Social Focus On Older People:

Social Work with Older People Ann McDonald, 2010-03-08 Social Work with Older People provides an authoritative and practical guide to working with older people in a range of settings. It addresses the complexities of individual work with older people as well as work with families, groups and the wider community and is not afraid to tackle the challenges as well as opportunities of practice in this area. The book begins by explaining the demographic changes that have led to a greying of the general population. It goes on to discuss the diversity in experiences of ageing across society and the range of issues which confront older people and those who wish to work proactively with them. Clear attention is paid to the processes of assessment, care planning and review with readers encouraged to reflect on developing good practice through case studies and exercises. Although it has a strong practical emphasis, the book also stresses the value of theoretical perspectives with insights from fields such as sociology and psychology woven throughout the book. Clear links are also made to policy guidelines and organizational standards without losing sight of the deeper, often more complex issues that arise when working with older people. Social Work with Older People will be essential reading for social work students and practitioners but also for others who are interested in the development of practice with older people as citizens and service users. The

Social World Of Older People: Understanding Loneliness And Social Isolation In Later Life Victor, Christina, Scambler, Sasha, Bond, John, 2008-12-01 Providing an account of loneliness and social isolation as experienced by older people living in Britain, this book considers the incidence and effects of isolation and loneliness, identifying the factors which lead to such experiences and considering potential interventions. Social Work with Older People Karin

Crawford, Janet Walker, 2008-08-08 This second edition looks in detail at the role of the social worker who engages with older people. It enables the reader to develop the key skills required to understand the mental and physical needs of older people in society while encouraging plenty of discussion and critical independent thought. Furthermore, this book is a source of contemporary research and offers the reader insights into government legislation and policy. It is an essential read for any student who wants to develop a distinctive focus on social work with older people. The European Union Social Policy on Older People in the Light of the Deinstitutionalisation of Social Services Wioletta Knapik, Magdalena Kowalska, Tomasz Masłyk, Danka Moravčíková, 2022-07-11 The authors propose a holistic look at the problem of population ageing and global and regional effort to improve the quality of seniors' life and their families through the integration of healthcare, social care and senior friendly environment. They also concentrate on the senior policy of the European Union and the concept of care farming against the backdrop of social farming. Finally, they present the results of the two largest studies under the GROWID project. They investigated older people's needs against the background of the social services provided by care farms. Social Work Practice with Older People Rory Lynch, 2013-11-13 Older people are the biggest service user group for social workers and an increasing proportion of the population. In this refreshingly positive and practical textbook

Rory Lynch draws on years of practice and teaching experience to show how to achieve best social work practice with older adults. He takes a person-centred approach which fosters respect by valuing the fact that elderly people have more lived experience than others. Exploring the key theoretical approaches and methods of intervention, this book helps social workers to identify, understand and facilitate their service users' wishes for well-being and a fulfilling older age. Chapters are practice-driven, containing case studies drawn from a range of care settings, reflective questions and exercises. Mapping directly onto the key modules on the social work degree, this is essential reading for all student social workers, especially as they prepare to go on their practice placement. It is also valuable reading for qualified social workers. Rory Lynch is Lecturer in Social Work at Robert Gordon University.

Critical Issues in Social Work With Older People Mo G. Ray, Miriam

Bernard, Judith Phillips, 2018-06-26. This timely text highlights the importance of informed and critical practice in social work with older people. With an emphasis on reflection throughout, it argues for the need to rethink how social workers support some of the most vulnerable people in society. The text begins with an exploration of the relationship between gerontology, the study of aging and social work, and demonstrates that a gerontological approach has long been missing from social work practice. The central chapters consider key issues affecting older people and social work practice, such as Risk of poverty, Memory loss and dementia, Palliative and end of life care, Loss and bereavement, Moving into a care home, Bringing together theoretical and research insights. This agenda-setting text provides a sound base for creative practice with older people. All those looking to make a positive and discernible difference to older people will find this text rewarding reading.

A Dictionary of Social Work and Social Care John Harris, Vicky White, 2013-01-24. This new dictionary provides A-Z definitions of terms from the broad field of social care. Accessible coverage of social work theories, methods, policies, organizations and statutes, as well as key terms from interdisciplinary topics such as health and education, make this an ideal reference for students as well as qualified social workers.

Older People: Improving Health and Social Care Bea L. Dijkman, Irma

Mikkonen, Petrie F. Roodbol, 2018-11-11. This contributed volume is based on the European Core Competences Framework for health and social care professionals working with older people (ECCF), developed and verified in a unique international cooperation between 26 universities and universities of applied sciences in 25 European countries, part of the European Later Life Active Network (ELLAN). In addition to the framework, the book outlines the necessary qualifications and describes the roles of professionals working with older people in health and social services. It explores healthy ageing for older people from different perspectives and describes the seven roles of health and social care professionals: Expert, Communicator, Collaborator, Organizer, Health and Welfare Advocate, Scholar, and Professional. Before going on to define 18 related competences and elaborating them in performance indicators, Beyond the ECCF, the book explains the widely used CanMED role model and puts forward theories to support a client-centered and integrated approach on health and social care in order to change attitudes toward older clients and offer better care and support. It also provides health and social care professionals for example nurses allied health professionals and social workers with new contextual information and cultural awareness It gives a voice to students by addressing selected perspectives for professional development The book includes questions for reflective learning helping to make the book a vital practical instrument for use in the educational context throughout Europe Europe s ageing populations represent a major challenge for both public health and social care systems 18% of the population is 65 years old and over and this proportion will increase in the coming years As a result more and more health and social care professionals will work with older people in different settings at home in the community in hospitals or in long term care settings Older people and especially the frail face a host of interrelated issues e g cognitive restrictions functional restrictions psychosocial problems multimorbidity polypharmacy and social isolation These problems call for an integrated approach to health and social care which this book supplies It is intended for health and social care professionals students and educators for a better understanding of Europe s ageing society and of the impact on care and services Furthermore the ECCF offers educational institutes a unique resource for curriculum development education training and assessment
