Study Of The Evolution Of The Malay Lan:

A Study of the Evolution of the Malay Language Seong Chee Tham,1990 A Study of the Evolution of the Malay Language Seong Chee Tham,1990 This book should be of immense interest to students of language in general Whether they are studying the Malay language in change or researching on the relationship between language and cognition or indeed delving into aspects of historical and anthropological linguistics this book promises to offer many valuable insights Throughout the book there is an attempt to relate linguistic theory to the pragmatics of language development Routledge Handbook of Islam in Southeast Asia Syed Muhammad Khairudin Aljunied,2022-03-03 This handbook explores the ways in which Islam as one of the fastest growing religions has become a global faith for both Muslims and non Muslims in Southeast Asia with its universality inclusivity and shared features with other Islamic expressions and manifestations It offers an up to date wide ranging comprehensive concise and readable introduction to the field of Islam in Southeast Asia With specific themes of pertinent contemporary relevance the contributions by experts in the field provide fresh insights into the roles of states societies scholars social movements political parties economic institutions sacred sites and other forces that structured the faith over many centuries The handbook is structured in three parts Muslim Global Circulations Marginal Narratives Refashioning Pieties This handbook stands out as a single and synergistic reference work that explores the ebb and flow of Islam seeking to decenter many existing assumptions about it in Southeast Asia It will be an indispensable resource for scholars students and policymakers working on Islam Muslims and their interactions with other communities in a plural setting Studies in Slavic and General Linguistics. Volume 1 ,2023-12-04 Studies in Slavic and General Linguistics is mainly devoted to the field of descriptive linguistics Although the series is primarily intended to be a means of publication for linguists from the Low Countries the editors are pleased to accept contributions by linguists from abroad The Evolution of English Language Learners in Japan Yoko Kobayashi,2018-01-19 This book seeks a better understanding of the sociocultural and ideological factors that influence English study in Japan and study abroad contexts such as university bound high schools female dominant English classes at college ESL schools in Canada and private or university affiliated ESL programs in Singapore and Malaysia The discussion is based not only on data garnered from Japanese EFL learners and Japanese overseas educators but also on official English language policies and commercial magazine discourses about English study for Japanese people The book addresses seemingly incompatible themes that are either entrenched in or beyond Japan s EFL context such as Japan s decades long poorly performing English education vs its equally long lived status as an economic power Japanese English learners preference for native English speakers norms in at home Japanese EFL contexts vs their friendship with other Asian students in western study abroad contexts Japanese female students dream of using English to further their careers vs Japanese working women s English study for self enrichment Japanese society s obsession with globalization through English study vs the Japanese economy sustained by monolingual Japanese businessmen

Brunei - History, Islam, Society and Contemporary Issues Ooi Keat Gin, 2015-12-14 Brunei although a relatively small state is disproportionately important on account of its rich resource base. In addition in recent years the country has endeavoured to play a greater role in regional affairs especially through ASEAN holding the chair of the organisation in 2013 and also beyond the region fostering diplomatic political economic and educational ties with many nations. This book presents much new research and new thinking on a wide range of issues concerning Brunei largely drawn from Bruneian academics. Subjects covered include Brunei's rich history the sultanate formerly had much more extensive territories and was a key player in regional affairs the country's economy politics society and ethnicities and resource issues and international relations

Singapore Studies Beng Huat Chua, Basant Kapur, 1986 This edition brings up to date a decade of research work developments of the Faculty of Arts and Social Science National University of Singapore since the first volume was published in 1985. The state of the respective disciplines covered are reviewed in terms of notable theoretical and conceptual developments major benchmarks during the past decade and research lacunae that need to be addressed as well as their substantive developments and contributions in the Singapore context and possible future directions resulting in a collection of essays that places the Faculty's studies in an international comparative framework

Muslim Merit-making in Thailand's Far-South Christopher M. Joll, 2011-11-02 This volume provides an ethnographic description of Muslim merit making rhetoric rituals and rationales in Thailand's Malay far south. This study is situated in Cabetigo one of Pattani's oldest and most important Malay communities that has been subjected to a range of Thai and Islamic influences over the last hundred years. The volume describes religious rhetoric related to merit making being conducted in both Thai and Malay that the spiritual currency of merit is generated through the performance of locally occurring Malay adat and globally normative amal ibadat. Concerning the rationale for merit making merit makers are motivated by both a desire to ensure their own comfort in the grave and personal vindication at judgment as well as to transfer merit for those already in the grave who are known to the merit maker. While the rhetoric elements of Muslim merit making reveal Thai influence its ritual elements confirm the local impact of reformist activism

Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, Noor Hasharina Hassan, 2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date. Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies. Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council's international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012. The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region
