By exploring central ideas in neuroscience evolutionary biology linguistics music philosophy ethics religion and history Williams shows that it is the circuitry of the brain's hard wired dispositions that continually create similar tales around the world archetypal stories reflecting ancient tensions that arose from our evolutionary past and the very construction of our brains The book asserts that to truly understand literature one must look at the biological creature creating it By using the lens of science to examine literature we can see how stories reveal universal aspects of the biological mind The Trickster character is particularly instructive as an archetypal character who embodies a raft of human traits and concerns for Trickster is often god devil musical sexual silver tongued animal and human at once treading upon the moral dictates of culture Williams brings together science and the humanities demonstrating a critical way of approaching literature that incorporates scientific thought

Ten Traditional Tellers Margaret Read MacDonald, 2006 In this unique collection of stories and personal interviews folklorist Margaret Read MacDonald examines storytelling through the distinct voices of the tellers themselves Ten Traditional Tellers offers an intimate look at their lives and art as they discuss their reasons for telling their uses of the stories and the influence of their cultural heritage Coming from places such as Ghana Brazil and Thailand the tellers include colorful characters like Vi Hilbert a member of the Upper Skagit tribe who continues to work despite near blindness and Rinjing Dorje whose bawdy shepherd's tales shock his audiences and validate his identity in a western culture that expects piety from Tibetans In addition to the interviews the book also includes brief introductions for each teller and one or two of their representative stories

The Trickster and the System Helena Bassil-Morozow, 2014-09-25 For centuries the trickster has been used in various narratives including mythological literary and cinematic to convey the idea of agency rebellion and often turbulent progress In The Trickster and the System Identity and Agency in Contemporary Society Helena Bassil Morozow shows how the trickster can be seen as a metaphor to describe the psycho anthropological concept of change an impulse that challenges the existing order of things a progressive force that is a structural and anti structural in its nature The book is about being able to see things from an unusual even odd perspective which does not coincide with the homogenous normality of the mass or the social system or a political ideology or some other kind of authority The Trickster and the System offers an analytical paradigm which can be used to examine relationships between tricksters and systems change and stability in a wide range of social political and cultural contexts It covers a range of systems describes different types of tricksters and discusses possible conflicts tensions and dialogues between the two opposing sides One of the central ideas of the book is that social systems use shame as a tool to control and manage all kinds of tricksters individuality agency creativity spontaneity innovation and initiative to name but a few The author argues that any society that neglects its tricksters agents of change ends up suffering from decay stagnation or even mass hysterical outbursts The Trickster and the System Identity and Agency in Contemporary Society provides a fresh perspective on the trickster figure in a variety of cultural contexts It covers a range of psychological cultural social and political phenomena from personal issues to the highest level of society's functioning self-esteem and shame lifestyle and relationships creativity and self-expression media advertising economy political ideology and most importantly human identity and authenticity The book is essential reading for scholars in the areas of psychoanalysis analytical psychology myth cultural and media studies narrative analysis cultural anthropology as well as anyone interested in critical issues in contemporary culture Helena Bassil Morozow is a cultural philosopher film scholar and academic writer whose many publications include Tim Burton The Monster and the Crowd Routledge 2010 and The Trickster in Contemporary Film Routledge 2011 Helena is currently working on another Routledge project Jungian Film Studies the Essential Guide co-authored with Luke Hockley Her principal academic affiliation is the University of Bedfordshire Faculty of Creative Arts Technologies Science

The Bedtrick Wendy Doniger, 2022-08-22 Somehow I woke up one day and found myself in bed with a stranger Meant literally or figuratively this statement describes one of the best known plots in world mythology and popular storytelling In a tour that runs from Shakespeare to Hollywood and from Abraham Lincoln to Casanova the erudite and irrepressible Wendy Doniger shows us the variety danger and allure of the bedtrick or what it means to wake up with a stranger The Bedtrick brings together hundreds of stories from all over the world from the earliest recorded Hindu and Hebrew texts to the latest item in the Weekly World News to show the hilariously convoluted sexual scrapes that people manage to get themselves into and out of Here you will find wives who accidentally commit adultery with their own husbands You will read Lincoln's truly terrible poem about a bedtrick You will learn that in Hong Kong the film The Crying Game was retitled Oh No My Girlfriend Has a Penis And that President Clinton was not the first man to be identified by an idiosyncratic organ At the bottom of these wonderful stories ancient myths and historical anecdotes lie the dynamics of sex and gender power and identity Why can't people tell the difference in the dark Can love always tell the difference between one lover and another And what kind of truth does sex tell Funny sexy and engaging The Bedtrick is a masterful work of energetic storytelling and dazzling scholarship Give it to your spouse and your lover

Philosophy, Religious Studies, and Myth Robert A. Segal, 2014-07-16 Much of the theorizing about myth in philosophy and religious studies grows out of efforts to understand the classics and the Bible In the case of the classics the presence of myth has been taken for granted and conclusions reached about Greek and Roman mythology have spurred generalizations about myth In the case of the Bible however the existence of myth has been contested In fact Judaism and Christianity are regularly praised for their nonmythic outlook Conclusions reached about the presence or absence of myth in either the Hebrew Bible or the New Testament have led to generalizations about myth per se Many of the essays in this volume apply theories of myth to classical biblical and ancient Near Eastern cases but in so doing they draw conclusions about the nature of myth itself Those essays that criticize past applications make generalizations as well By no means has all theorizing about myth from philosophy and religious studies centered on the ancient world and this volume contains selections from theories in both disciplines that stem from reflections on the nature of science language knowledge and reality The Renegade Monk of Tibet Rinjing Dorje, 2005
