Society Law And Trade In Medieval Montpellier Variorum Collected Studies:

Society, Law, and Trade in Medieval Montpellier Kathryn Reyerson, 1995 Contains 9 studies in English and 3 studies in French In the 13th and 14th centuries Montpellier was one of the major urban centres of the Western Mediterranean This text shows how the city functioned and how the complexities of city life such as migration and real estate were regulated

War, Government, and Society in the Medieval Crown of Aragon Donald J. Kagay, 2024-10-28 The focus of this collection of articles by Donald J Kagay is the effect of the expansion of royal government on the societies of the medieval Crown of Aragon He shows how the extensive episodes of warfare during the 13th and 14th centuries served as a catalyst for the extension of the king's law and government across the varied topography and political landscape of eastern Spain In the long conflicts against Spanish Islam and neighbouring Christian states the relationships of royal to customary law of monarchical to aristocratic power and of Christian to Jewish and Muslim populations all became issues that marked the transition of the medieval Crown of Aragon to the early modern states of Catalonia Aragon and Valencia and finally to the modern Spanish nation

Ideas and Solidarities of the Medieval Laity Susan Reynolds, 2022-05-29 This book contains essays written over the past 25 years about medieval urban communities and about the loyalties and beliefs of medieval lay people in general Most writing about medieval religious political legal and social ideas starts from treatises written by academics and assumes that ideas trickled down from the clergy to the laity Susan Reynolds whether writing about the struggles for liberty of small English towns the national solidarities of the Anglo Saxons or the capacity of medieval peasants to formulate their own attitudes to religion rejects this assumption She suggests that the medieval laity had ideas of their own that deserve to be taken seriously

Inquisitions and Other Trial Procedures in the Medieval West H.A. Kelly, 2024-10-28 Inquisition was the new form of criminal procedure that was developed by the lawyer pope Innocent III and given definitive form at the Fourth Lateran Council of 1215 It has since developed a notoriety which has obscured the reality of the procedure and it is this that Professor Kelly is first concerned with here In contrast to the old Roman system of relying on a volunteer accuser prosecutor who would be punished in case of acquittal the inquisitorial judge himself served as investigator accuser prosecutor and final judge A probable cause requirement and other safeguards were put in place to protect the rights of the defendant but as time went on some of these defences were modified abused or ignored most notoriously among papally appointed heresy inquisitors but in all cases appeal and redress were at least theoretically possible Unlike continental practice in England inquisitorial procedure was mainly limited to the local church courts while on the secular side native procedures developed most notably a system of multiple investigators accusers judges known collectively as the jury Private accusers however were still to be seen illustrated here in the final pair of studies on appeals of sexual rape

Medieval Narbonne Jacqueline Caille, Kathryn L. Reyerson, 2023-06-14 This volume presents a series of studies by Jacqueline Caille acknowledged as the leading expert on medieval Narbonne which chart the development and history of the city from its

Roman origins to its decline in the late Middle Ages They focus on the period of Narbonne's heyday from the mid 11th to the mid 14th centuries and a central place is held by Ermengarde viscountess for half the 12th century and celebrated figure in the world of the troubadours The book opens with an important new introductory survey in English setting the context for the detailed studies which follow several of which also appear in English for the first time and all being updated with additional notes These articles cover the physical growth of the great medieval centre the relations and conflicts between its secular and ecclesiastical lords its administrative and religious life and its political and commercial connections with the areas around Ce volume regroupe une série d'études de Jacqueline Caille spécialiste reconnue de l'histoire de Narbonne au Moyen Age L'antique cité est présentée depuis ses origines romaines jusqu'à la fin du XVe siècle en insistant particulièrement sur la période la plus brillante des siècles médiévaux du milieu du XIe au milieu du XIVe siècle Le recueil s'ouvre par un long survol historique intitulé en anglais brossant le contexte général où se déroulent les études spécialisées qui suivent actualisées par des notes additionnelles Les principaux thèmes pouvant être dégagés de ces articles concernent le développement topographique de cette grande ville médiévale les relations et les conflits entre les seigneurs qui la dirigent archevêques et vicomtes la vie administrative et religieuse de l'agglomération ainsi que ses relations politiques et commerciales avec les régions environnantes Enfin une place de choix est faite à l'une des principales figures du monde des troubadours la vicomtresse

