

“Mariner’s Sin, Punishment, Redemption and His Penance”

“Mariner’s Sin, punishment, redemption and his penance” “If men could learn from history, what lessons it might teach us. But passion and party blind our eyes, and the light which experience gives us is a lantern on the stern, which shines only on the waves behind us. ” This is one of the famous quotes by Samuel Taylor Coleridge (1772-1834). In his one of the magnificent work, “The Rime of the ancient Mariner”, Coleridge has been able to prove his quote mentioned above. The decision made by the young and excited Mariner to kill the albatross helping them and the consequences which was faced by the entire sailing crew.

Mariner, the main character not only was sorry for what he did, he also went through a series of transformation making him understand his sin. He then suffered all his life searching for redemption. Mariner was all around the places to redeem his sin. Not only he suffered attacks from his haunted past, he had to let everyone know about his deed just to feel relaxed. Mariner killed someone who helped the entire crew survive the icebergs they were in after the storm stroked them. The albatross who flew with the boat, was decided to be a help from the god himself, resulting in all the sailors trying to pet the bird.

As all the crew possessed positive aura when the iceberg cracked and they again were in the open sea covered with fog. Something evil consumed mariner heart and he killed the bird with his crossbow. The entire member was cursing him for his deed at first, but when the fog started clearing out everybody was praising the Mariner. Entire crew who was turning away from Mariner for what he did was now agreeing on the sin committed. This now makes all the crew full of sin, which was not be in their favor. Soon their situation turned worse, the breeze stopped, and they were in the middle of the ocean without any movement.

Without any water, “Water, water, everywhere, Nor any drop to drink. ” suddenly entire crew was begging for water. It’s a human nature to be happy and sad depending on the situation he puts himself in. When there are good things happening then they all forget about the harm it can cause. Coleridge proved the human nature on this poem. When the sin was committed, one tends to agree with it, until it has any negative effect. When god started wrath upon them, entire crew turned to Mariner to curse him again for what he did.

In ones normal life, one always tries their best to blame someone for the sin they have helped in. God will always punish the one who have committed sin as like in the poem. As the entire crew was involved in the crime, soon they start to get punished. They start to see the wrath from the god in form of different unnatural ways in the grip of nature. The sun was getting really hot. “Down dropt the breeze, the sails dropt down... ” “All in a hot and copper sky, The bloody sun at noon. ” Hot and dry, and without water the sailors were in dire need of help.

The Phenomena Of The Punishment Of Sin And Of Redemption:

The Methodist Review ,1896 Notes on books Longmans, Green and co,1897 Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review ,1896 The American Church Almanac and Year Book ,1897 Selections from Manuscripts James Hinton,1874 American Church Almanac and Year Book ,1897 The Co-Housing Phenomenon Emanuele Giorgi,2020-01-28 This book presents 50 case studies of contemporary co housing projects spread all over the world to show how communities of shared living have become a global phenomenon that can serve as a tool to promote social and urban sustainability By presenting evidence that shared housing experiences are capable of revitalizing sterile urban fabrics and promoting social sustainable practices the volume situates co housing experiences as microscale responses to the macroscale challenges posed by environmental degradation and the decline of communitarian ways of living The volume also reviews the most famous typologies of shared living in different parts of the world across human history By analyzing historical experiences in different regions of Africa Americas Asia Europe and Oceania the author shows that living together is part of a historical culture of sharing that is being rediscovered all over the world by people who activate public spaces work in shared offices or live in contractual communities The Co Housing Phenomenon Environmental Alliance in Times of Changes will be of interest to both professionals and scholars involved in urban design urban planning and architecture especially those in the field of sustainable urbanism It will also be a valuable resource for public agents and civil society organizations dealing with housing social environmental and sustainability policies Homo Florens? Nadia Marais,2023-10-09 What does it mean to flourish Human flourishing lies at the heart of the good news of the gospel and yet contemporary theologies know not only one way of speaking about what it means to flourish If we embed our theological grammars of flourishing in the doctrine of salvation as the doctrine in which theological flourishing talk is arguably rooted and from which rich fruit may be borne there is not one but various ways in which to speak about what it means to flourish Yet what governs our speaking Why do we speak of flourishing as we do The various conceptions of human flourishing that are outlined in this book piety joy and comfort being fully alive healing and dignity grace happiness and blessing represent a collection of attempts not only to imagine human flourishing but also to imagine ways of speaking about human flourishing Perhaps what theology could offer to the vibrant and robust conversations on human flourishing lies exactly in the reminder to take care about how we speak about that which is truly and deeply human our longing to flourish The Cambridge Companion to Friedrich Schleiermacher Jacqueline Mariña,2005-11-10 An introduction to all the important aspects of Schleiermacher s thought in a systematic way From Phenomenon Labyrinths To Midnights of Zugzwangs Or Missing Apparitions in Yügen Recordings I Engin Yurt,2021-03-01 But in the thought experiment of forgiving a forgiving there is something is dilemmatic and blurring There are no ultimate good or ultimate bad sides There is no unspeakably bad impossible to forgive thing There is only a god forgiving the human souls It is almost silly and absurd to see this action as a hurtful disturbing and a bad thing

The god's forgiving all human souls is really not a matter of forgiving not at all. It is really not related to the sphere of forgiving and not forgiving just like the occurrence of leaves of the trees falling on the soil from the trees is not something ethically bad or good. The god's forgiving all does not belong to the dimension of forgivable/unforgivable things. But nonetheless god's this forgiving causes something in the heart of the human. A sense of fairness and justness is broken by this act of forgiving by god. Some souls not all of them now have to forgive god's forgiving. They have to find a way to forgive something that doesn't even belong to the realm of forgivable/unforgivable dichotomy. They have to forgive that god doesn't hold its side of the bargain. If the other side of the bargain would not follow what is required by the agreement then what was the point of keeping this side of the bargain if in the end everyone would be treated the same. In the act of forgiving all there is a violence, a violation, a trespass. This violence is two-folded. It is both about not keeping the requirements of the bargain and also about conflicting the content of it. But how can one see a forgiving as a grace, an ultimate goodness and kindness as something within the realm of forgivable/unforgivable? The god's forgiving is so not something belongs to the realm of forgiving that it doesn't open itself to neither forgiveness nor unforgiveness. But what about heart's mathematics?
