Canadian Society, Fourth Edition Rosalie Chappell,2010 Children in English-Canadian Society Neil

Sutherland,Cynthia R. Comacchio,2006-01-01 So often a long awaited book is disappointing Happily such is not the case with Sutherland s masterpiece Robert M Stamp University of Calgary in The Canadian Historical Review Sutherland s work is destined to be a landmark in Canadian history both as a first in its particular field and as a standard reference text J Stewart Hardy University of Alberta in Alberta Journal of Educational Research Such were the reviewers comments when Neil Sutherland s groundbreaking book was first published Now reissued in Wilfrid Laurier University Press s new series Studies in Childhood and Family in Canada with a new introduction by series editor Cynthia Comacchio this book remains relevant today In the late nineteenth century a new generation of reformers committed itself to a program of social improvement based on the more effective upbringing of all children In Children in English Canadian Society Neil Sutherland examines with a keen eye the growth of the public health movement and its various efforts at improving the health of children Between State and Market Kahanoff Foundation. Non-Profit Sector Research Initiative,2001 Between State and Market surveys and critiques the existing literature on charities law as well as the laws themselves The authors offer policy prescriptions for the future of an increasingly vital sector of Canadian society The first section of the book contains an overview of the charitable sector in Canada a sociological review of altruism in different societies a discussion of altruism in various philosophical and religious traditions an economic analysis of rational voluntarism and an assessment of the relationship between the charitable sector and the welfare state The second section contains five papers on the legal definition of charity both general the jurisprudence of the Federal Court of Appeal and a proposal for rethinking the concept of public benefit and particular the political purposes doctrine religion as charity and a commentary on the recent major Supreme Court decision on the meaning of charity The third section deals with the tax status of charities two papers evaluate the current tax credit system and one deals with the administration of charities by the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency The final section contains essays on charities and commercial enterprise on the regulation of fund raising and on needed reforms in non profit corporation law At a time when the federal government is about to embark on a wide range of policy initiatives to assist and regulate the non profit sector these essays are necessary reading for anyone concerned with the future of the charitable sector in Canada Contributors include Neil Brooks Osgoode Hall Law School Cara Cameron McGill Bruce Chapman Kevin Davis Toronto Abraham Drassinower Toronto David Duff Toronto Richard Janda McGill Will Kymlicka Queen's Andr   Lajoie Montreal Mayo Moran Toronto Charles Maxime Panaccio office of Mr Justice Charles Gonthier Jim Phillips Jane Allyn Piliavin Wisconsin Madison David Sharpe Attorney General's Office New York State Lorne Sossin Osgoode Hall Law School David Stevens and Jen Chieh Ting Academia Sinica Jim Phillips is professor of law at the University of Toronto Bruce Chapman is professor of law at the University of Toronto David Stevens is professor of law at McGill University

Canadian Society in the Twenty-First Century, Fourth Edition Trevor W. Harrison, John W. Friesen, 2021-03-03 Confederation may have established Canada's nationhood in 1867 but the relationships framing Canada's modern existence go back much further Employing a unique socio historical perspective Canadian Society in the Twenty First Century examines three formative relationships that have shaped the country Canada and Quebec Canada and the United States and Canada and Indigenous nations Now in its fourth edition this engaging text offers students an overview of Canadian society through a series of connections rather than a collection of statistics Trevor W Harrison and John W Friesen weave together complex aspects of the nation's economic political and socio cultural development They guide readers to use this interdisciplinary framework to consider some of the tough questions that Canada is likely to face in adjusting to demands and challenges in the next few decades Reflecting the most current scholarship in the field this revised edition features new discussions on issues such as the current crisis of neo liberal globalization Canada's petroleum industry global warming the Wet suwet en dispute in 2020 and the COVID 19 pandemic Exploring the unique character of Canada today this text is a vibrant resource for sociology courses on Canadian society as well as courses in Canadian studies and Canadian history

Health and Canadian Society

David Coburn, Carl D'Arcy, George Murray Torrance, 1998-01-01 Health and Canadian Society provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between health care and Canadian society. It is a wide ranging volume that moves from personal and micro concerns to a more macro and institutional focus. It includes chapters of a descriptive nature and others with a more explanatory intent. They have been selected from the major journals or have been expressly written for this book. Ninety five percent of the contributions are new to this edition. The chapters and the studies reported on are methodologically diverse ranging from ethnographic studies to statistical analyses of data from large national surveys. Though the chapters are written by anthropologists, economists, historians, political scientists and physicians as well as sociologists, they all have a sociological turn. Recognized as the standard textbook on the sociology of health in Canada, Health and Canadian Society is an essential reference for sociologists, health care providers, health administrators and policy planners.

