Economic Objects and the Objects of Economics Peter Róna, László Zsolnai, 2018-08-21 This book examines the nature of economic objects that form the subject matter of economics and studies how they resemble or differ from the objects studied by the natural sciences It explores the question of whether economic objects created by modern economics sufficiently represent economic reality and confronts the question whether tools techniques and the methodology borrowed from the natural sciences are appropriate for the analysis of economic reality It demonstrates the unsustainability of rational choice theory It looks at economic agents such as individuals groups legally constituted entities algorithms or robots how they function and how they are represented in economics The volume further examines the extent if any that mathematics can represent the objects of the economy such as supply and demand equilibrium marginal utility or the money supply as they actually occur in the economy and as they are represented in economics Finally the volume explores whether the subject matter of economics however defined is the proper subject of theoretical knowledge whether economics is an analytic or a descriptive discipline or if it is more properly seen in the domain of practical reason Specifically the book looks at the importance and the ambiguity of the ontology of modern economics temporality reflexivity the question of

Methodology and Freedom to Choose (Routledge Revivals) Patrick O'Sullivan, 2012-07-26 First published in 1987

Professor O Sullivan s work provides an in depth philosophical examination of the foundations of method in Economics and other human sciences The argument is unabashedly dialectical in the great Socratic Platonic tradition and the reissue will be very welcome to all students of methodology in particular those students of economic methodology seeking a refreshing alternative to yet more mathematical game playing In an age dominated and perhaps to an extent perplexed by an ultimately non committal postmodernism the book provides a root and branch critique of the epistemological relativism which must lie at the root of the whole post modernist approach and in reasserting the fundamental importance not only for the methods of science but also for European civilisation of the pursuit of truth it takes a stance which is very much against the tide of the times A heterodox perspective is also provided and defended in detail regarding the real nature of economic methodology whereby it is shown that Economics epitomises a teleological mode of explanation which is significantly different from the efficient causal modes of explanation of the natural sciences In fact Economics is the ultimate subjectivist interpretative discipline in the methodological sense of Max Weber and Alfred Schutz a fact which has only been recognised and welcomed in the Austrian school of Economics

Field Hospital William T. Cavanaugh, 2016 Compelling social perspectives from a prominent Catholic scholar Pope Francis in a 2013 interview famously likened the church to a field hospital In this book William Cavanaugh adopts Pope Francis's metaphor to show how the church can help heal both the spiritual and the material wounds of the world As he examines the intersection of theology with themes of religious freedom economic injustice religious violence and other pressing topics Cavanaugh emphasizes that the church cannot condemn the evils of the world from a position of superiority Rather he says its practices of solidarity with humanity must be based on a profound recognition that the church shares in the guilt of human sin Cavanaugh's Field Hospital provides guideposts for a church that is willing to go outside of itself onto today's battlefields both metaphorical and literal not to inflict wounds but to bind them up and heal them

Political Philosophy Mario Bunge, 2017-07-12 Political philosophy is not a well defined field It hovers between political theory and classical philosophy Few early political thinkers could have anticipated the most pressing political issues of our time the need to stop global warming the reduction of nuclear armaments the rise of inequality between individuals and nations and the struggle against authoritarianism particularly when it comes disguised as democracy or as socialism Here celebrated philosopher Mario Bunge masterfully integrates socio political theory into a philosophical exploration of power and resource distribution in the world today Bunge contends that even recent political thinkers have generally failed to address the political underpinnings of topical issues Environmental degradation gender and race discriminations participative democracy nationalism imperialism the North South divide resource wars and the industrial military complex have all largely been bypassed in political thinking Even connections between poverty and environmental degradation and between inequality and bad health have escaped the attention of those who would call themselves political thinkers Bunge believes that political philosophers should pay more attention to social indicators such as the standard index of income inequality and the United Nations human development index It is pointless to write about redistributive policies unless we have a shared understanding of current wealth distribution This is in short a modern treatise on sociopolitical concerns
