Studies on the Internal Diaspora of the Byzantine Empire Hélène Ahrweiler, Angeliki E. Laiou, 1998 The successful coexistence of different ethnic linguistic and religious groups within the same political boundaries depends in part on the resolution of the tension between uniformity and separateness This volume reviews sources of tension and their resolution in a number of cases that may be considered paradigmatic and which include nomads and Muslims the Serbs the Armenians and the population of Byzantine Italy The mechanisms of integration or acculturation and their various degrees of success are investigated as are the responses of different groups in an effort to present some of the complexities of this society rich in its diversity and impressive in its unicity

Parani, Christopher David Schabel, 2008-01-01 In the politically and militarily complex world of the medieval Eastern Mediterranean people and entities of different ethnic religious and linguistic backgrounds came into close contact at many different levels from everyday dealings in the marketplace to high diplomacy between competing states thus providing scope for fertile cross cultural interaction and permeation This collective volume examines aspects of intercultural communication as reflected in Byzantine Latin and Arabic documentary sources originating from or relating to the Eastern Mediterranean and ranging from the eleventh to the fifteenth centuries Twenty essays examine a variety of archival sources for the Latin East explore chancery traditions in the culturally diverse society of Frankish Cyprus and trace modes of communication and exchange between Byzantium Islam and the West Contributors are Jean Richard David Jacoby Benjamin Z Kedar Michel Balard Peter Schreiner Michel Balivet Catherine Otten Froux Svetlana V Bliznyuk Brenda Bolton Karl Borchardt Nicholas Coureas William O Duba Charalambos Gasparis Hubert Houben Angel Nicolaou Konnari Johannes Pahlitzsch and Kostis Smyrlis

Armenia and Byzantium without Borders, 2023-08-14 Byzantium is more and more recognized as a vibrant culture in dialogue with neighbouring regions political entities and peoples Where better to look for this kind of dynamism than in the interactions between the Byzantines and the Armenians Warfare and diplomacy are only one part of that story The more enduring part consists of contact and mutual influence brokered by individuals who were conversant in both cultures and languages The articles in this volume feature fresh work by younger and established scholars that illustrate the varieties of interaction in the fields of literature material culture and religion Contributors are Gert Boersema Emilio Bonfiglio Bernard Coulie Karen Hamada Robin Meyer Johannes Preiser Kapeller Claudia Rapp Mark Roosen Werner Seibt Emmanuel Van Elverdinghe Theo Maarten van Lint Alexandra Kyriaki Wassiliou Seibt and David Zakarian Christian-Muslim Relations. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism Homo Migrans Megan J. Daniels, 2022-04-01 One of the most significant challenges in archaeology is understanding how and why humans migrate Homo Migrans examines the past present and future states of migration and mobility studies in archaeological discourse Contributors draw on revolutionary twenty first century advances in genetics isotope studies and data manipulation that have resolved longstanding debates about past human movement and have helped clarify the relationships between archaeological remains and human behavior and identity These emerging techniques have also pressed archaeologists and historians to develop models that responsibly incorporate method theory and data in ways that honor the complexity of human behavior and relationships This volume articulates the challenges that lie ahead as scholars draw from genomic studies computational science social theory cognitive and evolutionary studies environmental history and network analysis to clarify the nature of human migration in world history With case studies focusing on European and Mediterranean history and prehistory as well as global history Homo Migrans presents integrated methodologies and analyses that will interest any scholar researching migration and mobility in the human past