French Canadian Society Marcel Rioux, Yves Martin, 1964-01-01 Canadian Family Policies Maureen Baker, 1995-01-01 With poverty, unemployment and one parent families on the rise in most Western democracies, government assistance presents an increasingly urgent and complex problem. This is the first study to explore Canada's family policies in an international context. Maureen Baker looks at the successes and failures of social programs in other countries in search of solutions that might work in Canada. Baker has chosen seven industrialized countries for her comparative study: Australia, France, Germany, The Netherlands, Sweden, the United Kingdom and the United States. These countries experience social and economic strains similar to those felt in Canada and though they share certain policy solutions, major differences in policy remain. Baker considers which of the policies in these countries are most effective in reducing poverty, enhancing family life and improving the status of women, then applies her findings to the Canadian situation. Bringing together research and statistics from the fields of demography, political science, economics, sociology, women's studies and social policy, this rich multidisciplinary study provides a unique resource for anyone interested in Canadian family policy.

How Ottawa Spends G. Bruce Doern, 1983 In How Ottawa Spends, some of the country's top political analysts get inside the byzantine world of federal decision making, shedding light on the real priorities of the political parties. Among their findings, federal spending cuts do not necessarily stick because affected ministers are often given an offsetting package of funds for different purposes while Ottawa has become the country's biggest advertiser, close to 60 million in 1982-83. It has increasing trouble discerning between information and propaganda because they are afraid of losing their regional blocs of support; none of the federal parties is willing to behave like a truly national party. Published in 1983, How Ottawa Spends is an eye opening look at federal spending priorities.

Racism and Anti-Racism in Canada David Este, 2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Multiculturalism is regarded as a key feature of Canada's national identity. Yet despite an increasingly diverse population, racialized Canadians are systematically excluded from full participation in society through personal and structural forms of racism and discrimination. Race and Anti Racism in Canada provides readers with a critical examination of how racism permeates

Canadian society and articulates the complex ways to bring about equity and inclusion both individual and systemically A Question of Commitment Thomas Waldock, 2020-04-09 With the adoption of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989 commentators began to situate the evolution of the status of children within the context of the property to persons trajectory that other human rights stories had followed In the first edition of A Question of Commitment editors R Brian Howe and Katherine Covell provided a template of analysis for understanding this evolution They identified three overlapping stages of development as children transitioned from being regarded as objects to subjects in their own right social laissez faire paternalistic protection and children s rights In the social laissez faire stage children are regarded as objects and largely as the property of parents In the paternalistic protection stage children are seen as vulnerable and in need of protection The children s rights stage lays emphasis on children as rights bearers as individuals in their own right with entitlements In this second edition new essays assess the extent to which children s rights have been incorporated into their respective areas of policy and law The authors draw conclusions about what the situation reveals about the status of children in Canada Overall many challenges remain on the pathway to full recognition and citizenship Dimensions of Inequality in Canada David A. Green, Jonathan R. Kesselman, 2011-11-01 Is Canada becoming a more polarized society Or is it a kind hearted nation that takes care of its disadvantaged This volume closely examines these differing views through a careful analysis of the causes trends and dimensions of inequality to provide an overall assessment of the state of inequality in Canada Contributors include economists sociologists philosophers and political scientists and the discussion ranges from frameworks for thinking about inequality to original analyses using Canadian data to assessments of significant policy issues methodologies and research directions What emerges is the most detailed picture of inequality in Canada to date and disturbingly one that shows signs of us becoming a less just society An invaluable source of information for policy makers researchers and students from a broad variety of disciplines Dimensions of Inequality in Canada will also appeal to readers interested or involved in public debates over inequality The Project Share Collection, 1976 Cumulates abstracts which appeared in Journal of human services abstracts The Project Share Collection, 1976-1979 Project Share, 1979 A History of Human Rights in Canada Janet Miron, 2009 Human rights equality and social justice are at the forefront of public concern and political debate in Canada Global events especially the war on terrorism have fostered further interest in the abuse of human rights especially when sanctioned or perpetuated by democratic governments This groundbreaking contributed volume seeks to shed light on this topic by uniting original essays that examine the history of human rights in Canada Contributors explore a variety of themes integral to the post confederation period including immigration and ethnicity gender sexuality class disability state formation and provincial federal relations Three key issues emerge throughout incidents of discrimination in both government and society the efforts of human rights and civil liberties activists to create a more open and tolerant society and the implementation of state legislation designed to protect or enhance civil rights
