Evans, 2015-08-11 In Rethinking German History first published in 1987 Richard J Evans argues for a social historical approach to the German past that pays equal attention to objective social structures and subjective values and experiences If German history has been seen as an exception to the normal development of Western society this is not least because historians have until recently largely failed to look beyond the world of high politics institutions organizations and ideologies to broader historical problems of German society and German mentalities By applying and adapting approaches learned from French and British social history as they have been developed over the last quarter of a century it is possible to achieve a rethinking of German history which does away with many of the textbook myths that have encrusted the historiography of Germany for so long This book will be valuable for students of German history and politics and brings together essays widely used in teaching Its broad coverage of social history will also be useful to all those interested in contemporary historiography or the comparative study of European history Humour in Self-Translation Margherita Dore, 2022-10-15 This book explores an important aspect of human existence humor in self translation a virtually unexplored area of research in Humour Studies and Translation Studies Of the select group of international scholars contributing to this volume some examine literary texts from different perspectives sociological philosophical or post colonial while others explore texts in more extraneous fields such as standup comedy or language learning This book sheds light on how humour in self translation induces thoughts on social issues challenges stereotypes contributes to recast individuals in novel forms of identity and facilitates reflections on our own sense of humour This accessible and engaging volume is of interest to advanced students of Humour Studies and Translation Studies The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-century French Literature Alison Siân James, 2020 Studying works by authors including Gide Breton Aragon Yourcenar Duras and Modiano this volume re thinks twentieth century French literature and engages with the question of distinctions between the factual and the fictional
