the SGB must be revised in consultation with those affected by it namely local women and peacekeepers and must fully respect their human rights and freedoms particularly the right to privacy and sexuality rights norms and values but the Covid 19 pandemic can serve as an example of how these norms and values are interpreted differently with regard to people's trust in public institutions governmental control strategies dealing with fear anxiety and other emotional responses to the new virus crime patterns and law enforcement priorities to prevent and combat them The volume provides empirical data based on available statistics media analysis and qualitative data from interviews and observations and examines the similarities and differences in crime patterns and the consequences for local communities and law enforcement priorities

Gendering the Nation-State Yasmeen Abu-Laban, 2009-01-01 Serious study of social and political life must attend to gender as a category of analysis Gendering the Nation State explores the gendered dimensions of a fundamental organizational unit in social and political science the nation state Yasmeen Abu Laban has drawn together work by both high profile and emerging scholars to rescue gender from the margins of theoretical discussions on the nation the state public policy and citizenship Contributors bring the insights of feminist analysis to bear on three relationships central to popular and policy discussions in contemporary Canada and beyond gender and nation gender and state processes and gender and citizenship Gendering the Nation State employs a comparative framework and builds on three decades of multidisciplinary work Nuanced and wide ranging the collection crosses and challenges physical theoretical and disciplinary borders It will appeal to scholars in political science gender studies and sociology

Large-Scale Victimisation as a Potential Source of Terrorist Activities U. Ewald, K. Turković, 2006-12-19 This publication presents a subject that is unfortunately as significant today as it was two years ago Sadly this continuing relevance seems to confirm the views of the German radical pacifist Kurt Tucholsky who stated in response to the atrocities and sufferings of WWI But men never ever learnt from history and they will not do so in the future Hic Rhodus Recent events in Iraq the Middle East East Timor or the Democratic Republic of Congo and possible links regarding issues of terrorism raise the question what criminological and victimological research offers in assisting to break vicious spirals of ignorance of gross human rights violations and the immense human sufferings in the context of armed conflicts and terrorism The answer to this question still remains open Yet this publication confirms the substantial willingness to learn from the past by critically reviewing large scale victimisation arising out of protracted conflicts in order to better understanding the necessary prerequisites for enduring peace making in post conflict societies and to anticipate and suggest approaches to healing victimising effects

Restoring Justice after Large-scale Violent Conflicts Ivo Aertsen, Jana Arsovska, Holger-C Rohne, Marta Valiñas, Kris Vanspauwen, 2013-05-13 This book provides a comparative analysis of the potential of restorative justice approaches to dealing with mass victimization in the context of large scale violent conflicts focusing on case studies from Kosovo Israel Palestine and Congo incorporating contributions from leading authorities in these areas One of the main objectives of the book is to examine if how and to what extent restorative justice is applicable in various different cultural social and historical contexts and what common themes can be identified within the different regions under analysis The book will also provide a critical analysis of the UN Basic Principles on the use of restorative justice programmes in criminal matters as applied to the context of large scale violence

The Geopolitics of the Cold War and Narratives of Inclusion K. Campbell, Rahila Gupta, 2025-07-17 In 1995 the UN vowed to advance equality development and peace for all women everywhere Instead in the Beijing Declaration s thirtieth anniversary year the world is lurching dangerously away from such democratic and progressive ideals reinventing nationalist identities based on toxic masculine values and embracing economic policies against women s interests This reality exists in every type of country Why does oppression rather than feminism still dominate our world This book reveals patriarchy s many faces in the age of globalisation exploring the political systems and cultures of eight very different societies It takes readers from the extraordinary anti capitalist women s revolution in Kurdistan to the theocracies of Islamic State and Saudi Arabia from China s one party state to Iceland s democracy and to South Africa Russia and El Salvador all radically changed since the fall of apartheid communism and military dictatorship respectively Despite patriarchy s remarkable shapeshifting powers to undermine feminist solidarity Planet Patriarchy is equally a story of sisterhood and resistance interviewing defenders of women s rights about their cause and their country Gender inequality endures everywhere but so does feminism Campbell and Gupta s fascinating discoveries show us how this timeless showdown is taking shape in and being shaped by the systems we live under today Magyars and Political

Discourses in the New Millennium Melinda Kovács, 2014-11-20 In this book Melinda Kovács analyzes various areas of Hungarian political discourse newspapers party websites informational books on the EU and government produced brochures sent to all households in Hungary The inquiry is supported by an understanding of politics as achieving and negotiating change in discourse which is not to be equated with simple language use In addition to language discourse also encompasses the meanings shared by members of a political community along with the conventions of what is possible or plausible in politics In the case of Hungary at the start of the twenty first century it is quite plausible to promote ethno nationalism and it is quite possible to understand Hungarian political community in terms of historical references different from or devoid of communism and post communism An exploration of discourses generated between 1999 and 2013 reveals that while political developments in recent years have been a cause for legitimate concern Hungarian political discourse has been making these developments plausible Social Work Field Education and Supervision Across Asia Pacific

Carolyn Noble, Mark Henrickson, 2011 The editors and contributors who are engaged in a broad array of professional interests hope that readers will find this book both inspiring and challenging as they teach and learn from each other across Asia Pacific Australian and NZ authors Transitional Justice and Reconciliation Martina Fischer, Olivera

Simic, 2015-11-06 Scholars and practitioners alike agree that somehow the past needs to be addressed in order to enable individuals and collectives to rebuild trust and relationships. However, they also continue to struggle with critical questions: When is the right moment to address the legacies of the past after violent conflict? How can societies address the past without deepening the pain that arises from memories related to the violence and crimes committed in war? How can cultures of remembrance be established that would include and acknowledge the victims of all sides involved in violent conflict? How can various actors deal constructively with different interpretations of facts and history? Two decades after the wars, societies in Bosnia, Serbia, and Croatia, albeit to different degrees, are still facing the legacies of the wars of the 1990s on a daily basis. Reconciliation between and within these societies remains a formidable challenge given that all three countries are still facing unresolved disputes, either at a cross-border level or amongst parallel societies that persist at a local community level. This book engages scholars and practitioners from the regions of former Yugoslavia as well as international experts to reflect on the achievements and obstacles that characterise efforts to deal with the past. Drawing variously on empirical studies, theoretical discussions, and practical experience, their contributions offer invaluable insights into the complex relationship between transitional justice and conflict transformation.

Citation Classics from Social Indicators Research Alex C. Michalos, 2005-11-24. Social Indicators Research: An International and Interdisciplinary Journal for Quality of Life Measurement was founded by Alex C. Michalos and published its first issue in March 1974. It has been the leading journal for scholarly research in its field for over thirty years. This volume is published in celebration of that record of accomplishment. The 19 articles assembled here are a selection drawn from the 34.24% most frequently cited articles in the journal's history. An introductory essay written by Michalos explains the historical and scientific importance of each article in the development of social indicators or quality of life research. It provides a rare overview of the perceived scientific problems that researchers around the world addressed in the first three decades of exploration as well as a view of some of the problems to be addressed in the future. A short essay describing the origins of the journal by its founder is also included. Anyone interested in having a single volume that contains some of the best research produced in this field will find this volume irresistible.
