Cottrell-Sundevall,Ragnheiður Kristjánsdóttir,2024-11-02 This open access book examines disenfranchisement and voting barriers in ten self governing and aspiring liberal democracies worldwide before and after the introduction of so called universal suffrage Focusing on economic voting restrictions implemented through constitutional provisions and laws it explores the various disqualifications that prevent people from voting The notions of economic independence underpinning these restrictions have built and reinforced societal structures and power relations particularly concerning class gender race civil status age and education Historically voting rights have been celebrated as a symbol of inclusivity and equal citizenship Yet as contributors in this collection highlight recent centennial celebrations of universal suffrage often depict it as a distinct milestone overshadowing the voting restrictions that persisted post women s suffrage As democracy now faces new concerted challenges there is a compelling reason to revisit and question the narrative of the progression of democratic ideals Charity and Social Welfare Leen Van Molle,2017-03-21 How churches in Northern Europe reinvented their role as providers of social relief Charity is a word that fits well in the history of religion and churches whereas the concept of social reform seems to belong more to the vocabulary of the modern welfare states Christian charity found itself during the long nineteenth century within the maelstrom of social turmoil In this context of social unrest although charity managed to confirm its relevance it was also subjected to fierce criticism as well as to substitute state run forms of social care and insurance The history of the welfare states remained all too blind to religion This fourth volume in the series Dynamics of Religious Reform unravels how the churches in Britain and Ireland Denmark Sweden and Norway Germany the Netherlands and Belgium shaped and adjusted their understanding of poverty It reveals how they struggled with the social question and often also with the modern nation states to which they belonged Either in the periphery of public assistance or in a dynamic interplay with the state political parties and society at large the churches reinvented their tradition as providers of social relief Contributors Andreas Holzem Universit t T bingen D ire Keogh St Patrick s College Dublin City University Frances Knight The University of Nottingham Nina Koefoed Aarhus Universitet Katharina Kunter Germany Bernhard Schneider Universit t Trier Aud V T nnessen Universitetet Oslo Annelies van Heijst Tilburg University H D van Leeuwen and M H D van Leeuwen Universiteit Utrecht Leen Van Molle KU Leuven