History and Family Traditions in England and the Continent, 1000-1200 E.M.C. van Houts, 2024-10-28 The Normans in France and England left a rich legacy in historiography and literature which is the subject of this volume Dr van Houts first deals with the Scandinavian inheritance which together with contacts with Danish England and Byzantium led to an interesting mix of pagan and ecclesiastical themes Next she analyses the propaganda that followed the Norman conquest of England in which the panegyrics written by French clerks eager to gain favour contrast markedly with the almost unanimous condemnation of William's actions on the Continent Included is the earliest history of the battle of Hastings written in England here published with a new English translation The last papers consider the role of women in the transmission of knowledge about the past in their families they passed on memories and their importance as commissioners readers and informants of chroniclers must also not be underestimated Ideology and Royal Power in Medieval France William Chester Jordan, 2024-10-28 Ideology and Royal Power is a collection of essays describing and assessing the ways in which royal publicists in medieval France conceived the authority of the crown especially with regard to protecting and defending its Christian subjects from their alleged enemies at home and abroad corrupt officials Jews particularly moneylenders heretics and Muslims A number of the essays also describe the execution of royal policies with respect to these groups and evaluate their impact both in terms of the groups affected and their influence on further developments in royal ideology A key figure is that of Louis IX Saint Louis r 1226-1270 Production and Consumption in the Low Countries, 13th-16th Centuries Raymond van Uytven, 2024-10-28 The subject of this volume is the relationship between production and consumption considered not only as the supply and demand sides of economic life but within the broader context of the societies of the Low Countries between the 12th and the 16th centuries Amongst the topics covered are the reality of the so called late medieval depression comparisons between the great merchant cities of Bruges and Antwerp and the actual importance of the trade in art and luxury goods One group of articles then looks in detail at the cloth industry which remained the mainstay of the region s wealth and the effects upon it of changes in technology and in fashion while the volume concludes with two studies specially translated from Dutch on wine and beer consumption Pour une histoire des Alpes, Moyen Age et Temps Modernes Jean-François Bergier, 2024-10-28 The Alps as Professor Bergier shows in this selection of his work should not be considered an impassable barrier nor an isolated region but rather as an integral part of the history of Europe The lowlanders typical view of the mountains as fearful heights to be crossed and the image of those who lived there as existing in a delicate balance with nature are part only of the story These articles are particularly concerned with transalpine traffic and the different routes it took in response to changing circumstances in the lands to south and north and with the exploitation and use of mountain resources A number aim also to identify the particularities of the mountain way of life and its social and political organisation Land and People in Late Medieval England Bruce M.S. Campbell, 2024-10-28 This is the third collection of articles by Bruce Campbell to appear in the Variorum series Late medieval England was an overwhelmingly rural society Never since has such a large proportion of the population lived in the countryside or relied so directly for its livelihood upon agriculture The lot of a majority of that population was always a hard one and never more so than during the first half of the 14th century when peasants competed with each other for ever scarcer land and work and a succession of major harvest failures jeopardised the survival of many Nevertheless experience varied considerably both during this era of mounting population pressure and the century and more of population decline and stagnation that followed the demographic disaster of the Black Death How well individual communities coped during these contrasting conditions of expansion and contraction owed much to the quality and composition of their natural resource endowment a good deal to their ability to take advantage of changing commercial opportunities and sometimes almost everything to how exposed they were to military conflict Always however much hinged upon how the twin feudal institutions of lordship and serfdom were mapped onto land and people via the manorial system These are the themes variously explored by the eight essays assembled in this volume which range from a case study of a single crowded Norfolk manor to a consideration of the broad and towards the end of the Middle Ages widening contrasts that persisted between North and South Pionniers du droit occidental au Moyen Age André Gouron, 2023-05-31 Pioneers seems fitting to Professor Gouron to describe the jurists civilists of the 12th century Latin West that were the bearers of a new science born in Bologna about 1100 Away from Bologna these pioneers were isolated scattered from Scotland to Styria or Catalonia and no more than one hundred can now be identified These people and their manuscripts and the relationships between them are the subject of this collection the fifth in the Variorum series by Andr Gouon himself to be regarded as a pioneer in this field of research This volume brings together twenty two studies which have appeared since 1997 in widely scattered publications often hard to access along with additional notes and indexes Merchant Families, Banking and Money in Medieval Lucca Thomas W. Blomquist, 2024-10-28 This volume brings together a series of studies by Professor Blomquist on the evolution of banking in Lucca from the 12th and 13th centuries They describe how the leading bankers operated how they invested and how they pursued their family interests In particular they trace the transformation of money changers or cambiosores into deposit and transfer bankers who deployed their capital in trading ventures as well as in banking Moreover the author shows how Lucchese merchant bankers expanded their operations from Italy first to the fairs of Champagne and ultimately to all of Europe s major commercial centres Special attention is given to the use of the exchange contract or cambium as an instrument of credit and of transfer Problems of coinage and foreign exchange are also treated extensively including the origins of the Tuscan grossi and the Lucchese gold groat The collection concludes with a study of the cloth trade and another concerning the first consuls in Lucca Markets, Trade and Economic Development in England and Europe,

