Where "Indians" Fear to Tread? Fabienne C. Quennet, 2001 The two fields of contemporary Native American literature and culture exist in the tension between two literary traditions the Native oral and literary tradition and the modern Western mainstream literary influence In her North Dakota quartet Love Medicine 1984 The Beet Queen 1986 Tracks 1988 The Bingo Palace 1994 Native American mixedblood author Louise Erdrich b 1954 exemplifies where and how these traditions meet and interact A postmodern reading of the quartet shows that Native American authors and literary critics alike need not be afraid to tread into postmodernism since an interpretation from this perspective opens up the possibility of freeing Native American literature from the limiting label of ethnic or minority literature and of establishing it as a vital part of American literature This postmodern interpretation of Louise Erdrich's quartet offers a discussion of the theoretical issues involved in the context of ethnic writing and its relation to postmodernism as well as an analysis of her intricate narrative strategies in particular her use of multiple perspectives and of intertextual techniques The main part of the interpretation consists of a reading of postmodern concepts such as magical realism carnivalesque humor the relationship between reader and text gender roles and sexual identities history and textuality the trickster figure and games and chance as can be found in Louise Erdrich's North Dakota quartet Ethnic American Literature Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2015-02-17 Unlike any other book of its kind this volume celebrates published works from a broad range of American ethnic groups not often featured in the typical canon of literature This culturally rich encyclopedia contains 160 alphabetically arranged entries on African American Asian American Latino and Native American literary traditions among others The book introduces the uniquely American mosaic of multicultural literature by chronicling the achievements of American writers of non European descent and highlighting the ethnic diversity of works from the colonial era to the present The work features engaging topics like the civil rights movement bilingualism assimilation and border narratives Entries provide historical overviews of literary periods along with profiles of major authors and great works including Toni Morrison Maxine Hong Kingston Maya Angelou Sherman Alexie A Raisin in the Sun American Born Chinese and The House on Mango Street The book also provides concise overviews of genres not often featured in textbooks like the Chinese American novel African American young adult literature Mexican American autobiography and Cuban American poetry Native American Writers Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2010 Presents a collection of critical essays analyzing modern Native American writers including Joy Harjo Louise Erdrich James Welch and more American Literature
