Talk And Log Wilderness Politics In British Columbia:

Talk and Log Jeremy Wilson, 1998 For more than three decades British Columbia's old growth forests have been a major source of political conflict In Talk and Log Jeremy Wilson presents a comprehensive account of the rise of the wilderness movement examines the forest industry's political strategies and analyzes the inner workings of the policy process Wilson describes a number of major political battles such as those resulting in preservation of South Moresby the Carmanah and the Valhalla wilderness and investigates the factors that pushed the government towards a more comprehensive approach to expanding the protected areas system He considers a wide range of forest policy developments and assesses the effectiveness of government and industry attempts to contain the wilderness movement In the final part he explores the Harcourt NDP government's reform initiatives including the Commission on Resources and Environment CORE the Protected Areas Strategy and the Forest Practices Code Talk and Log illuminates the forces behind controversies that have divided British Columbians preoccupied the provincial government and drawn the attention of people across Canada and the world By discussing the patterns and trends underlying the past three decades of wilderness politics Wilson identifies the currents likely to dominate B C wilderness debates in decades to come

A Long Way to Paradise Robert A.J. McDonald, 2021-10-15 The political landscape of British Columbia has been characterized by divisiveness since Confederation As outsized personalities from Amor De Cosmos to W A C Bennett dominated the halls of power militant radicals and reformers took to the streets and hustings A Long Way to Paradise traces the evolution of political ideas from 1871 to 1972 to explore British Columbia's journey to socio political maturity answering both why and how British Columbia became Canada's most fractious province Robert McDonald explains its classic left right divide as a product of common sense liberalism that also shaped how British Columbians met the challenges of a modernizing world McDonald tackles key questions Why were the Liberal and Conservative parties obliterated in the 1950s What can account for Bennett's decades long reign And why did parties as diametrically opposed as Social Credit and the NDP succeed This lively overview provides fresh insight into the fascinating story of provincial politics in Canada's lotus land

In Search of Sustainability Benjamin Cashore, 2011-11-01 In recent years the forests of British Columbia have become a battleground for sustainable resource development The conflicts are ever present usually pitting environmentalists against the forest industry and forestry workers and communities In an effort to broker peace in the woods British Columbia's NDP government launched a number of promising new forest policy initiatives in the 1990s In Search of Sustainability brings together a group of political scientists to examine this extraordinary burst of policy activism Focusing on how much change has occurred and why the authors examine seven components of BC forest policy land use forest practices tenure Aboriginal issues timber supply pricing and jobs

Passion and Persistence Diane Pinch, 2019-09-14 Social unrest political activism worry about human impact on this earth sound familiar In 1969 British Columbians were facing concerns that are still making headlines today At the end of a decade of changing technological and political landscapes associated with draft dodgers hippie flower power and the rise of the counterculture a group of serious minded citizens created Sierra Club BC to protect and preserve wild places in the province From that moment Sierra Club BC played an important role in many of the environmental issues in the province from the protection of the Nitinat Triangle and the West Coast Trail in 1972 to the 1993 War in the Woods the largest act of civil disobedience in Canadian history to a twenty year campaign that culminated in protection of the Great Bear Rainforest to the ongoing opposition to the Site C Dam and the Trans Mountain pipeline In fifty years the club has helped to convince governments on both sides of the political spectrum to protect 15 per cent of BC s land base and just over 3 percent of BC s marine areas from development Still active today Sierra Club BC has thousands of members volunteers and supporters all working to protect the province s wild areas and confront climate change Diane Pinch s non fiction homage to Sierra Club BC provides an overview of the lasting impact the group has had not only in BC but in all of Canada Replete with first hand accounts maps and photos the book is a heartfelt in depth look at environmentalism in Western Canada through the years from the perspective of one of the most influential groups in operation Sierra Club BC s philosophy of passion and persistence and commitment to science based evidence and peaceful activism have given the club its incredible staying power Policies for Sustainably Managing Canada's Forests Martin K. Luckert, David Haley, George Hoberg, 2011-09-15 With more than three quarters of Canada s forests under provincial control provincial forest policies are crucial for encouraging the sustainable management of the nation s forests Forest tenures which allow private companies to manage public forest resources are the key policy tool that provinces use to balance the requirements of sustainable management with the economic concerns of the forest industry By offering an up to date comparative examination of contemporary provincial forestry policies this book provides forest managers policy makers scholars and students with the information and concepts to critically examine Canada s complex forest tenure systems The authors look at tenure stumpage fees and other forest practices to assess how well different provincial schemes achieve the goals of sustainable forest management They identify a number of essential policy attributes that could be used to guide tenure reform consider potential barriers that could prevent meaningful change and offer much needed practical guidance on overcoming these obstacles Environmental Politics in Canada Judith McKenzie, 2002 This is the only book to give background on environmental thought in both a Canadian and world context It is designed as an introduction to environmental politics and policy with Canada as its primary focus Including focus boxes and end of chapter study questions it is appropriate for a wide range of students as well as scholars Canadian Politics James Bickerton, Alain Gagnon, 1999 The new fourth edition of Canadian Politics continues the work of earlier editions in offering a comprehensive introduction to Canadian government and politics by a widely recognized and highly respected group of political scientists writing on subjects on which they are acknowledged experts For this edition the editors have reorganized the book into four sections Part I Citizenship Identities and Values Part II The Canadian State Part III Civil Society

