The Atlantic World of Anthony Benezet (1713-1784) Marie-Jeanne Rossignol, Bertrand Van Ruymbeke, 2016-09-07 In The Atlantic World of Anthony Benezet 1713 1784 From French Reformation to North American Quaker Antislavery Activism Marie Jeanne Rossignol and Bertrand Van Ruymbeke offer the first scholarly study fully examining Anthony Benezet inspirator of 18th century antislavery activism as an Atlantic figure Contributions cover his Huguenot heritage and later influence on the French antislavery movement which had never been explored as thoroughly before as well as his Quaker faith and connections with the Quaker community in the British Atlantic world in the North American colonies as well as in Britain Beyond the Quaker community his preoccupation with Africa is highlighted and further research is also encouraged reconciling Benezet studies with those on black rebels and founders in the Atlantic world Human Nature, Cultural Diversity, and the French Enlightenment Henry Vyverberg, 1989-08-17 In this work Henry Vyverberg traces the evolution and consequences of a crucial idea in French Enlightenment thought the idea of human nature Human nature was commonly seen as a broadly universal unchanging entity though perhaps modifiable by geographical social and historical factors Enlightenment empiricism suggested a degree of cultural diversity that has often been underestimated in studies of the age Evidence here is drawn from Diderot s celebrated Encyclopedia and from a vast range of writing by such Enlightenment notables as Voltaire Rousseau and d Holbach Vyverberg explains not only the age s undoubted fascination with uniformity in human nature but also its acknowledgment of significant limitations on that uniformity He shows that although the Enlightenment s historical sense was often blinkered by its notions of a uniform human nature there were also cracks in this concept that developed during the Enlightenment itself The Emergence of Literary Criticism in 18th-Century Britain Sebastian Domsch, 2014-08-19 This study tries through a systematic and historical analysis of the concept of critical authority to write a history of literary criticism from the end of the 17th to the end of the 18th century that not only takes the discursive construction of its self representation into account but also the social and economic conditions of its practice It tries to consider the whole of the critical discourse on literature and criticism in the time period covered Thus it is distinctive through its methodology there is no systematic account of the historical development of critical authority and no discussion of the institutionalization of criticism of such a scope its material of analysis most of the many hundred texts self reflexively commenting on criticism that are discussed here have been so far virtually ignored and through its results a complex history of criticism in the 18th century that is neither reductive nor the accumulation of isolated aspects or author figures but that probes into the very nature of the activity of criticism The aim of this study is both to provide a thorough historical understanding of the emergence of criticism and as a consequence an understanding of the inner workings and power relations that structure criticism to this day The Measure of Merit John Carson, 2007 Publisher description English Literature, 1660-1800 Curt Arno Zimansky, 2015-03-08 The Philological Quarterly s annual bibliographies of modern studies
