Studies Voltaire 18th Century Volume 285:

Sensibility in the Early Modern Era Anik Waldow, 2018-02-02 Sensibility in the Early Modern Era investigates how the early modern characterisation of sensibility as a natural property of the body could give way to complex considerations about the importance of affect in morality What underlies this understanding of sensibility is the attempt to fuse Lockean sensationism with Scottish sentimentalism being able to have experiences of objects in the world is here seen as being grounded in the same principle that also enables us to feel moral sentiments Moral and epistemic ways of relating to the world thus blend into one another as both can be traced to the same capacity that enables us to affectively respond to stimuli that impinge on our perceptual apparatus This collection focuses on these connections by offering reflections on the role of sensibility in the early modern attempt to think of the human being as a special kind of sensitive machine and affectively responsive animal Humans as they are understood in this context relate to themselves by sensing themselves and perpetually refining their intellectual and moral capacities in response to the way the world affects them Responding to the world here refers to the manner in which both natural and man made influences impact on our ability to conceptualise the animate and inanimate world and our place within that world This book was originally published as a special issue of the Intellectual History Review

The Other Enlightenment Carla Hesse, 2018-06-05 The French Revolution created a new cultural world that freed women from the constraints of corporate privilege aristocratic salons and patriarchal censorship even though it failed to grant them legal equality Women burst into print in unprecedented numbers and became active participants in the great political ethical and aesthetic debates that gave birth to our understanding of the individual as a self creating self determining agent Carla Hesse tells this story delivering a capacious history of how French women have used writing to create themselves as modern individuals Beginning with the marketplace fishwives and salon hostesses whose eloquence shaped French culture low and high and leading us through the accomplishments of Simone de Beauvoir Hesse shows what it meant to make an independent intellectual life as a woman in France She offers exquisitely constructed portraits of the work and mental lives of many fascinating women including both well known novelists and now obscure pamphleteers who put pen to paper during and after the Revolution We learn how they negotiated control over their work and authorial identity whether choosing pseudonyms like Georges Sand or forsaking profits to sign their own names We encounter the extraordinary Louise de Kralio Robert a critically admired historian who re created herself as a revolutionary novelist We meet aristocratic women whose literary criticism subjected them to slander as well as writers whose rhetoric cost them not only reputation but marriage citizenship and even their heads Crucially their stories reveal how the unequal terms on which women entered the modern era shaped how they wrote and thought Though women writers and thinkers championed the full range of political and social positions from royalist to Jacobin from ultraconservative to fully feminist they shared common moral perspectives and representational strategies Unlike the Enlightenment of their male peers theirs was more skeptical than idealist more situationalist than universalist And this alternative project lies at the very heart of modern French letters Ideology and Social Science B. W. Head,2012-12-06 This book attempts to present a detailed and critical account of the thought of Antoine Louis Claude Destutt de Tracy 1754 1836 Major importance has been placed on the analysis of his published writings Biographical details have been provided only to the extent necessary to elucidate the circumstances of the composition and publication of his writings in particular the intellectual and political currents in France during the Revolutionary and Napoleonic periods The book has three main themes The first is Tracy's philosophy of ideology which was concerned to clarify concepts and provide guarantees of reliable knowledge The second is Tracy's attempt to elaborate a science of social organisation la science sociale whose objective was to recommend institutions and policies which could maximise social happiness The third theme is Tracy's development of liberal and utilitarian approaches to the fields of politics economics and education This study began life as a doctoral dissertation at the London School of Economics and Political Science I am grateful for the guidance of my supervisor Professor Ken Minogue and for helpful comments from Professor Maurice Cranston Professor Jack Lively and Dr John Hooper Politics and Philosophy in the Thought of Destutt de Tracy Brian W. Head,2019-11-21 First published in 1987 This study describes and analyses the published writings of the French philosopher Antoine Destutt de Tracy The author focuses on the three decades from the calling of the Etats généraux to the early years of the Restoration the period of Tracy's entire literary production and the period of his greatest influence and reputation This title will be of great interest to students of history philosophy and politics History of Linguistics, Vol. 2 Hans Aarsleff,Robert Austerlitz,Dell Hymes,Edward Stankiewicz,2021-03-22 No detailed description available for History of Linguistics Vol 2 Pacific Histories David Armitage,Alison Bashford,2014-01-23 The first comprehensive account to place the Pacific Islands the Pacific Rim and the Pacific Ocean into the perspective of world history A distinguished international team of historians provides a multidimensional account of the Pacific its inhabitants and the lands within and around it over 50 000 years with special attention to the peoples of Oceania It providing chronological coverage along with analyses of themes such as the environment migration and the economy religion law and science race gender and politics Biology and Ideology from Descartes to Dawkins Denis R. Alexander,Ronald L. Numbers,2010-05-15 Over the course of human history the sciences and biology in particular have often been manipulated to cause immense human suffering For example biology has been used to justify eugenic programs forced sterilization human experimentation and death camps all in an attempt to support notions of racial superiority By investigating the past the contributors to Biology and Ideology from Descartes to Dawkins hope to better prepare us to discern ideological abuse of science when it occurs in the future Denis R. Alexander and Ronald L. Numbers bring together fourteen experts to examine the varied ways science has been used and abused for nonscientific purposes from the fifteenth century to the present day Featuring an essay on eugenics from Edward J. Larson and an examination of the progress of evolution by Michael J. Ruse Biology and Ideology examines uses both benign and sinister ultimately reminding us that ideological extrapolation continues today An accessible survey this collection will enlighten historians of science their students practicing scientists and anyone interested in the relationship between science and culture

