that categorization plays in both conflict and peace building To do so it draws leading scholars from across the world in a comprehensive exploration of social identity theory and its application to some of the world s most pressing problems such as intrastate conflict uprising in the middle east the refugee crisis global warming racism and peace building A crucial theme of the volume is that social identity theory affects all of us no matter whether we are currently in a state of conflict or one further along in the peace process The volume is organized into two sections Section 1 focuses on the development of social identity theory Grounded in the pioneering work of Dr Henri Tajfel section 1 provides the reader with a historical background of the theory as well as its current developments Then section 2 brings together a series of country case studies focusing on issues of identity across five continents This section enables cross cultural comparisons in terms of methodology and findings and encourages the reader to identify general applications of identity to the understanding of peace as well as applications that may be more relevant in specific contexts Taken together these two sections provide a contemporary and diverse account of the state of social identity research in conflict situations and peace psychology today It is evident that any account of peace requires an intricate understanding of identity both as a cause and consequence of conflict as well as a potential resource to be harnessed in the promotion and maintenance of peace Understanding Peace and Conflict Through Social Identity Theory Contemporary Global Perspectives aims to help achieve such an understanding and as such is a valuable resource to those studying peace and conflict psychologists sociologists anthropologists public policy makers and all those interested in the ways in which social identity impacts our world

Social Belongingness and Well-Being:
International Perspectives Dario Paez, Juan Carlos Oyanedel, 2021-10-18 Johannine Social Identity Formation after the Fall of the Jerusalem Temple Christopher A. Porter, 2021-10-25 In Johannine Social Identity Formation after the Fall of the Jerusalem Temple Christopher Porter reads the Fourth Gospel through the lens of social identity theory as means of reconciling the social dislocation and trauma of the destruction of the Jerusalem temple Analysing the Fourth Gospel in conversation with other temple removed texts of Qumran Philo and Josephus the gospel s intent to renegotiate cultic life without the temple can be seen Through this analysis it is argued that the Fourth Gospel primarily functions as an intra mural Jewish text attempting to negotiate the formation of a Jesus follower social identity in direct continuity with earlier Jewish shared social narratives Finally this work reviews the Johannine Community as an outcome of the Gospel identity formation “The Teaching of These Words”: Intertextuality, Social Identity, and Early Christianity, 2024-07-15 What does it mean for a group to speak of its identity and in contrast to speak about the other As with all groups early Christian communities underwent a process of identity formation and in this process intertextuality played a role The choice of biblical texts and imageries their reception and adaptation affected how early Christian communities perceived themselves Conversely how they perceived themselves affected which texts they were drawn to and how they read and received them The contributors to this volume examine how early Christian authors used Scripture and related texts and in turn how those texts shaped the identity of their communities Metaphors and Social Identity Formation in Paul's Letters to the Corinthians Kar Yong Lim, 2017-05-05 Why did Paul frequently employ a diverse range of metaphors in his letters to the Corinthians Was the choice of these metaphors a random act or a carefully crafted rhetorical strategy Did the use of metaphors shape the worldview and behavior of the Christ followers In this innovative work Kar Yong Lim draws upon Conceptual Metaphor Theory and Social Identity Theory to answer these questions Lim illustrates that Paul employs a cluster of metaphors namely sibling familial temple and body metaphors as cognitive tools that are central to how humans process information construct reality and shape group identity Carefully chosen these metaphors not only add colors to Paul's rhetorical strategy but also serve as a powerful tool of communication in shaping the thinking governing the behavior and constructing the social identity of the Corinthian Christ followers
