Studies in Turkish as a Heritage Language Fatih Bayram, 2020-11-15 Heritage language bilingualism refers to contexts where a minority language spoken at home is one of the first native languages of an individual who grows up and typically becomes dominant in the societal majority language Heritage language bilinguals often wind up with grammatical systems that differ in interesting ways from dominant native speakers growing up where their heritage language is the majority one Understanding the trajectories and outcomes of heritage language bilingual grammatical competence performance language usage patterns identities and more related topics sits at the core of many research programs across a wide array of theoretical paradigms The study of heritage language bilingualism has grown exponentially over the past two decades This expansion in interest has seen in parallel extensions in methodologies applied bridges built between closely related fields such as the study of language contact and linguistic attrition As is typical in linguistics not all languages are studied to the same degree The present volume showcases what Turkish as a heritage language brings to bear for key questions in the study of heritage language bilingualism and beyond In many ways Turkish is an ideal language to be studied because of its large diaspora across the world in particular Europe The papers in this volume are diverse from psycholinguistic to ethnographic to classroom based studies featuring Turkish as a heritage language Together they equal more than their subparts leading to the conclusion that understudied heritage languages like Turkish provide missing pieces to the puzzle of understanding the variables that give rise to the continuum of outcomes characteristic of heritage language speakers

Cultural Studies, 2016-09-12 This volume claims that interdisciplinarity and translation constitute the two main challenges for cultural studies today These conceptual issues inter and trans express themselves within specific historical and cultural contexts Interdisciplinarity is linked with the ongoing process of the institutionalisation of cultural studies in national academies but also increasingly internationally comparatively and to a certain extent even globally of cultural studies of global culture Translation concerns cultural studies both as an object or product and as a subject or producer of translation processes Cultural studies is the result of translation translates and is being translated The essays in this volume therefore relate these various ongoing cultural linguistic and institutional translation processes to political and ethical issues of internationalisation and globalisation The contributions draw their originality and strength from strategically crossing disciplinary and national boundaries They deliberately ignore the question of what may be proper to cultural studies and instead problematise the notions of propriety and belonging As a reading practice cultural studies in these pages is performed through adaptations and combinations of theory and critical practice The volume should be of interest to everyone concerned with cultural studies role in promoting intellectual debate within an increasingly international and globalised public sphere

The Korean War in Turkish Culture and Society Nadav Solomonovich, 2021-10-15 This book explores the important role that the Korean War played in Turkish culture and society in the 1950s Despite the fact that fewer than 15 000 Turkish soldiers served in Korea this study shows that the Turkish public was exposed to the war in an unprecedented manner considering the relatively small size of the country's military contribution It examines how the Turkish people understood the war and its causes how propaganda was used to sell the war to the public and the impact of these messages on the Turkish public Drawing on literary and visual sources including archival documents newspapers protocols of parliamentary sessions books poems plays memoirs cartoons and films the book shows how the propaganda employed by the state and other influential civic groups in Turkey aimed to shape public opinion regarding the Korean War It explores why this mattered to Turkish politicians viewing this as instrumental in achieving the country's admission to NATO and why it mattered to Turkish people more widely seeing instead a war in the name of universal ideas of freedom humanity and justice and comparing the Turkish case to other states that participated in the war
