Studio Potter:

Studio Potter, 1999 Studio Pottery Frederick Hurten Rhead, 1910 British Studio Potters' Marks Eric Yates-Owen, Robert Fournier, 2016-03-31 This new edition of Eric Yates Owen and Robert Fournier's classic book on British studio potters' marks contains new and revised entries for many potters with up to date information about the artists' styles, marks, and addresses. Entries are arranged alphabetically with each entry giving biographical data, information on the type of ceramics produced, the location of the pottery, and dates indicating when marks have changed, as well as images of the different marks used. Three useful indexes enable the reader to search by mark rather than maker in various categories such as creatures, monograms, and signs. Revised by expert collector James Hazlewood. British Studio Potters' Marks third edition is the essential reference guide for collectors of British studio pottery.

The Potter, 1916 A Potter's Companion Ronald Larsen, 1993 A collection of literature, essays, stories, poems about the fascinating history, aesthetics, and philosophy behind making pots or any other works by hand.

American Studio Ceramics Martha Drexler Lynn, 2015-01-01 A landmark survey of the formative years of American studio ceramics and the constellation of people, institutions, and events that propelled it from craft to fine art.

Live Form Jenni Sorkin, 2016-07-26 Ceramics had a far-reaching impact in the second half of the twentieth century as its artists worked through the same ideas regarding abstraction and form as those for other creative mediums. Live Form shines new light on the relation of ceramics to the artistic avant-garde by looking at the central role of women in the field: potters who popularized ceramics as they worked with or taught male counterparts like John Cage, Peter Voulkos, and Ken Price. Sorkin focuses on three Americans who promoted ceramics as an advanced artistic medium: Marguerite Wildenhain, a Bauhaus-trained potter and writer; Mary Caroline M. C. Richards, who renounced formalism at Black Mountain College to pursue new performative methods; and Susan Peterson, best known for her live throwing demonstrations on public television. Together, these women pioneered a hands-on teaching style and led educational and therapeutic activities for war veterans, students, the elderly, and many others. Far from being an isolated field, ceramics offered a sense of community and social engagement which Sorkin argues crucially set the stage for later participatory forms of art and feminist collectivism.
