

A Talisman

*Under a splintered mast,
Torn from the ship and cast
Near her hull,
"A stumbling shepherd found
Embedded in the ground,
A sea-gull
"Of lapis lazuli,
A scarab of the sea,
With wings spread-
"Curling its coral feet,
Parting its beak to greet
Men long dead.*

Excerpt from The Talisman and Other Poems

Invocation

With no fond sickly thirst for fame I kneel
 O goddess of the high born art to thee
 Not unto thee with semblance of a zeal
 I come O pure and heaven eyed Poesy
 Though art to me a spirit and a love
 Felt ever from the time when first the earth
 In its green beauty and the sky above
 Informed my soul with joy too deep for mirth
 I was a child of thine before my tongue
 Could lisp its infant utterance unto thee
 And now albeit from my harp are flung Discordant numbers and the song may be
 That which I would not yet I know that thou
 The offering will not spurn while unto thee I bow

Notational Experiments in North American Long Poems, 1961-2011

A. J. Carruthers, 2017-01-28

This book is a critical experiment that tracks the literary and poetic uses of musical notation and notational methods in North American long poems from the middle of last century to the contemporary moment

Poets have readily referred to their poems as scores

Yet in this study Carruthers argues that the integration of musical scores in expansive works of this period does more work than previously thought offering both resolution and escape from the demands placed on long poem form

The five case studies on Langston Hughes Armand Schwerner BpNichol Joan Retallack and Anne Waldman offer approaches to reading literary scores in what might be described as a critical stave or a critical fugue of instances

In differing ways musical notation and notational methods impact the form time and sometimes the ethical and political stances of these respective long poems

The Wilds of Poetry David Hinton, 2017-07-25

An exploration of the emerging Western consciousness of how deeply we belong to the wild Cosmos as seen through the lineage of modern America's great avant garde poets

a thrilling journey with today's premier translator of the Chinese classics Henry David Thoreau in The Maine Woods describes a moment on Mount Katahdin when all explanations and assumptions fell away for him and he was confronted with the wonderful inexplicable thusness of things

David Hinton takes that moment as the starting point for his account of a rewilding of consciousness in the West a dawning awareness of our essential oneness with the world around us Because there was no Western vocabulary for this perception it fell to poets to make the first efforts at articulation and those efforts were largely driven by Taoist and Chan Zen Buddhist ideas imported from ancient China Hinton chronicles this rewilding through the lineage of avant garde poetry in twentieth century America from Walt Whitman Ezra Pound and Robinson Jeffers to Gary Snyder W S Merwin and beyond including generous selections of poems that together form a compelling anthology of ecopoetry In his much admired translations Hinton has re created ancient Chinese rivers and mountains poetry as modern American poetry here he reenvisioned modern American poetry as an extension of that ancient Chinese tradition an ecopoetry that weaves consciousness into the Cosmos in radical and fundamental ways The Talisman Poems P.
