Tal Como Eramos:

Tal como éramos Guido Barbujani,2023-03-30 Tal como ramos relata con rigor y amenidad divulgativa una historia de la evolución humana abarcando varios millones de años y combinando información textual y visual porque como dice el autor lo importante es verse las caras Cada capítulo comienza con un rostro una reconstrucción hiperrealista de catorce miembros de la genealogía humana más Charles Darwin el homo sapiens que comenzó este largo camino de descubrimiento de nuestros orgenes Mirar a los ojos de nuestros antepasados remotos y no tan remotos es la mejor manera de adentrarse en el conocimiento de su estilo de vida sus orgenes sus relaciones sus migraciones y descubrir cuántas cosas compartimos con ellos desde el miedo a la muerte hasta la obsesión por proteger a las crías y la necesidad de alimentarse y guarecerse del frío

Cultivating Nature Sarah R. Hamilton,2018-04-15 Winner of the 2019 Turku Book Award from the European Society for Environmental History The Albufera Natural Park an area ten kilometers south of Valencia that is widely regarded as the birthplace of paella has long been prized by residents and visitors alike Since the twentieth century the disparate visions of city dwellers farmers fishermen scientists politicians and tourists have made this working landscape a site of ongoing conflict over environmental conservation in Europe the future of Spain and Valencian identity In Cultivating Nature Sarah Hamilton explores the Albufera's contested lands and waters which have supported and been transformed by human activity for a millennium in order to understand regional national and global social histories She argues that efforts to preserve biological and cultural diversity must incorporate the interests of those who live within heavily modified and long exploited ecosystems such as the Albufera de Valencia Shifting between local struggles and global debates this fascinating environmental history reveals how Franco's dictatorship Spain's integration with Europe and the crisis in European agriculture have shaped the Albufera its users and its inhabitants

Spatiality at the Periphery in European Literatures and Visual Arts Kathryn Everly, Stefano Giannini, Karina von Tippelskirch, 2023-06-12 Spatiality at the Periphery in European Literatures and Visual Arts analyzes the impact migrations both internal and external have on Europe's literary and visual representations in the nineteenth to twenty-first centuries. The volume aims to subvert a centripetal reading of European cultural production by including peripheral thinkers, writers, and visual artists operating in transcultural contexts. The essays highlight and investigate the fertile artistic discourses generated in the spatial peripheries outside of Europe or its inner peripheries. The volume addresses the need for geocritical readings that overcome the engrained dichotomy of centers/peripheries. By doing so, the book brings a more nuanced approach to national literatures and proposes the idea of contact zones of imaginative interaction.

New Journeys in Iberian Studies Mark Gant, Anneliese Hatton, Paco Ruzzante, 2018-07-27 The research collected in this volume consists of 18 chapters which explore a number of key areas of investigation in contemporary Iberian studies. As the title suggests, there is a strong emphasis on transnational and transregional approaches to the subject area, reflecting current discourse and scholarship, but the contributions are not limited by these approaches and include an eclectic range of recent work by scholars of history, politics, literature, the visual arts, and cultural and social studies, often working in transdisciplinary ways. The geographical scope of the transnational processes considered ranges from intra-Iberian interconnections to those with the UK, Italy, and Morocco, as well as transatlantic influences between the Peninsula and Argentina, Cuba, and Brazil. The book opens up some pioneering new directions in research in Iberian studies, as well as a variety of fresh approaches to hitherto neglected aspects of more familiar issues.
