Subramaniam, 1990-06-26 This multiauthor reference handbook gives a detailed objective picture of the evolution structure and processes of public administration in representative Third World countries Written by an international group of specialists with first hand knowledge of the subject it presents empirical studies of developing nations in Asia the Middle East North and Sub Saharan Africa the West Indies and Latin America The resulting data are shaped by the editor into a theoretical framework delineating the complex relationships of state bureaucracy and class in the Third World Subramaniam s introduction provides a critical overview of development literature in the field Each case study begins with an historical introduction and discusses the political executive and the administrative structures and processes Among the specific topics covered are public enterprises administrative departments personnel financial administration and regional and local administrative units The majority of the systems studied are affected by the unregulated power of public enterprises the persistence of colonial legacies and the elitism of the bureaucracy The concluding section relates these common elements to the sociohistorical characteristics of the middle class groups that dominate both politics and public administration Offering new research findings and a useful theoretical synthesis this study will promote a clearer understanding of the internal political processes of Third World nations and be of compelling interest to specialists and students concerned with Third World political economy comparative government and international political economy
