

The background is a reproduction of an ancient Egyptian wall painting. It features several registers. The top register shows a row of 12 small figures, likely deities or spirits, each with a unique headdress. Below this, two larger figures are seated on chairs, facing each other. They are wearing long, light-colored robes and have dark, curly hair. They appear to be holding small objects or tools. To their right is a tall, yellow, ribbed structure, possibly a column or a part of a temple. The bottom register shows a figure in a white robe standing and holding a staff or scepter. Below that, another figure is shown in a more dynamic pose, possibly performing a ritual or dance. The entire scene is framed by vertical lines and filled with hieroglyphs. The color palette is dominated by earthy tones like ochre, brown, and yellow, with some blue and green accents.

the textual history of a number of fairy tale clusters linking the findings of literary historians on the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries to the material collected by nineteenth and twentieth century field workers While it places fairy tales as a genre firmly in a European context it also follows particular stories in their dispersion over the rest of the world

Pyramids and Literature in Ancient Egypt Asher Benowitz, DTTV Publications, Pyramids have been around for thousands of years but we still don't know exactly how they were built. The oldest pyramids are found at Giza and Saqqara. The Great Pyramid at Giza is one of the Seven Wonders of the World and was built during the fourth dynasty, 2575-2150 BC. During this time, there was also an increase in writing, literature, and artisanship. The Westcar Papyrus tells us of three royal women who lived during the 4th dynasty: Khufu's mother, Henutsen, his wife Hetepheres I, and her sister Meresankh II. The latter was also his daughter-in-law because she married his son Khafre, who ruled 2558-2532 BC. She may have been buried inside this pyramid when she died at age 26. The first hieroglyphic text was written on papyrus in about 3100 BC. It is from a chapter from The Book Of Journey To Heaven, called book 6, which describes how Ra travels with Thoth as they visit each nome district throughout Egypt during a period called the Festival Of Night, where they praise Osiris while traveling through space towards his underworld kingdom every year at midnight, between June 21st-22nd and July 21st-22nd, when Orion rises as Sirius sets below it, just before dawn on these days known later as Dog Days, because dogs often suffer heat exhaustion then too due to lack of moisture caused by intense sunlight reflecting off asphalt surfaces like sidewalks or blacktop parking lots, heating up too much due to all that reflected energy bouncing back into our faces, which makes us sweat, which causes dehydration if we don't drink enough water.

Egyptian Magic Maarten J. Raven, 2012. The ancient Egyptians were firmly convinced of the importance of magic, which was both a source of supernatural wisdom and a means of affecting one's own fate. The gods themselves used it for creating the world, granting mankind magical powers as an aid to the struggle for existence Magic formed a link between human beings gods and the dead Magicians were the indispensable guardians of the god given cosmic order learned scholars who were always searching for the Magic Book of Thoth which could explain the wonders of nature Egyptian Magic illustrated with wonderful and mysterious objects from European and Egyptian museum collections describes how Egyptian sorcerers used their craft to protect the weakest members of society to support the gods in their fight against evil and to imbue the dead with immortality and explores the arcane systems and traditions of the occult that governed this well organized universe of ancient Egypt

Against the Gods John D. Currid,2013 What is the relationship between the Old Testament and ancient Near Eastern mythology Currid examines the evidence arguing that the Old Testament is highly polemical as he stresses differentiation over continuity
