Here, Our Culture Is Hard Laura McClusky,2010-07-05 Marriage among the Maya of Central America is a model of complementarity between a man and a woman This union demands mutual respect and mutual service Yet some husbands beat their wives In this pioneering book Laura McClusky examines the lives of several Mopan Maya women in Belize Using engaging ethnographic narratives and a highly accessible analysis of the lives that have unfolded before her McClusky explores Mayan women s strategies for enduring escaping and avoiding abuse Factors such as gender age inequalities marriage patterns family structure educational opportunities and economic development all play a role in either preventing or contributing to domestic violence in the village McClusky argues that using narrative ethnography instead of cold statistics or dehumanized theoretical models helps to keep the focus on people rehumanizing our understanding of violence This highly accessible book brings to the social sciences new ways of thinking about representing and studying abuse marriage death gender roles and violence

Herpetological Osteopathology Bruce M. Rothschild,Hans-Peter Schultze,Rodrigo Pellegrini,2012-01-05 As scientific analysis of testable hypotheses has replaced the speculative approach to study of bone disease in recent and fossil amphibians and reptiles the field has advanced from simply reporting observations to analyzing their implications This process is predicated upon a reproducible data base which explains diagnoses the nature of bony alterations and a secure review of the literature Thereby hangs the rub The herpetological literature are difficult to access let alone read and are scattered through many prominent and eclectic journals and in the lay literature While older diagnoses often have not stood the test of time the clarity of report descriptions usually allows confident identification of the underlying pathology A
