Roman Honor Carlin A. Barton, 2023-11-08 This book is an attempt to coax Roman history closer to the bone to the breath and matter of the living being Drawing from a remarkable array of ancient and modern sources Carlin Barton offers the most complex understanding to date of the emotional and spiritual life of the ancient Romans Her provocative and original inquiry focuses on the sentiments of honor that shaped the Romans sense of themselves and their society Speaking directly to the concerns and curiosities of the contemporary reader Barton brings Roman society to life elucidating the complex relation between the inner life of its citizens and its social fabric Though thoroughly grounded in the ancient writings especially the work of Seneca Cicero and Livy this book also draws from contemporary theories of the self and social theory to deepen our understanding of ancient Rome Barton explores the relation between inner desires and social behavior through an evocative analysis of the operation in Roman society of contests and ordeals acts of supplication and confession and the sense of shame As she fleshes out Roman physical and psychological life she particularly sheds new light on the consequential transition from republic to empire as a watershed of Roman social relations Barton s ability to build productively on both old and new scholarship on Roman history society and culture and her imaginative use of a wide range of work in such fields as anthropology sociology psychology modern history and popular culture will make this book appealing for readers interested in many subjects This beautifully written work not only generates insight into Roman history but also uses that insight to bring us to a new understanding of ourselves our modern codes of honor and why it is that we think and act the way we do Cicero's De Provinciis Consularibus Oratio Luca Grillo, 2015-02-17 Perhaps no other single Roman speech exemplifies the connection between oratory politics and imperialism better than Cicero's De Provinciis Consularibus pronounced to the senate in 56 BC Cicero puts his talents at the service of the powerful triumviri Caesar Crassus and Pompey whose aims he advances by appealing to the senators imperialistic and chauvinistic ideology This oration then yields precious insights into several areas of late republican life international relations between Rome and the provinces Gaul Macedonia and Judaea the senators view on governors publicani tax farmers and foreigners the dirty mechanics of high politics in the 50s driven by lust for domination and money and Cicero's own role in that political choreography This speech also exemplifies the exceptional range of Cicero's oratory the invective against Piso and Gabinius calls for biting irony the praise of Caesar displays high rhetoric the rejection of other senators recommendations is a tour de force of logical and sophisticated argument and Cicero's justification for his own conduct is embedded in the self fashioning narrative which is typical of his post reditum speeches This new commentary includes an updated introduction which provides the readers with a historical rhetorical and stylistic background to appreciate the complexities of Cicero's oration as well as indexes and maps