1050-1550 Richard Britnell, 2023-05-31 England s economy between 1050 and 1550 mirrored that of much of continental Europe in its growing dependence upon trade over both short distances and long The essays in this collection are the fruit of forty years of research into the complex and interrelated issues involved Describing this change can be achieved in part through quantitative indices such as the number and size of towns markets and fairs and the volume of monetary circulation A full account also requires a discussion of widespread changes of work experience customary practices and moral values as households became more dependent upon markets In addition the evidence of transformative commercial growth in the medieval period gives rise to numerous questions concerning its relationship to more modern times Modern economic growth and modern capitalism have often been contrasted starkly with medieval economic stagnation and traditionalism but recent research implies a more continuous process of economic development than that implied by these older stereotypes Many of the items in this collection are also relevant to this more discursive aspect of medieval commercialisation The Frankish Kings and Culture in the Early Middle Ages Rosamond McKitterick, 1995 These 14 studies explore the implications of manuscript studies examining the relationship between the church and the secular world cover the phenomena of royal patronage and its manifestations discuss aspects of literacy and orality of the period and cover 10th century culture

Limits of Thought and Power in Medieval Europe Edward Peters, 2001 The essays in this volume constitute a series of investigations into the limitations on thought and power as conceived by thinkers in the medieval West and they draw on material ranging from law to literature The author deals with limits on the human desire for knowledge the passion with which knowledge could legitimately be pursued and the propriety of the knowledge sought as well as the limits that might be tolerable and tolerated in the case of royal incapacity or misbehaviour One particular focus is the work of Dante Alighieri and these ideas are traced across a wide range of his thought Chronologically the essays run from Augustine and the Gnostics through to Shakespeare

Alfonso X, the Cortes, and Government in Medieval Spain Joseph F. O'Callaghan,1998 The studies included in this volume written over a period of nearly thirty years deal principally with two major themes namely the reign of Alfonso X el Sabio 1252-84 one of the great kings of medieval Spain and the development of the cortes of Castile Le n a characteristic example of the emergence of European representative parliamentary institutions An introductory study describes the integration of medieval Spain into western Europe in the late eleventh century

Portugal, Spain, and the African Atlantic, 1343-1490 Peter Edward Russell,1995 This collection consists of 17 studies on 14th and 15th century historical topics The topics include the English political diplomatic and military interventions in the affairs of the peninsular kingdoms and the maritime expansion of Portugal in the African Atlantic

Women's Networks of Spiritual Promotion in the Peninsular Kingdoms (13th-16th Centuries) AA. VV.,2013-09-11T00:00:00+02:00 The starting point for this research is the ascertainment of a major change in the spirituality paradigm of the last centuries of the European Middle Ages which since the 13th century results in a new and final interpretation focused on pauperistic evangelical and apostolic ideals of the religious phenomenon This symbolic revolution which completely changed parameters and involved both men and women entailed an intense urbanisation and feminisation of spirituality Within that general framework the pages of this book attempt at investigating the penetration evolution and changes of the new forms of female monastic and religious life in a delimited space and time the kingdoms of the Iberian Peninsula during the period from the 13th to the 16th century trying to establish the connection between those new spaces of female spirituality and the strategies wishes and potentialities of the women who promoted their creation strengthening or reform

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1995

State-building in Medieval France Bernard S. Bachrach,1995 The 12 articles reprinted here represent key studies in the process by which the stirpes Tortulfi created a great dynasty and built a successful state in Francia Occidentalis The early history of the Agenvin dynasty building is lightly sketched while showing how a family passes first into the aristocracy and then into the nobility Studies 3 to 11 cover the process of state building studies 9 and 11 cover economic matters and diplomatic military religious and intellectual techniques are explored in studies 5 7 9 and 10
