Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post-conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region Muslih Irwani, 2015-10-19

Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region investigates social policy in a politically less developed entity and examines the mainstream top down and bottom up models of policy implementation in light of a detailed study of the Kurdistan Regional Government In addition it introduces the innovative clientelistic model of policy implementation a political and preferential tool which utilises a public nationalistic dichotomy in social welfare provision The book argues that politicians in the Kurdistan region deal with social policy programmes according to their political preferences attaching importance to policies on the basis of the way they feel about those social programmes and interest groups concerned As such as it stands policy implementation is subject to interference by politicians and high government officials under the pretext of supporting and monitoring the way such policy is implemented Through an investigation of the most prominent actors in the implementation of social security programmes this book demonstrates how beneficiaries of these programmes can themselves become focal points in the implementation process Indeed within the Kurdistan Regional Government s social policy context today the benefits of social security schemes are being distributed based on the socio political status of recipients not on their socio economic conditions and needs

Managing Development in a Globalized World Habib Zafarullah, Ahmed Shafiqul Huque, 2017-09-25 Traditionally development has been rooted in ideologies and assumptions prevalent in the developed world and in practices and strategies adopted by leading industrial nations However historically eclectic ideas and approaches often clash with existing long established notions of progress and modes of realizing social and economic change Managing Development in a Globalized World Concepts Processes Institutions explores this topic by incorporating ideas and interpretations that have previously been neglected or given inadequate attention in the discourse on developing countries It underscores development as a continuous process that must be supported by sound policies and efficient management supplying a wider understanding of the field The authors argue that the application of innovative development techniques and best practices is essential for obtaining optimum results in meeting the needs of society They examine the style of managing development with a new perspective that links the phenomenon with changing demands and the interplay of internal external actors and a host of stakeholders An exploration of key sectors in development provides clear comprehension of problems and solutions A careful synthesis of theoretical conceptual and empirical literature the book assesses real world situations and provides insight into the operational dynamics of development policies programs and institutions It focuses on goals values and dynamics of development management that are undergoing rapid changes and continue to be enhanced to alleviate poverty and improve living standards in an era of globalization and inter regional and inter institutional synergies It highlights best practices essential for the efficient and effective delivery of human development services that are designed and put in place to obtain optimum results in meeting the needs of society Handbook of Public Policy in Asia Ora-orn Poocharoen,Piyapong Boossabong,Pobsook Chamchong,2025-09-10 This expansive Handbook provides a detailed comprehensive and current study of Asian public policy and governance Exploring inequalities across the continent it outlines policy knowledge production shedding light on sustainability innovation inclusive development well being and climate justice in Asia Handbook of Development Policy Habib, Zafarullah,Huque, Ahmed S.,2021-09-07 This authoritative Handbook provides a thorough exploration of development policy from both scholarly and practical perspectives and offers insights into the policy process dynamics and a range of specific policy issues including corruption and network governance Cybersecurity Capabilities in Developing Nations and Its Impact on Global Security Dawson, Maurice,Tabona, Oteng,Maupong, Thabiso,2022-02-04

Developing nations have seen many technological advances in the last decade Although beneficial and progressive they can lead to unsafe mobile devices system networks and internet of things IoT devices causing security vulnerabilities that can have ripple effects throughout society While researchers attempt to find solutions improper implementation and negative uses of technology continue to create new security threats to users Cybersecurity Capabilities in Developing Nations and Its Impact on Global Security brings together research based chapters and case studies on systems security techniques and current methods to identify and overcome technological vulnerabilities emphasizing security issues in developing nations Focusing on topics such as data privacy and security issues this book is an essential reference source for researchers university academics computing professionals and upper level students in developing countries interested in the techniques laws and training initiatives currently being implemented and adapted for secure computing Health Promotion and the Policy Process Carole Clavier,Evelyne de Leeuw,2013-09-12 Scholars and governments recognize the importance of policy development and implementation for population health but there is a lack of systematic theoretical and conceptual development in the health field to address the issue Health Promotion and the Policy Process is the first book to take an in depth look at the theoretical advances in the political sciences including discussing the significance of political economy and sociology which so far have made little progress in health promotion development The book argues that focusing on how public policies work makes it possible to move beyond the more behavioural health education approach and make the transition from political statements to political strategies The authors draw from a wide array of theories on the policy process in the fields of political science and political sociology to illuminate health promotion strategies and objectives For example they discuss how Kingdon s Multiple Streams Model Sabatier s Advocacy Coalition Framework and policy network theories can contribute to greater health equity healthy public policies and community development Through practical and critical tools research and experience based discussion Health Promotion and the Policy Process discusses how theories can
