The Poetics Of Appalachian Space:

The Poetics of Appalachian Space Parks Lanier,1991-01-01 The fourteen essays in The Poetics of Appalachian Space examine interior spaces in Appalachian writings to uncover their metaphorical psychological and symbolic meaning Her Words Felicia Mitchell,2002 A survey of Appalachian women poets includes the work of Maggie Anderson Lisa Coffman George Ella Lyon Nikki Giovanni Jo Carson Lynn Powell Barbara Smith and other female poetic voices Poetry Literature, Writing, and the Natural World James Guignard,T. P. Murphy,2020-06-12 The English Association of Pennsylvania State Universities held its annual meeting in 2006 at Mansfield University in Pennsylvania The conference theme was Literature Writing and the Natural World This collection grows out of the conference and indicates the desire to understand all aspects of our relationship with the natural world the function of literature in clarifying that relationship in ways science and politics cannot and the role of the literature teacher scholar wanting to respond to pressures of environmental change In these times interpretation is a vital task not only for the way it educates us about our attitudes toward nature but because it develops the crucial skills of looking closely engaging reflecting and responding One could argue that as a culture Americans are behind the curve in understanding the ways we depend upon a healthy relationship with nature and one way among many depends upon examining it through texts and textual representation When the writers here dig into The Main Woods Jayber Crow the poetry of Pablo Guevara or the movie Crash they are contributing to our understanding of the ways in which we view nature and how that view plays a role in the way we relate to nature These days many disciplines engage global warming and other environmental issues routinely and the literature classroom should be no different Just as we read a book and address fundamental themes such as What does it mean to love or How do we develop identity we should also be asking What is my responsibility when I decide what resources to use If we understand literature as equipment for living in a warming world we may be able to help students make some sense out of their world and some decisions about how to act A Room Forever Thomas E. Douglass,2004-11 After twenty six year old author Breece D J Pancake took his own life in April 1979 the West Virginian s posthumously published short story collection made a considerable impact on the world of letters His work was praised for a controlled muscular style reminiscent of Hemingway for its strong undercurrent of emotion and for its evocation of the blighted lives of the mountain poor In A Room Forever Thomas E Douglass offers a detailed portrait of Pancake s short life examining the varied circumstances and emotional forces that led to the writer s suicide and exploring Pancake s influence on contemporary fiction generally and Appalachian writing in particular Drawing on notebooks letters and manuscripts left by Pancake as well as numerous conversations and interviews with family friends and others Douglass has recreated the key events of the young artist s life his West Virginia childhood his romantic losses his education as a writer at the University of Virginia and the acceptance of his work by the East Coast literary establishment Through analysis of the story fragments reproduced in this volume including The Conqueror and Shouting Victory Douglass illustrates the recurring themes such as fear of failure and the inability to escape disaster that Pancake expressed so eloquently in his work and he shows their origins in the writer's own personal history Douglass examines the degree to which Pancake drew on his memories of life in Appalachia and discusses Pancake's influence on other Appalachian writers such as Pinckney Benedict Douglass argues that Pancake's posthumous collection The Stories of Breece D J Pancake brought a renewed interest in regional writing to the national literary scene A Room Forever brings to life the artistic sensibility and inner turmoil of a legendary figure in contemporary southern letters Writers by the River Donia S. Eley, Grace Toney Edwards, 2021-05-20 The Highland Summer Writing Conference HSC held each summer along the banks of the ancient New River at Radford University's Selu Conservancy brings together and inspires writers as they participate in the communal art of creating and sharing Over the years many prestigious Appalachian authors have taught workshops to like-minded students many of whom became published authors in their own right This book a celebration of the HSC is a collection of reflective essays poetry fiction and non-fiction contributed by 41 authors and student authors who have taken part in the conference over a span of 43 years Now and Then, 1992 Contemporary Southern Men Fiction Writers Rosemary M. Canfield Reisman, Suzanne Booker-Canfield, 1998 This carefully annotated bibliography lists sources of criticism for thirty-nine Southern male authors each of whom has published at least one significant book of fiction between 1970 and 1994 Blue Ridge Commons Kathryn Newfont, 2012 In the late twentieth century residents of the Blue Ridge mountains in western North Carolina fiercely resisted certain environmental efforts even while launching aggressive initiatives of their own Kathryn Newfont provides context for those events by examining the environmental history of this region over the course of three hundred years identifying what she calls commons environmentalism a cultural strain of conservation in American history that has gone largely unexplored Efforts in the 1970s to expand federal wilderness areas in the Pisgah and Nantahala national forests generated strong opposition For many mountain residents the idea of unspoiled wilderness seemed economically unsound historically dishonest and elitist Newfont shows that local people's sense of commons environmentalism required access to the forests that they viewed as semipublic places for hunting fishing and working Policies that removed large tracts from use were perceived as enclosure and resisted Incorporating deep archival work and years of interviews and conversations with Appalachian residents Blue Ridge Commons reveals a tradition of people building robust forest protection movements on their own terms p 4 of cover Making an Atlantic World James Taylor Carson, 2007 Based on the notion of founding peoples rather than founding fathers Making an Atlantic World uses an innovative interdisciplinary approach to interpret the Colonial South James Taylor Carson uses historical ethnogeography a new methodology that brings together the study of history with anthropology and geography This method seeks to incorporate concepts of space and landscape with social perspectives to give students and scholars a better understanding of the forces that shaped the development of a synthesized southern culture Intimate Violence Across the Lifespan Tova Band-Winterstein, Zvi Eisikovits, 2014-07-30 Evidence pertaining to continual violence throughout the life cycle coupled with the experience of growing old in a life permeated by intimate violence is scarce. And the focus is usually on the victims usually the older battered women and seldom on their aging partners or adult children who were part and parcel of the violent dynamics in the family system. With the increase in longevity and the older population's subsequent growth in size the number of elderly couples living and aging in long lasting conflictive relationships is on the rise. The relatively intense preoccupation with elder abuse in the gerontological literature in recent years has not specifically addressed long term intimate violence among the old adults and its lasting consequences. Similarly the literature on intimate intergenerational relationships in old age has usually focused on normative exchanges between partners and their extended family including their adult children. Therefore conflictive relationships and particularly violent ones have also fallen outside the scope of this body of research. This volume describes and analyzes the various perspectives of family members concerning life and particularly old age in the shadow of long term intimate violence. It explores how people make sense out of living and aging in violence how interpersonal familial and cross generational relationships are perceived and reconstructed and how well-being is achieved if at all in such families.
