The Place Of Dead Roads:

The Place of Dead Roads William S. Burroughs, 2001 William Burroughs's surreal fable set in America's Old West features a cast of notorious characters The Crying Gun who breaks into tears at the sight of his opponent The Priest who goes into gunfights giving his adversaries the last rites and The Nihilistic Kid himself Kim Carson who with a succession of beautiful sidekicks sets out to challenge the morality of smalltown America With a narrative of fantastical proportions and a rich dry growling humour The Place of Dead Roads continues Burroughs's exploration of society's controlling forces the State the Church women literature drugs with a style utterly unique in twentieth century literature The Place of Dead Roads William S. Burroughs, 1985 The Place of Dead Roads William S. Burroughs, 2013-11-26 A good old fashion shoot out in the American West of the frontier days serves as the springboard for this hyperkinetic adventure in which gunslingers led by Kim Carson fight for galactic freedom The Place of Dead Roads is the second novel in the trilogy with Cities of the Red Night and The Western Lands The place of dead roads, 2018 War, Language, and Identity in William S. Burroughs's "The Place of Dead Roads" Nico Muniz, 2002 Encyclopedia of Beat Literature Kurt Hemmer, 2010-05-12 Discusses the literary works and great authors of the Beat Generation The Rifleman Christopher Sharrett, 2005 A comprehensive analysis of what many consider to be television's most intelligent western The Rifleman is perhaps the most significant and intelligent of the TV westerns from the late 1950s an era when the western was the dominant television genre With its story of a single father raising a son in 1880s New Mexico The Rifleman offered many alternatives to the conventions of the western It also embodied many of the genre's contradictions setting its ideas about domesticity and level headedness alongside the gun violence adopted by westerns as central to the settling of the West and the creation of America With its initial episodes written and directed by celebrated auteur Sam Peckinpah and the overall series produced by veteran Dick Powell and the pioneering television production team of Jules Levy Arthur Gardner and Arnold Laven The Rifleman is distinguished by its stewardship of some of the most talented minds of early television In his succinct study of this television milestone Christopher Sharrett uses television studies psychoanalytic criticism gender studies and American studies to place The Rifleman within the TV western genre and early television culture While discussing the intelligence and lasting value of this series Sharrett also challenges the reader to consider the broader role of 1950s television in shaping the consciousness of the postwar generation The Rifleman remains one of the great examples of the stalemates within American mass culture the struggle between reason and violence Ancient Technology in Peru and Bolivia David Hatcher Childress, 2012-10-31 David Hatcher Childress popular Lost Cities author and star of the History Channel's long running show Ancient Aliens takes us to the mysterious ruins in the mountains of Peru and Bolivia in search of ancient technology and the secrets of megalith building In his new book packed with photos and diagrams Childress examines the amazing stonecutting at Puma Punku a site neighboring the ancient ruins of Tiwanaku near Lake Titicaca in Bolivia He looks at whether the so called Inca walls found in Cuzco and at other sites such as Sacsayhuaman Ollantaytambo and Machu Picchu were really made by the Incas The evidence seems to support the idea that they were actually constructed by a far older culture Childress examines the megalithic construction and underground chambers of Chavin in the Cordillera Blanca of Peru possibly the oldest megalithic site in South America He also speculates on the existence of a sunken city in Lake Titicaca and reveals new evidence that the Sumerians may have arrived in South America over 4 000 years ago Childress demonstrates that the use of keystone cuts with metal clamps poured into them to secure megalithic construction was an advanced technology used all over the world from the Andes to Egypt Greece and Southeast Asia He maintains that only power tools could have made the intricate articulation and drill holes found in extremely hard granite and basalt blocks in Bolivia and Peru and that the megalith builders had to have had advanced methods for moving and stacking gigantic blocks of stone some weighing over 100 tons The incredible high tech world of South America is illuminated in the informative and breezy style for which Childress has always been known Chapters in the book include The Lost World of South America The Enigma of Ancient Technology Ancient Technology at Tiwanaku and Puma Punku The Sumerian Mining Complex at Tiwanaku Mysteries of Lake Titicaca and the Towers Ancient Technology in Cuzco The Megaliths of Ollantaytambo Did the Incas Build Machu Picchu and more

Mosaic of Juxtaposition Micheal Sean Bolton,2014-05-20 William S Burroughs experimental narratives from the 1959 publication of Naked Lunch through the late trilogy of the 1980s have provided readers with intriguing challenges and for some disheartening frustrations Yet these novels continue to generate new interest and inspire new insights among an increasing and evolving readership This book addresses the unique characteristics of Burroughs narrative style in order to discover strategies for engaging and navigating these demanding novels Bolton advises Burroughs subversive themes and randomizing techniques do not amount to unmitigated attacks on conventions as many critics suggest but constitute part of a careful strategy for effecting transformations in his readers Utilizing various poststructuralist theories as well as recent theories in electronic literature and posthumanism Mosaic of Juxtaposition examines the various strategies that Burroughs employs to challenge assumptions about textual interpretation and to redefine the relationship between reader and text political theory science fiction neoclassical economics and the sociology of religion Trask also delves into the decade's more esoteric branches of learning including Scientology anarchist theory rapture prophecies psychic channeling and neo Malthusianism Through this investigation Trask argues that a dramatic inflation in the value of consciousness and autonomy beginning in the 1970s accompanied a growing argument about the state's inability to safeguard such values Ultimately the thinkers Trask analyzes John Rawls Arne Naess L Ron Hubbard Hal Lindsey Philip Dick Ursula Le Guin Edward Abbey William Burroughs John Irving and James Merrill found alternatives to statism in conditions that would lend intellectual support to the consolidation of these concepts in the radical free market ideologies of the 1980s