Democracy and Governance and Part IV Globalizing Trends and International Pressures The fourth section comprised of five chapters develops a new focus for this edition by examining the diverse and increasingly important influences of globalization on the Canadian polity and system of governance Of the twenty three chapters those retained from earlier editions have been entirely revised and updated This edition adds twelve new authors and eleven completely new chapters James Bickerton is Professor of Political Science at St Francis Xavier University His publications include Nova Scotia Ottawa and the Politics of Regional Development The Almanac of Canadian Politics with Munroe Eagles Alain G Gagnon and Patrick Smith and The Savage Years The Perils of Reinventing Government in Nova Scotia with Peter Clancy Rod Haddow and Ian Stewart Alain G Gagnon holds the Canada Research Chair in Qu bec and Canadian Studies at the Universit du Qu bec Montr al His most recent book is Qu bec State and Society third edition Broadview Press 2004 Other books include Ties That Bind Parties and Voters in Canada with James Bickerton and Patrick J Smith and Six penseurs en qu te de libert Grant Innis Laurendeau Rioux Taylor et Trudeau with James Bickerton and Stephen Brooks British Columbia Patricia Roy, John Herd Thompson, 2005 In this fifth volume in Oxford s Illustrated History of Canada series Patricia Roy and John Thompson present a compact narrative survey of British Columbia s economic political and social history generously illustrated with roughly 150 paintings drawings and maps that shed their own light on the province s history British Columbia as we know it geographically and politically today did not exist until 1858 The boundaries of the present day province were defined in a piecemeal and haphazard manner and are still disputed by the First Nations who have never accepted the 1927 agreement between the federal and the provincial governments that defined the extent of their territories within the province Historians can never entirely escape superimposing the tidy political map of contemporary British Columbia over an untidy geography and an equally untidy history Human conflict and human diversity mark British Columbia s past Based on current scholarship this volume provides a detailed account of the multitude of experiences within British Columbia British Columbia Land of Promises continues the tradition of sound scholarship and easy readability of the previous volumes in Oxford s Illustrated History of Canada series Previous volumes were praised for being richly illustrated readable detailed and opinionated London Free Press and attractive as individual volumes to those who want an introduction to a particular region and as part of a series to those who are looking for a new general history of Canada Quill and Quire BC Studies ,1998 The Practice of International Law in the 21st Century Canadian Bar Association, 2001 Up-coast Richard Rajala, 2006 In Up Coast award winning author Richard A Rajala offers the first comprehensive history of the forest industry on British Columbia s central and north coast He integrates social political and environmental themes to depict the relationship of coastal people and communities to the forest from the late 19th century to the present The account begins with the emergence of a small scale industry tied to the needs of salmon canneries and early settlements and traces the development of a diverse structure involving sawmills tie and pole producers and hand loggers struggling to profit from participation in domestic and foreign markets But from the early 20th century on government policies favoured the interests of giant pulp and paper firms such as Pacific Mills at Ocean Falls A turn to sustained yield forestry after World War II promoted further concentration of ownership a pattern that saw Columbia Cellulose capture the Skeena and Nass watersheds to meet the fibre needs of its troubled Prince Rupert pulp enterprise At the same time postwar development drew the region into a role as hinterland log extraction site for southern plants fed by enormous Tree Farm Licenses Relating these themes to a tradition of activism against capitalist inequities Up Coast discusses First Nations union and community protests against corporate exploitation of labour and resources In addressing the modern era of land claims environmentalism and capital flight Rajala turns to the complex and unresolved struggle for a more equitable and sustainable human relationship with British Columbia's forests Writing the West Coast Christine Lowther, Anita Sinner, 2008 This collection of over thirty essays by both well known and emerging writers explores what it means to be at home on Canada's West Coast Here the rainforest and the wild stormy coast dominate one's sense of identity a humbling perspective shared in memoirs by individuals who come to see themselves as part of a larger ecological community Alexandra Morton followed the orcas to the Broughton Archipelago and now fights to protect wild salmon from the impact of fish farms Grandmother activist Betty Krawczyk describes living in a remote A frame under mountains that have been clearcut and how this led her to join the blockades Valerie Langer tells us of a tsunami warning one that is both literal and metaphorical Brian Brett reflects on possible futures for Clayoquot Sound thinking back to the wild times he spent there in the sixties The collection includes a number of brightly satiric commentators like Briony Penn who compares sex in the city to love in the temperate rainforest Andrew Struthers who recalls squatting in a home made pyramid in the bush and Susan Musgrave who writes with affection and humour about the excluded Haida Gwaii Young First Nations writers Eli Enns and Nadine Crookes provide their perspective of deep rootedness in place And there are many more contributors all of whom are engaged in finding purpose along with a sense of belonging that is uniquely West Coast

International Journal of Wilderness ,1998 Policy Studies Journal ,2000 The Nonprofit Sector and Government in a New Century Queen's University (Kingston, Ont.). School of Policy Studies, 2001 The Nonprofit Sector and Government in a New Century captures the complexities and contradictions in the relationship between the nonprofit sector and government and highlights the struggles of nonprofit organizations to respond to an environment defined by increased expectations and constrained resources Quill & Quire ,1998 The Canadian Historical Review ,2000 Journal of Public Policy ,2003 Canadian Periodical Index ,2000 Against the Grain L. Anders Sandberg, Peter Clancy, 2000 Presenting case studies of professional foresters from 1920 onwards this text reveals a rich tradition of alternative and dissenting practices combined with professional and political orthodoxies The aim is to illustrate the public and environmental challenges that engulf contemporary forestry
