amassed throughout his 35 years experience as adviser to European institutions in the field of territorial and regional development The chapter on cities explains the emergence of the European urban hierarchy and the driving forces and inertia behind its evolution while a following chapter looks at the changing role of rural areas This material provides a historic overview of relevant policies and a discussion of future challenges The third chapter discusses evolving paradigms of regional economic development and their impact on European regions Next there is a chapter on the historical roots and current processes within territorial integration The book concludes with an examination of Europe s place in the world at large focussing particularly on globalization effects climate change and new energy paradigms which will present real challenges for decades to come The book is unique in its combination of in depth analysis of the evolution of European territorial policies and paradigms but also in its geographically comprehensive approach integrating the experience of both Western and Eastern Europe It will be of interest to academics and professionals within territorial development and spatial planning

Local Hospitals in Ancien RŽgime France Daniel Hickey,1997 At a time when governments are obsessed with cutting back the social network and encouraging private charities to fill the needs of the poor and the sick Daniel Hickey provides a timely look at retrenchment strategies in local hospitals in Ancien R gime France He explores two opposing campaigns to reform poor relief and aid to the sick attempts by the French Crown to centralize social services by eliminating local institutions and initiatives taken by the local population to revitalize those same institutions

Beer in East Asia Paul Chambers,Nithi Nuangjamnong,2023-03-17 Chambers Nuangjamnong and their contributors look at how the development of the beer industry in East Asia presents a unique opportunity for understanding the region s political economy Asia is both the world s largest beer consuming and beer producing region and the fastest growing beer market Per capita consumption is lower than Europe but catching up fast Beer consumption is also widely understood to correlate closely with economic growth and urbanization much more so than other alcoholic beverages like spirits With ten country case studies from both Northeast and Southeast Asia the contributors to this volume look at the history of beer production and consumption across East Asia through a lens of historical institutionalism and political economy In doing so they not only examine the development of the beer industry in the region but also what it tells us about the countries themselves They ask questions such as To what extent have state versus societal actors influenced the path of beer production How has beer production changed Was there a critical juncture at which beer production abruptly changed course A valuable resource for students and scholars of modern East Asian History and particularly those with a focus on colonial history industrial history and state society relations

Methods in Human-Animal Studies Annalisa Colombino,Heide K. Bruckner,2023-06-07 This timely book provides a methodological guide for how to conduct and theorise research in human animal studies In response to critiques of the anthropomorphic slant to human animal research and the increasing political relevance of animals in contemporary environmental debates this book emphasises methods which bring to light the animal side of multispecies encounters

Drawing from the interdisciplinary strength of human animal studies this book contains contributions from practitioners and scholars working in sociology anthropology ethology and geography Each chapter uses a case study approach to present a theoretical framework and empirical application of cutting edge methods in human animal studies from creative writing in multispecies ethnographies to visual methods like videography and body mapping Organized in three parts theorizing collaborating visualizing the book equips readers with methodological tools to conduct human animal studies research attentive to animal lives Furthermore chapters reflect on the opportunities limitations and ethical considerations of research that seeks to understand our more than human worlds The book is aimed towards undergraduate and graduate students in human animal studies and scholars investigating human animal relations It will also be of interest to practitioners and policy makers who engage with conservation wildlife management or the human animal interface of urban and regional planning

China's Peasant Agriculture and Rural Society Jan Douwe van der Ploeg, Jingzhong Ye, 2016-05-20 China's agriculture and rural society has undergone rapid changes in recent years Many poorer farmers and younger people have moved to cities and yet China has an immense challenge to feed a growing and more affluent population This book provides a bottom up view of China's agriculture showing how the many millions of Chinese peasants make a living It presents a vivid description of the mechanisms used by rural households to defend and sustain their livelihoods increase their agricultural production and improve the quality of their lives The authors examine the newly emerging trajectories of entrepreneurial and capitalist farming and assess whether such alternatives will be able to meet the enormous social economic and environmental challenges that China faces The book also explores the paradigm that has underpinned the organisation and development of China's agriculture from ancient times to the present day This shows the importance of balancing in the Chinese model as compared to the one sided imposition of continual modernization in the western model It is argued that such balancing is at the core of the current Sannong policy referring to the three ruralities of food sovereignty wellbeing for peasant households and an attractive countryside
