

The Person Of Christ

Philip Schaff

The Person Of Christ:

The Person of Christ in New Testament Teaching Vincent Taylor, 1958 This work forms Part III of the Speaker's Lectures delivered by Dr Vincent Taylor in Oxford during the years 1951-6. Part I was published in 1952 under the title The Name of Jesus and Part II The Life and Ministry of Jesus in 1953. In the present Lectures the doctrine of the Person of Christ is treated first exegetically and secondly in a historical and theological investigation. The teaching of all the New Testament books is examined in detail and the historical and doctrinal issues which arise are discussed fully. In the second part of the work the subjects treated are: The Divine Consciousness of Jesus; The Christology of the Primitive Christian Communities; The Limitations of Primitive Christian Christology; The contributions of the Great New Testament Writers; Christology and the Trinity; Christology and the Kenosis; Christology and Psychology; and Towards a Modern Christianity. After making a full examination of the objections which have been brought against Kenotic Christologies by Archbishop Temple and Professor D. M. Baillie, Dr Taylor commends a constructive treatment of the Person of Christ along the lines followed by Principal P. T. Forsyth and Professor H. R. Mackintosh. The Christology which seems most in harmony with the teaching of the New Testament, he says, is the doctrine that in becoming man the Son of God willed to renounce the exercise of divine prerogatives and powers so that in the course of His earthly existence He might live within the necessary limitations which belong to human finitude. Divine attributes were laid aside not in the sense that they were abandoned or destroyed but in such a manner that they become potential or latent. An Epilogue discusses the way in which convictions concerning the divinity of Christ are brought home to the mind of the believer. Publisher: The Person of Christ: the Perfection of His Humanity

Viewed as a Proof of His Divinity Philip Schaff, 1880 The Person of Christ Murray Rae, Stephen R. Holmes, 2005-11-01 Understanding the Person of Christ affects our understanding of all Christian theology. All ten contributors to this volume share a commitment to the orthodox theological tradition in Christology as expressed in the creedal heritage of the Christian church and seek to explicate the continuing coherence and importance of that theological tradition. The book's ten essays cover such topics as prolegomena to Christology; the incarnation; the person and nature of Christ; the communicatio idiomatum; the baptism of Christ; the redemptive work of Christ; the ascended Christ; and New Testament Christology, and offers critical engagements with such diverse theologians as John Calvin, Charles Williams, and John Zizioulas. The contributors, all leading academics, include John Webster, Richard Burridge, Robert Jenson, Stephen Holmes, Douglas Farrow, Brian Horne, Murray Douglas Knight, Sandra Fach, Christoph Schwoebel. The Person of Christ in the Faith of the Church Andrew Wallace Williamson, 1920 The Person of Christ Gerrit Cornelis Berkouwer, 1954 The Person of Christ Loraine Boettner, 2009-08-01 The Person of Christ Philip Schaff, 1865 The Person of Christ Donald Macleod, 1998 Throughout the history of the church the doctrine of the person of Christ has been a centrepiece of theological reflection. In The Person of Christ Donald Macleod rearticulates this multifaceted doctrine. He begins with the

New Testament and recent attempts to understand its christology Macleod then turns his attention to Christ in the history of Christian theology examining the principal issues extending from Arianism in the fourth century to kenotic christology and the question of the uniqueness of Christ in the twentieth century The Person of Christ is a valuable point of entrance into the full panorama of issues that have shaped orthodox confessions of Christ through the centuries The pathway of Christian revelation and tradition is clearly charted with hazards new and old carefully marked The Person of Christ Stephen J. Wellum, 2021 The author offers an accessible treatment of the doctrine of Christology He builds on the foundations of the Bible's revelation about Jesus Christ and the theological formulation of Christology in the history of the church to help the church today articulate a Christological orthodoxy in continuity with the historic Christian faith The Person and Work of Christ Benjamin Breckinridge Warfield, 2025-07-15T00:00:00Z B B Warfield the last of the Princeton Theologians employs his rare exegetical skill to present a concise compelling and thoroughly readable analysis of the person and work of Christ This volume helps distinguish between genuine Christianity and its counterfeits Samuel G Craig
