Perspectives on Death and Dying June L. Leishman, 2009 In the past most people encountered death at a relatively young age Dying relatives were cared for at home and mortality rates were higher Today there is much less familiarity with death which increasingly takes place in hospitals hospices and nursing homes This wide ranging and enlightening book offers an exploration of death and dying as human conditions that impact on the individual their significant others and those involved with their care and well being It is aimed at medical and healthcare staff social workers and counsellors as well as social sciences and health psychology students professional health and social care educationalists and anyone with an interest in this topic Drawing on aspects of social anthropology history and the social and behavioural sciences the book examines the customs attitudes and beliefs surrounding death and dying Emphasis is placed on the unique experience of death for each individual and the book highlights the challenges faced by those who work with people who are dying or those who have experienced loss through death In addition each chapter ends with some reflective questions that allow the reader to consider certain issues at a more personal level

Social Perspectives on Death & Dying, Death and Dying Gerry R. Cox, Neil Thompson, 2020-09-08 Death and Dying is an important core text for students and professionals interested in developing a holistic understanding of death and dying Chapters are replete with case studies activities key point boxes and other features that enable readers to develop a sociologically informed understanding of the broad range of complex issues that underpin death and dying. Written by two established and highly respected experts in the field, it offers a thoroughgoing account of a wide range of social aspects of death and dying, filling gaps left by the traditionally narrow focus of the existing literature. By drawing the suggested sociological perspectives and highlighting the role of social policy, the authors put forward a fresh perspective of the field of thanatology. This book is a major contribution in progressing knowledge and understanding of dying and death for students and professionals in counseling health and human services.

Death, Dying and Bereavement Sharon Mallon, Laura Towers, 2024-11-28. While death, dying and bereavement are universal life events, the social conditions under which death takes place are fundamental in shaping how it is experienced by the individual. Bringing together contributors from around the world, this collection of chapters provides sociological insights into death, dying and bereavement. Drawing upon a range of sociological theorists including Emile Durkheim, Zygmunt Bauman and C. Wright Mills, the book reviews the historical contribution of sociology to the field of thanatology. In doing so, the book challenges individualistic psychological approaches to death, dying and bereavement and demonstrates how sociological approaches can shape, constrain and empower experiences by imbuing them with both collective and individual meaning. Chapter length case studies explore a wide range of issues from digital aspects of remembrance and memorialisation and continued threats to liberties that permit life and death decisions to discussions of the impact and likely legacy of COVID-19 and climate change. This collection will be of interest to students and researchers in the social sciences with an interest in societal attitudes towards death and bereavement. Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) 4.0 license.

Dying Alex Broom, 2016. Life's Twilight: Embracing the End Pasquale De Marco, 2025-08-13. Life's Twilight: Embracing the End is a thought-provoking and compassionate exploration of the many facets of death and dying. Through a series of insightful chapters, this book delves into the emotional, psychological, spiritual and societal dimensions that shape our understanding and experience of this universal passage. Drawing on a wide range of perspectives and disciplines, Life's Twilight offers a comprehensive examination of death and dying. Readers will gain insights into the cultural and societal attitudes towards death, the ethical considerations surrounding end-of-life care and the role of spirituality and faith in providing comfort and meaning. This book is not intended to provide definitive answers or offer a singular perspective on death. Rather, it seeks to create a space for open dialogue, reflection and personal exploration. By examining the diverse experiences, beliefs and practices surrounding death, Life's Twilight empowers readers to navigate their own mortality with greater awareness, compassion and resilience. Whether you are facing your own mortality, supporting a loved one through their end-of-life journey or simply seeking a deeper understanding of this profound human experience, Life's Twilight offers valuable insights, comfort and inspiration. In this book, you will explore topics such as the emotional and psychological impact of death on individuals and communities, cultural and societal attitudes towards death and dying Ethical considerations in end of life care The role of spirituality and faith in providing comfort and meaning The future of death and dying in an increasingly technological world Life s Twilight is an essential resource for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of death and dying This book will help you navigate the complexities of this universal experience with greater awareness compassion and resilience If you like this book write a review Death and Dying in America Andrea Fontana,Jennifer Reid Keene,2009-07-20 This engaging new book takes a fresh approach to the major topics surrounding the processes and rituals of death and dying in the United States It emphasizes individual experiences and personal reactions to death as well as placing mortality within a wider social context drawing on theoretical frameworks empirical research and popular culture Throughout the text the authors highlight the importance of two key factors in American society which determine who dies and under what circumstances persistent social inequality and the American consumerist ethic These features are explored through a discussion of topics ranging from debates about euthanasia to deaths resulting from war and terrorism from the death of a child to children s experience of grieving and bereavement and from beliefs about life after death to more practical issues such as the disposal of the dead body Drawing on sociological anthropological philosophical and historical research the authors present the salient features of death and dying for upper level students across the social sciences For anyone interested in learning more about the end of life this book will provide a useful and accessible perspective on the uniquely American understanding of death and dying

Death in a Global Age Ruth McManus,2017-09-16 Attitudes towards death are shaped by our social worlds This book explores how beliefs practices and representations of dying and death continue to evolve and adapt in response to changing global societies Introducing students to debates around grief religion and life expectancy this is a clear guide to a complex field for all sociologists Dying the Good Death Christopher Justice,1997-02-27 Exploring the Hindu concepts of good and bad deaths this rich ethnography follows pilgrims who choose to travel to the holy city of Kashi to die

Managing Death: International Perspectives Gerry R. Cox,Neil Thompson,2022-09-23 There is a huge collection of literature relating to death grief and bereavement but one aspect that has received relatively little attention is that of death management practices by which we mean the various ways of managing the circumstances of the death ritually acknowledging it and sensitively handling the disposal of the body and so on While ways of disposing of the dead and grief practices have been thought of as based upon individual responses grief and bereavement practices can be understood not only by looking at psychological and medical frameworks but also by examining people as part of a complex structure of social arrangements institutions structures and patterns By examining the social and institutional structures of various groups around the world we provide an international framework for a better understanding of the study of dying death and bereavement This book highlights the significance of these matters in an international context reflecting common themes and important differences It will highlight common themes across diverse cultures and national settings while also drawing attention to significant differences If professionals working in the field of death grief and bereavement are not aware of such differences their practice can be insensitive discriminatory and therefore ineffective if not actually counterproductive As such the book provides an invaluable resource for a wide variety of professionals and students including medicine and health care social work counselling and psychotherapy chaplaincy and pastoral work and of course those involved in the funeral industry In addition students of sociology psychology and anthropology will find much of interest here in terms of appreciating the diversity of ways in which funerals and other death management practices are managed and integrated into social life

Death on the Move Philip J. Havik, José Mapril, Clara Saraiva, 2018-04-18 This volume explores the different aspects of the management of death dying and mortality by migrants in Southern Europe through deconstructing persistent idiosyncratic beliefs myths narratives silences and constraints It focuses on migrants from diverse geographical and cultural backgrounds in Portugal Spain and Italy It also includes reflections on Madagascar Guinea Bissau East Timor and Cuba The thirteen chapters provide insights into epistemological issues the trans national circulation of bodies spirits and rituals migration the placing of the dead and diverse funerary practices and perspectives Privileging a multi sited approach to death and migrations this book draws on oral archival and published sources to give visibility to populations that often live in liminal structural positions and transient worlds By exploring the multifaceted dimensions of death and suffering among immigrant populations it refocuses the debate on migration in Europe and beyond by highlighting under researched issues such as end of life care mental health death burial cremation funerary ceremonies and symbols repatriation and martyrdom