The English Novel, 1700-1740 Robert Letellier, 2003-02-28 The English novel written between 1700 and 1740 remains a comparatively neglected area In addition to Daniel Defoe whose Robinson Crusoe and Moll Flanders are landmarks in the history of English fiction many other authors were at work These included such women as Penelope Aubin Jane Barker Mary Davys and Eliza Haywood who made a considerable contribution to widening the range of emotional responses in fiction These authors and many others continued writing in the genres inherited from the previous century such as criminal biographies the Utopian novel the science fictional voyage and the epistolary novel This annotated bibliography includes entries for these works and for critical materials pertinent to them The volume first seeks to establish the existing studies of the era along with anthologies It then provides entries for a wide ranging selection of works which cover fictional theoretical historical political and cultural topics to provide a comprehensive background to the unfolding and understanding of prose fiction in the early 18th century This is followed by an alphabetical listing of novels their editions and any critical material available on each The next section provides a chronological record of significant and enduring works of fiction composed or translated in this period The volume concludes with extensive indexes

Florence After the Medici Corey Tazzara, Paula Findlen, Jacob Soll, 2019-10-08 Although there is a rich historiography on Enlightenment Tuscany in Italian as well as French and German the principle Anglophone works are Eric Cochrane s Tradition and Enlightenment in the Tuscan Academies 1961 and his Enlightenment Florence in the Forgotten Centuries 1973 It is high time to revisit the Tuscan Enlightenment This volume brings together an international group of scholars with the goal of putting to rest the idea that Florence ceased to be interesting after the Renaissance Indeed it is partly the explicit dialogue between Renaissance and Enlightenment that makes eighteenth century Tuscany so interesting This enlightened age looked to the past It began the Herculean project of collecting editing and publishing many of the manuscripts that today form the bedrock of any serious study of Dante Petrarch Boccaccio Machiavelli Vasari Galileo and other Tuscan writers This was an age of public libraries projects of cultural restoration and the emergence of the Uffizi as a public art gallery complemented by a science museum in Peter Leopold s reign whose relics can still be visited in the Museo Galileo and La Specola

Extravagant Narratives Elizabeth Jane MacArthur, 2014-07-14 Challenging the view of epistolary narrative as a faulty precursor to the nineteenth century realist novel Elizabeth MacArthur argues that the openness and flexibility that characterize correspondences both real and fictional reflect the preoccupations of the late seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Her readings of the Lettres portugaises Mme du Deffand s correspondence with Horace Walpole and Rousseau s La Nouvelle Hloise propose an alternative to closure oriented theories of narrative as they uncover an interplay between two forces a tendency towards closure and meaning metaphor and a tendency towards openness and desire metonymy While such an interplay structures all narrative the epistolary form differs from the third or first person in the extent to which metonymy predominates The author shows how critics and editors of correspondences have attempted to control their metonymy channeling epistolary energy into univocal meaning By juxtaposing real and fictional epistolary works MacArthur reveals the similarities between the two particularly their extravagance ambiguity openness and forward moving energy Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
