Studies Voltaire 18th Century Volume 380:

From Savage to Citizen Amy S. Wyngaard, 2004 Using methodologies derived from cultural studies new historicism and the history of ideas Amy S Wyngaard argues that changing ideas of individual class and national identity in the eighteenth century were elaborated around portrayals of the peasant BOOK JACKET The Ruins of the Most Beautiful Monuments of Greece David Le Roy, 2004 The striking engravings of Julien David Le Roy's The Ruins of the Most Beautiful Monuments of Greece 1758 first revealed the architectural wonders of ancient Athens to the West Part architectural theory part archaeological report part travelogue the greatly expanded edition of 1770 here translated into English is entirely original in its understanding of the spirit of classical Greek architecture and in its influence on the direction of contemporary architectural creation Book jacket The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature, 3 Volume Set Frederick Burwick, Nancy Moore Goslee, Diane Long Hoeveler, 2012-01-30 The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature is an authoritative three volume reference work that covers British artistic literary and intellectual movements between 1780 and 1830 within the context of European transatlantic and colonial historical and cultural interaction Comprises over 275 entries ranging from 1 000 to 6 500 words arranged in A Z format across three fully cross referenced volumes Written by an international cast of leading and emerging scholars Entries explore genre development in prose poetry and drama of the Romantic period key authors and their works and key themes Also available online as part of the Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Literature providing 24 7 access and powerful searching browsing and cross referencing capabilities Choosing Terror Marisa Linton, 2015-06-04 Choosing Terror Virtue Friendship and Authenticity in the French Revolution examines the leaders of the French Revolution Robespierre and his fellow Jacobins and particularly the gradual process whereby many of them came to choose terror These men led the Jacobin Club between 1789 and 1794 and were attempting to establish new democratic politics in France Exploring revolutionary politics through the eyes of these leaders and against a political backdrop of a series of traumatic events wars and betrayals Marisa Linton portrays the Jacobins as complex human beings who were influenced by emotions and personal loyalties as well as by their revolutionary ideology The Jacobin leaders entire political careers were constrained by their need to be seen by their supporters as men of virtue free from corruption and ambition and concerned only with the public good In the early stages of the Revolution being seen as men of virtue empowered the Jacobin leaders and aided them in their efforts to forge their political careers However with the onset of war there was a growing conviction that political leaders who feigned virtue were the enemy within secretly conspiring with France's external enemies By Year Two the year of the Terror the Jacobin identity had become a destructive force in order to demonstrate their own authenticity they had to be seen to act virtuously and be prepared if the public good demanded it to denounce and destroy their friends and even to sacrifice their own lives This desperate thinking resulted in the politicians terror one of the most ruthless of all forms of terror during the Revolution Choosing Terror seeks neither to cast blame nor to exonerate but to understand the process

c.1700-c.1870 Maurice Crosland, 2023-05-31 This second collection of studies by Maurice Crosland has as a first theme the differences in the style and organisation of scientific activity in Britain and France in the 18th and early 19th centuries. Science was more closely controlled in France notably by the Paris Academy of Sciences and the work of provincial amateurs much less prominent than in Britain. The most dramatic change in any branch of science during this period was in chemistry largely through the work of Lavoisier and his colleagues the focus of several articles here and the dominance of this group caused considerable resentment outside France not least by Joseph Priestley. The issue of authority in science emerges again within France under the rule of Napoleon in a study of the exceptional power exercised by the great mathematician Laplace both in theoretical science and in academic politics. This exploration of organisation and power is complemented by a comparative study of the practice of early physics and chemistry and their different reliance on laboratories. This raises the question of whether chemistry provided a model for later experimental work in other sciences both through the construction of pioneering laboratories and in establishing early schools of research. The Sum of All Heresies Frederick Quinn, 2008. Quinn traces the Western image of Islam from its earliest days to recent times. It establishes four basic themes around which the image of Islam gravitates throughout history in this portrayal of Islam in literature art music and popular culture.
